N^o 1. { THIS head of Expenditure has been reduced 400*l.* the Governors having made an advantageous Contract for Beef, for the Year 1823, the Estimate under this head in the last year having been 5,400*l.*

2. { This head of Expenditure has been reduced 100*l.*; the Estimate under this head in the last year, having been 2,500*l.*

3. { This head of Expenditure has been reduced 200*l.* a saving having accrued on Coals, Candles, and Soap; the Estimate under this head, in the last year, having been 2,200*l.*

4. These several heads of Expenditure remain the same as last year.

5. { The want of demand for Apprentices, and of any other mode of providing for the grown Children (particularly the Females) induced the Governors in the year 1819, to propose to pay to Persons taking out Apprentices the sum of 7*l.* for each child, at stipulated periods; and the amount now estimated for, will be payable during the year 1823.

6. This head of Expenditure remains the same as last year.

7. { This amount granted pursuant to the approbation of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, and the 7th section of the Foundling Hospital Act of Parliament.

8. { The Governors have caused the wages to Nurses for Children in the country, to be reduced for the first year, from 6*l.* to 5*l.*; and the second year, from 4*l.* to 3*l.* per annum; as the difficulty formerly experienced of procuring Nurses in the country has been obviated; and which reduction causes a decrease of 7,000*l.*; the Estimate under this head in the last year having been 28,550*l.*

9. { The Grants made by Parliament in the Sessions of 1821 and 1822, were considerably below the Estimates submitted by the Governors, to His Majesty's Government in Ireland; and from the healthy state of the Children sent to be nursed in the country, there was during those years, a great increase in the payments made to the country nurses. This defalcation in the Grants, and increase of Expense, has occasioned the Debt introduced into the Estimate for the ensuing year.

Given under our Corporation Seal, at the Foundling Hospital, Dublin,
12th December 1822. }

H. Guinness,
Chairman.

Copies of Two CIRCULAR LETTERS, addressed to Colonels or Commanding Officers of the Militia of Ireland, signed E. B. Baker; dated, the one, Dublin Castle, 24th February 1817, and the other, Dublin Castle, 17th June 1817.

(Circular.)

Dublin Castle, 24th February 1817.

MY LORD,

I HAVE it in command from The Lord Lieutenant to acquaint your Lordship, that upon a principle of assimilation, as well as of contributing as far as practicable to public economy, it is intended that a Bill shall be submitted to Parliament, for limiting the number of Non-commissioned Officers, Drummers and Fifers, to be retained by the several Regiments of Irish Militia, to those prescribed for the British Corps, under the provisions of the 83d section of the Act of the 42d of the King, c. 90.

The Corps will, under this measure, be entitled, when not on actual service, to two Staff Serjeants, two Fifers, and one Drum Major, as at present; and one Serjeant and one Corporal for every thirty Privates. Also one Drummer for every Company, with an addition of one Drummer for each Flank Company; and when it shall be drawn out into actual service, an addition will be made, of one Serjeant and one Corporal, for every twenty Private men; and one Drummer for every Battalion Company so drawn out.

In these cases, where a surplus of fifteen Private men or upwards, shall arise, after the appointment of one Serjeant and one Corporal, to every thirty Private men, the Corps will be entitled to one additional Corporal, when not on actual service, for such surplus.

Upon the foregoing principle therefore, the number of Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers of your Lordship's regiment, in its disembodied state, will comprize the detail mentioned in the margin.

You will be pleased to acknowledge the receipt of this communication.

I have, &c.

2 Fifers.

(Circular and Private.)

Dublin Castle, 17th June 1817.

MY LORD,

REFERRING to the communication which I had the honour to address to your Lordship, on the 24th February last, relative to the arrangement then in contemplation, for limiting the number of Non-commissioned Officers, Drummers and Fifers of the Irish Militia, to those prescribed for the British Corps, under the provisions of the 88th section of the 42d of the King, c. 90;—I have it in command from the Lord Lieutenant, to acquaint you, that it is not at present intended to bring such reduction into immediate operation, at least to its full extent.

With the view, however, of adhering to the principle on which the measure was originally proposed, and of contributing to public economy, it has been decided, that such vacancies as now exist, or those which may hereafter arise, either by death, discharge or other casualty, amongst the Non-commissioned Officers, &c. of the Militia of this country, which shall exceed the reduced establishment, as detailed in my letter of the before-mentioned date, are not to be filled up, but to become a saving, and according to this rule, the several Corps will it is expected, be progressively decreased, as far as the proportion of the corresponding ranks in the British battalions.

The casualties are of course to be duly noted in the Pay Lists of the Disembodied Staff, for the information and guidance of the Commissioners of Military Accounts; and your Lordship will therefore be pleased to conform to this arrangement, as far as it shall be applicable to the Antrim Militia.

It will be satisfactory that the receipt of this letter should be early acknowledged.

I have, &c.

Colonel the Earl O'Neil,

Antrim Militia.

Copy of a CIRCULAR LETTER addressed to Colonels or Commanding Officers of the Militia of Ireland; dated Dublin Castle, November 25th, 1822, and signed Henry Goulburn.

(Circular.) Dublin Castle, 25th November 1822.

IT having been deemed expedient under present circumstances, that the number of Serjeants, Corporals and Drummers of the Militia of Ireland shall be diminished, so as to bring them as far as practicable within the scale prescribed for the British Corps;—I have it in command from the Lord Lieutenant, to signify his Excellency's desire that you will be pleased to adopt the necessary measures for discharging, on or before the 24th of next month, the Supernumerary Serjeants, Corporals and Drummers of the Regiment under your command, which consist, as stated in the latest returns received from the Commissioners of Military Accounts, of the numbers specified in the margin.

The men to be discharged will be allowed to take with them their clothing now in wear, together with their great coats and knapsacks:—They are likewise to receive their pay to the 24th of December next, and also, a further allowance equal to fourteen days pay to carry them home.

The accounts of the men are to be made up, and all their just pretensions completely satisfied to the time of their being dismissed.

The Paymaster is to send to the Commissioners of Military Accounts an Estimate (with a duplicate thereof for the use of the Agent) of the sums that will be required on the present occasion; and the special attention of the Agent is to be directed to the remittance in due time of the amount.

Under the foregoing arrangement, it will be unnecessary to provide clothing for the Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers, supernumerary to the ordinary establishment fixed for the Disembodied Militia by the Act 57 Geo. 3, c. 104.

You will also be pleased to acknowledge the receipt of this communication.

I have the honour to be,

Your most obedient humble servant,

(signed) Henry Goulburn.

— 3. —

Copies of REMONSTRANCES addressed to the Right Honourable Henry Goulburn, by certain Commanding Officers of the Militia of Ireland, with the Names subscribed, in consequence of the Circular Letter of the 25th November 1822.

WE, the undersigned Colonels of Militia, having received, at the quarters of the staff of our respective regiments, a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 25th November 1822, and signed Henry Goulburn, in which the Lords Lieutenant's desire is expressed, expressed, that we respectively should adopt the necessary measures for discharging, on or before the 24th of December next, Serjeants, Corporals, and Drummers, beyond the scale prescribed for the British Corps;—beg leave through you, Sir, humbly to submit to the Lord Lieutenant, the view taken by us of so unexpected a communication, and requiring so precipitate a compliance.

Were that reduction to be insisted upon, we conceive, that the faith on which these men entered the Militia service would be broken, inasmuch as that at the time of their enlisting, they had an ultimate reward for their services held out and guaranteed upon the faith of the Legislature of the country, viz. that of their conduct advancing them to the staff, where, during peace they were to be permanent upon the different portions of pay assigned to each station, by that very law.

That those who are now to be affected by discharge, should such a measure be persevered in, have had that faith confirmed to them by the uninterrupted enjoyment of more than five years disembodied service, following the abandonment of an announcement made by a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 24th February 1817, and signed E. B. Baker, that a Bill should be submitted to Parliament, for limiting the number of Non-commissioned Officers, Drummers and Fifers, retained by the several regiments of Irish Militia, to those prescribed for the British Corps, under the provisions of the Act of the 42d of the King.

That we have viewed the policy of the law upon this head, as being not only to stimulate the Militia-man, when embodied, to fidelity of conduct, by the reward of subsequent permanency of provision (rendered yet more ample by the policy of Government, in gratuitously extending allowance of lodging and fuel;) but also to the important consideration of future efficiency, by the inducement so held out, of obtaining, on any emergency, an instant influx of recruits to the Militia ranks; and of the means, through such a staff, of imparting military instruction, and rendering the recruit serviceable to the State, from the moment of joining his regiment.

That we refer for the proof of this, to the efficient state in which the Militia of Ireland stood, immediately on its being embodied, on the rupture of the Peace of Amiens, and in 1815.

That all such effects must not only be defeated, in future, by such a measure as that now proposed, but the very name of Militia branded, amongst those orders which are to complete its ranks, with the hatred arising from their sense of injustice, disappointment, and breach of faith.

That the precipitancy and peremptoriness of communication, thus made to us, does not appear calculated to diminish the ill effects which may result from the perseverance in it. On the contrary, ignorant ourselves of such intentions on the part of his Excellency's government, the surprise is not greater to us, in our official situations, than fatal to the interests and well-being of men who have distinguished themselves as faithful and attached subjects; and are thus suddenly, in a very great proportion, to be set adrift upon the world, alienated from the habits and friendships of their early life, incapable, perhaps, of trade, and competent alone to teach the use of arms.

That, with every submission to those authorities most competent to legal advice, doubts may not be unjustly entertained as to the validity of any compulsion to such reduction, and for these reasons:

The Act of 49 Geo. 3, repealing or consolidating all previous Militia laws, having enacted the officers and numbers of companies to the different degrees of corps, proceeds to detail the establishment of each company, in the 6th section, viz. That the ordinary establishment of each company shall be, sixty-five Privates, four Serjeants, five Corporals, two Drummers, &c. while the 27th section says, that every Adjutant, Paymaster, Surgeon, Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, Drum-Major, and Drummer of the said Militia, shall be at all times subject to any Act which shall be in force for punishing mutiny and desertion, &c. thus distinctly establishing the Non-commissioned Officers named, as the permanent staff of the regiment, when disembodied. And be it observed, that the Quartermaster is not included, because it was, by a subsequent Act, so far to be assimilated to British practice, that he was made permanent. By section 28, the rates of pay to those classes, when not embodied, is declared, for every such Adjutant, &c. and for every Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, and Drummer respectively; and further states the reduction of pay when on furlough, without reference to any establishment but that which section 6 declares shall be the ordinary establishment.

That

That the law in sect. 38 contemplates the force necessary to be maintained present where the regimental stores shall be kept, and directs that one-third at least of the Serjeants, &c. shall be constantly resident there; still further corroborating the establishment, and the principle of reward and stimulus, by the indulgencies to be given in peace; while the letter of 24th February 1817, admits the necessity of appeal to the Legislature before the reduction can take place, and the Act of the 57 Geo. 3, c. 104, confirms it.

That with these facts before us, placed as we have been, the guardians of our respective Regiments, and in several instances the cause of those very men, whose interests in life are thus vitally threatened by the letter against which we now venture to offer our remonstrances, having been exposed by their change of life; to such we cannot, in justice to ourselves, or to the service in which we have been placed, do less than respectfully state our firm conviction of the harshness, injustice, and at least doubtful legality, of persevering in such a proceeding as that intimated; and while humbly submitting our strongest remonstrances against it, to express our confident hopes, that these our sentiments being known to the Lord Lieutenant, the staff of our respective Regiments may be left undisturbed.

WE, the undersigned Colonels of Militia, having received at the quarters of the staff of our respective regiments, a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 25th November 1822, and signed Henry Goulburn, in which the Lord Lieutenant's desire is expressed, that we respectively should adopt the necessary measures for discharging, on or before the 24th December next, Serjeants, Corporals, and Drummers, beyond the scale prescribed for the British Corps;—beg leave, through you, Sir, humbly to submit to the Lord Lieutenant, the view taken by us of so unexpected a communication, and requiring so precipitate a compliance.

and signed Edw. B. Baker, "that a Bill should be submitted to Parliament, for " limiting the number of Non-commissioned Officers, Drummers and Fifers, retained
 " by the several Regiments of Irish Militia, to those prescribed for the British " Corps, under the provisions of the Act of the 42d of the King."

That we have viewed the policy of the law upon this head, as being not only to stimulate the Militia-man when embodied, to fidelity of conduct, by the reward of subsequent permanency of provision (rendered even more ample by the policy of Government in gratuitously extending allowances of lodging and fuel;) but also to the important consideration of future efficiency, by the inducement so held out, of obtaining on any emergency, an instant influx of Recruits to the Militia ranks; and of the means through such a staff, of imparting Military instruction, and rendering the Recruit serviceable to the State, from the moment of his joining his regiment.

That we refer, for the proof of this, to the efficient state in which the Militia of Ireland stood, immediately on its being embodied, on the Peace of Amiens, and in 1815.

That with every submission to those authorities most competent to legal advice, doubts may not unjustly be entertained as to the validity of any compulsion to such reduction; and for these reasons:—

The Act of the 49th of George 3d, repealing or consolidating all previous Militia laws, having enacted the officers and number of companies to the different degrees of corps, proceeds to detail the establishment of each company, in the 6th section; viz. That the ordinary establishment of each company shall be sixty-five Privates, four Serjeants, five Corporals, two Drummers, &c. while sect. 27, says, that every Adjutant, Paymaster, Surgeon, Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, Drum-Major, Drummer, of the said Militia, shall be at all times subject to any Act which shall be in force for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, &c. thus distinctly establishing the Non-commissioned Officers named as the permanent staff of the regiment when disembodied: and be it observed, that the Quartermaster is not included, because it was, by a subsequent Act, so far to assimilate to British practice, that he was made permanent.

By sec. 28, the rates of pay to these classes when not embodied, is declared, for every such Adjutant, &c. &c. and for every Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, and Drummer respectively; and further states the reduction of pay when on furlough, without reference to any establishment but that which sec. 6th declares shall be the ordinary establishment. That the law, in sec. 38, contemplates the force necessary to be maintained present where the regimental stores shall be kept; and directs that one third at least of the Serjeants, &c. shall be constantly resident there, still further corroborating the establishment, and the principle of reward and stimulus, by the indulgencies to be given in peace; while the letter of the 24th February 1817, admits the necessity of appeal to the Legislature, before reduction can take place, and the Act of the 57th of George 3, ch. 104, confirms it.

That with these facts before us, placed as we have been, the guardians of our respective regiments, and in several instances the cause of those very men, whose interests in life are so vitally threatened by the letter against which we now venture to offer our remonstrance, having been exposed by their change of life; to such, we cannot, in justice to ourselves, or to the service in which we have been placed, do less than respectfully state our firm conviction of the harshness, injustice, and at least doubtful legality of persevering in such a proceeding as that intimated; and while humbly submitting our strongest remonstrances against it, to express our confident hopes, that these our sentiments being known to the Lord Lieutenant, the Staff of our respective Regiments may be left undisturbed.

(Copy.)

WE, the undersigned Colonels of the Irish Militia, having received at the quarters of the staff of our respective regiments, a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 25th November 1822, signed Henry Goulburn, in which the Lord Lieutenant's desire is expressed, that we should respectively adopt the necessary measures for discharging, on or before the 24th of December next, Serjeants, Corporals and Drummers beyond the scale prescribed for the British Corps;—beg leave through you, Sir, humbly to submit to the Lord Lieutenant, the view taken by us of so unexpected a communication, and requiring so precipitate a compliance.

We beg leave with all deference, to call the attention of his Excellency to the general Act of the 49 Geo. 3, c. 120, for amending and reducing into one Act the Militia Laws for Ireland; whereby in sec. 6, the ordinary establishment of Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers, for the respective companies of which the several regiments may be composed, is fixed at four Serjeants, five Corporals, and two Drummers to each company; together with a Serjeant-Major, a Quartermaster-Serjeant, Drum-Major, and two Fifers over and above.

Upon the faith of that establishment so fixed, by an Act of the Legislature, the prescribed number of Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers were retained at the disembodiment of the Militia in the year 1816.

We have here to call to his Excellency's consideration, that this same measure of reduction was in contemplation shortly after the disembodiment in 1816, and was remonstrated against by the Colonels, on behalf of their regiments. The Act of the 57 Geo. 3, c. 104, was then brought forward, it is presumed, because it was considered necessary, for the gradual reduction of the Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers; which Act restricts the Colonels of Irish Militia from filling up any vacancies that might occur by death, dismissal or removal, until the number of Serjeants, Corporals and Drummers, shall be reduced below the numbers therein prescribed; and that from and after that reduction by death, &c. the ordinary establishment of the Serjeants, Corporals and Drummers of every Regiment, while the same shall be disembodied, &c. shall consist of the numbers therein stated.

Thus, by the necessity of passing this Act of the 57th, so restricting the Colonels as aforesaid, recognizing the right and the power of the Colonels to maintain and keep up to its strength, the establishment as provided by the 6th sec. of the 49th, and thereby admitting the provisions of that Act to be inviolable, without a further Act of Parliament to alter and amend the same; and by this second Act further confirming the primary establishment, (except as reduced as aforesaid) until by such casualties, and by no other means, it is reduced to one Serjeant and one Corporal to every thirty-five men, and so forth;—

It is presumed that the word removal, the only word in the Act of the 57th, which could admit of doubt, is applicable alone to the power vested in the Colonels of regiments, by the 24th sec. of the 49th, to discharge Non-commissioned Officers and Drummers; and does not convey any discretionary power to the Government to alter, or depart from the provisions of that Act, without a new enactment.

Under this view of the subject we presume to hope, that his Excellency will be pleased to suspend the order and instructions conveyed by the Circular Letter of the 25th of last month, until the expediency and justice of the measure is brought regularly before Parliament; more especially as there would appear a want of good faith towards those Non-commissioned Officers, who were retained on the credit of the Act of the 49th, at the disembodiment in 1816; by now dismissing them, (especially as many of them will not be entitled to pensions for length of service,) and who were by being retained, debarred from seeking for, and obtaining settlements and situations, which by this time would have placed them independent of the Militia establishment. It must further operate as detrimental to the raising men for the Militia at a future period, by discouraging respectable persons from entering into that service, with the view, and under the expectation of arriving, by faithful and meritorious services and conduct, to the rank of Non-commissioned Officers.

WE, the undersigned Colonels of Militia, having received at the quarters of the staff of our respective regiments, a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 25th November 1822, and signed Henry Goulburn, in which the Lord Lieutenant's desire is expressed, that we respectively should adopt the necessary means for discharging, on or before the 24th of December next, Serjeants, Corporals, and Drummers, beyond the scale prescribed for the British Corps;—beg leave through you, Sir, humbly to submit to the Lord Lieutenant, the view taken by us of so unexpected a communication, and requiring so precipitate a compliance.

Were that reduction to be insisted on, we conceive that the faith on which these men entered the Militia service, would be broken, inasmuch as that at the time of their enlisting, they had an ultimate reward for their services, held out and guaranteed upon the faith of the Legislature of the country; viz. that of their conduct advancing them to the Staff, where during peace they were permanent, upon the different portions of pay assigned to each station by that very law.

That those who are now to be affected by discharge, should such a measure be persevered in, have had that faith confirmed to them, by the uninterrupted enjoyment of more than five years disembodied service, following the abandonment made by a Circular Letter, dated Dublin Castle, 24th February 1817, and signed E. B. Baker, that a Bill should be submitted to Parliament, for limiting the number of Non-commissioned Officers, Drummers and Fifers, retained by the several regiments of Irish Militia, to those prescribed for the British Corps, under the provisions of the Act of the 42d of the King.

That we have viewed the policy of the law upon this head, as being not only to stimulate the Militia-man, when embodied, to fidelity of conduct, by the reward of subsequent permanency of provision, rendered even more ample by the policy of Government in gratuitously extending allowance of lodging and fuel; but also to the important consideration of future efficiency, by the inducement so held out, of obtaining on any emergency, an instant influx of recruits to the Militia ranks; and of the means, through such a staff, of imparting military instruction, and rendering the recruit serviceable to the State, from the moment of his joining his regiment.

That we refer, for the proof of this, to the efficient state in which the Militia of Ireland stood, immediately on its being embodied, on the rupture of the Peace of Amiens, and in 1815.

That all such effects must not only be defeated, in future, by such a measure as that now proposed, but the very name of Militia branded, among those orders which are to complete its ranks, with the hatred arising from their sense of injustice, disappointment, and breach of faith.

That the precipitancy and peremptoriness of communication thus made to us, does not appear calculated to diminish the ill effects which may result from the perseverance in it. On the contrary, ignorant, ourselves, of any intentions of such a nature, on the part of his Excellency's government, the surprise is not greater to us, in our official situations, than fatal to the interests and well-being of men who have distinguished themselves as faithful and attached subjects; and are thus suddenly, in a very great proportion, to be set adrift upon the world, alienated from the habits and friendships of their early life, incapable, perhaps, of trade, and competent, alone, to teach the use of arms.

That with every submission to those authorities most competent to legal advice, doubts may not be unjustly entertained as to the validity of any compulsion to such reduction; and for these reasons:—

The Act of the 49th Geo. 3, repealing or consolidating all previous Militia laws, having enacted the officers and number of companies to the different degrees of corps, proceeds to detail the establishment of each company, in the 6th section; viz. That the ordinary establishment of each company shall be, sixty-five Privates, four Serjeants, five Corporals, two Drummers, &c. while the 27th section says, that every Adjutant, Paymaster, Surgeon, Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, Drum-Major, and Drummer of the said Militia, shall be, at all times, subject to any Act which shall be in force for punishing Mutiny and Desertion, &c. thus distinctly establishing the Non-commissioned Officers named as the permanent staff of the regiment, when disembodied. And be it observed, that the Quartermaster is not included, because it was, by a subsequent Act, so far to assimilate to British practice, that he was made permanent. By section 28th, the rates of pay to these classes, when not embodied, is declared, for every such Adjutant, &c. &c.; and for every Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, Serjeant, Corporal, and Drummer respectively; and further states the reduction of pay when on furlough, without reference to any establishment but that which section 6th declares shall be the ordinary establishment.

That the law in section 38th, contemplated the force necessary to be maintained present where the regimental stores shall be kept; and directs that one-third at least of the Serjeants, &c. shall be constantly resident there, still further corroborating the establishment, and the principle of reward and stimulus, by the indulgencies to be given in peace; while the letter of the 24th February 1817, admits the necessity of appeal to the Legislature, before reduction can take place, and the Act of the 57 Geo. 3, c. 104, confirms it.

That, with these facts before us, placed as we have been, the guardians of our respective regiments, and in several instances the cause of these very men, whose interests in life are so vitally threatened by the letter against which we now venture to offer our remonstrances, having been exposed by their change of life; to such we cannot, in justice to ourselves, or to the service in which we have been placed, do less than respectfully state our firm conviction of the harshness, injustice, &c. and at least doubtful legality in persevering in such a proceeding as that intimated; and while humbly submitting our strongest remonstrances against it, to express our confident hopes, that these our sentiments being known to the Lord Lieutenant, the staff of our respective regiments may be left undisturbed.

And for this additional reason, as far as regards the Westmeath staff, that in the year 1816, they volunteered their services unanimously to act as Police for the preservation of the peace of the eastern parts of the county then very much disturbed, and by their exertions the aid of the regular forces was rendered unnecessary; and there was no charge for additional Police inflicted upon those parts of the county. That some lives were lost, by the consequences of fever caught upon this service; and that at my request the whole of the Westmeath staff were pledged by that unanimous offer, communicated by me to Mr. Peel, at the time it was made.

MILITARY ALLOWANCES, IRELAND.

Copy WARRANT for the more convenient Payment of the PENSIONS to the Widows of Officers of the Land Forces, residing in Great Britain or Ireland, dated 25th September 1812.

GEORGE P. R.

BY His Royal Highness The Prince Regent of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WHEREAS it has been represented unto Us, by Our Secretary at War, that much inconvenience has arisen to the Widows of officers of the land forces, from the present mode of transferring the payment of their Pensions from the British to the Irish establishment, and vice versa from the Irish to the British establishment, upon the removal of the regiments to which their late husbands belonged; and that great convenience would result to them from an abolition of the existing practice, of issuing in every case the allowances to the said Widows, from the establishment on which the corps concerned may happen to be serving at the time of payment; which representation We having taken into Our most serious consideration, and being desirous of contributing, as far as possible, to the comfort and accommodation of the individuals concerned, by enabling each Widow to receive the Pension from the establishment of that country in which she shall reside, without being put to any unnecessary expense, Our will and pleasure is, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that the following arrangement do take place in the United Kingdom, from and after the date of this Warrant; viz.

1st. That each Widow residing in Great Britain, be paid by the Paymaster General; and every Widow residing in Ireland, be paid under the direction of the Government of that country, without regard to the establishment upon which the regiment to which her husband belonged may be.

2dly. That when an officer dies, whose Widow may be entitled to the Pension, the application for placing her upon the Pension-list, together with the documents required to substantiate the claim, shall be transmitted to the War-Office in London, or the War-Office in Dublin Castle, according as the regiment may be upon the British or the Irish establishment; and if the title of the Widow to the bounty be sufficiently authenticated, she is then to be placed upon the list of that country in which the regiment may be; and if not resident in that part of the United Kingdom in which her Pension would fall to be issued, a notification of her claim, when established as aforesaid, and of her actual place of abode, shall be made to the Government of Great Britain or Ireland, as the case may be, in order to her being paid as directed in Article 1st of this Warrant.

3dly. In cases in which a Widow after having been placed upon the Pension-list, and having received a portion of her Pension, shall be desirous of changing her residence, from Great Britain to Ireland, or vice versa, two months previous notice shall be given by such Widow, to the War-Office of the country in which she is then resident, of her intended removal; and a notification shall then be made by that office to the War-Office in the other country, in order that the Widow may receive the Pension in Great Britain or in Ireland, from the termination of the then current four months in which such notice shall have been received.

4thly. No fee or deduction whatever is to be made from the Pension of any Widow either in Great Britain or Ireland, upon her being transferred from one to the other establishment, in consequence of this arrangement.

And for so doing, this shall be as well to the Pay Master General of Our forces, as to all others whom it doth or may concern, a sufficient Warrant, authority and direction.

Given at Our Court at Carlton House, this 25th day of September 1812, in the fifty-second year of His Majesty's reign.

BY Command of His Royal Highness
The Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty.

— 2. —

Copy WARRANT for the more convenient issue of the FULL PAY and HALF PAY of certain Officers residing in Great Britain or Ireland, dated 15th May 1815.

GEORGE P. R.

BY His Royal Highness The Prince Regent of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WHEREAS it has been represented unto Us, that great convenience would result to Officers on the half pay, or on the retired list, and to General Officers entitled to the pay of their army rank, if they were allowed to receive their pay or half pay from the establishment of that country in which they shall actually reside, without regard to the establishment upon which the pay or half pay was originally allowed; and We, being desirous to contribute, as far as possible, to the comfort and accommodation of the individuals concerned, Our will and pleasure is, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that the following arrangement do take place in the United Kingdom from and after the date of this Warrant:—

1st. That every Officer entitled to pay or half pay as above-mentioned, actually residing in Great Britain, be paid by the Paymaster General of our land forces; and every such officer residing in Ireland, be paid by the proper officer in that country.

2dly. That when any such Officer shall wish to change his residence, from one country to the other, he shall give two months previous notice of such his intention to the War-Office of the country in which he is then resident, and shall also obtain a certificate from the Paymaster General in Great Britain, or from the proper officer in Ireland, as the case may be, setting forth the exact time up to which he shall have received his pay or half pay, and specifying that such certificate is granted, in order to enable him to receive his pay or half pay in the country to which he is about to remove.

3dly. That in all cases in which Officers are originally reduced upon the establishment of that part of Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, called Ireland, and become thereby, or from other sufficient causes, entitled to half pay, retired pay, or pay as General Officers, according to the established rates, We do hereby order and direct, that the claim to such pay or half pay shall be brought under our consideration, according to the present accustomed mode, in order, that if We shall be pleased to consent thereto, the same may be placed upon the military establishment of Ireland, under Our sign manual; but in all cases in which the like or similar allowances shall have been originally granted upon the establishment of Great Britain for Officers who are subsequently to be transferred therefrom to the establishment of Ireland, We do also hereby empower Our Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland, or other chief governor or governors thereof, for the time being, to place the allowance to which such officers may be consequently entitled, upon such transfer, on the said military establishment, and to authorize the payment of the same, from time to time, in the usual manner.

Given at Our Court at Carlton House, this 15th day of May 1815, in the fifty-fifth year of His Majesty's reign.

BY Command of His Royal Highness The Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty.

Memorandum:—

Any Officer residing in Great Britain, whose pay or half pay is now issued in Ireland, should notify his place of residence to the War-Office in Dublin, in order that an official communication may be made from thence for the transfer of the payment of his pay or half pay in Great Britain.

In like manner, any Officer residing in Ireland, whose pay or half pay is now issued in Great Britain, should make a similar report to the War-Office in London, when instructions will be given for the payment of his pay or half pay in Ireland.

If any Officer should afterwards change his place of residence, he is to give timely notice of his intention, in the mode pointed out in the above Warrant.

— 3. —

Copy WARRANT directing that, from the 25th December 1822, all Payments on account of Pensions of Widows of Officers, Unattached Pay of General Officers, Retired Pay, Half Pay, and Military Allowances to reduced Officers, Pensions for Wounds, Royal Bounties, and Compassionate Allowances, shall be issued through the Paymaster General of the Land Forces, and that Persons resident in Ireland shall receive the same in Irish Currency, dated 6th March 1823.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS by Our Warrants, bearing date the 25th September 1812, and the 15th May 1815, We were pleased to declare, that unattached general officers, reduced and retired officers of Our land forces, and widows of officers of Our army and marines, should, when resident in Great Britain, receive their pay, pensions, or allowances, through the Paymaster General of Our forces, and when resident in Ireland, through the proper departments in that country:

And whereas, in pursuance of the provisions contained in an Act of Parliament, passed in the third year of Our reign, intituled, “ An Act to provide for the more effectual Regulation of certain Offices relating to the Receipt of His Majesty’s Exchequer in Ireland,” We think it expedient to establish a new Regulation, with respect to the issue of such pay, pensions, or allowances; Our will and pleasure is, that from the 25th December last inclusive, all the persons borne upon Our establishments of unattached general officers, of reduced and retired officers, and of widows of officers of Our army and marines, shall receive their pay, pensions, and allowances through the Paymaster General of Our land forces, whether resident in Great Britain or in Ireland; but that such of the said persons as shall be resident in Ireland at the time when their pensions, pay, or allowances, shall be paid to them, shall receive the same in Irish currency.

And it is Our further will and pleasure, that the like Rules shall be observed in regard to all payments to officers and others, on account of military allowances, pensions for wounds, royal bounties, and allowances on the compassionate list. N^o 132 105

And for so doing, this shall be, as well to Our Paymaster General, Our Secretary at War, Our Commissioners for Auditing the Public Accounts, and all others whom it doth or may concern, a sufficient Warrant, authority, and direction.

Given at Our Court at Carlton Palace, this 6th day of March 1823, in the fourth year of Our reign.

BY His Majesty’s command,

PALMERSTON.

COPY OF A LETTER TO WILLIAM GREGORY, ESQUIRE.

From the Secretary to the Commissioners for the assistance of Trade and Manufactures, established in Dublin, by 1 Geo. IV. c. 39. dated 31st July 1822; respecting the Loan to Messrs. NOWLAN & SHAW, in 1821.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed, 3 June 1823.

To William Gregory, Esq. &c. &c. &c.

SIR,

Board Room, Sackville-street, 31st July 1822.

I AM directed by the Commissioners, appointed by virtue of the act of Parliament passed in the first year of His present Majesty's reign, for the relief of Trade and Manufactures in Ireland, to acquaint you for the information of the Lord Lieutenant; that in the month of February 1821, a sum of 30,000 l. was advanced to the firm of Nowlan, Shaw, & Co. of the Merino Woollen Factory; 10,000 l. whereof was secured by the joint and several bond of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, & Co. and a deposit of goods valued at 20,000 l.; and for repayment of the remainder bonds were entered into by said Nowlan, Shaw, & Co. jointly with other persons, who became bound for certain portions of said sums.

I am also directed to say, that such loan was made by the Commissioners, after repeated communications with Mr. Grant, (then secretary to Earl Talbot) both personally and by letter; and the Commissioners conceive it right to request that a reference may be made to the several letters which passed between Mr. Grant and them upon the subject, and other documents connected therewith, for which purpose they have directed me to furnish copies, which I take the liberty of sending herewith.

I am further directed to state, that payments amounting in the whole to the sum of 3,875 l. 12 s. have been made on account of the sum lent on the pledge of goods; and that goods, amounting in value to 7,751 l. 4 s. according to the invoice price at the time of lodgment, have been returned by the Commissioners to them, according to the directions of the Act; so that goods which were valued at the time of the deposit at a sum of 12,248 l. 16 s. still remain in custody of the Commissioners.

I am further to state, that a written application for extending the time for repayment of the balance of said loan remaining due has been lately sent to the Commissioners, signed, "Nowlan, Shaw, & Co." but which, there is reason to believe, was not signed by any of the persons who were partners in that firm; and that the Commissioners, under such impression, did by letter addressed to said firm require the attendance of one or more of the partners before them on the 25th instant, but that none of them appeared, nor was their absence in any way accounted for.

Under these circumstances, the Commissioners have directed me to state, that as the loan was made upon the special interference of His Majesty's then Government in Ireland, and as they foresee that a necessity will arise of applying to those persons who have become bound for the repayment of such part of the loan as is not secured by a deposit of goods, some of whom they have reason to think will not be able to pay the sums for which they are bound, they are unwilling to take any decisive step, either towards a sale of the goods on hand, or for compelling payment from the sureties, without apprizing His Majesty's Government of the circumstances of the case, and obtaining the opinion of His Majesty's law officers as to their power of retaining or selling any surplus goods which may remain after discharging the bond for repayment, of which they were pledged as collateral security, towards exonerating the sureties in the other bonds.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c.

A true copy.

(signed) John Galloway, Sec^y.

W. Gregory.

Copy DOCUMENTS referred to in the preceding Letter.

Extracts of the PROCEEDINGS of the Commissioners for the relief of Trade, respecting an Application for a Loan by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. referred to by their Letter to Mr. Secretary Gregory, of 31st July 1822.

1820: August 9th.—Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. presented a Memorial to the Commissioners for a loan of 15,000*l*.

—Sept. 18th.—A supplemental petition was presented, increasing the amount of the loan required from 15,000*l*. to 30,000*l*.

Ordered, That Mr. Nowlan do attend on Wednesday, with a Dr. and Cr. account of the state of the establishment; and that the Board be specially summoned for that day.

—Oct. 4th.—The Board having this day met, pursuant to special summons, to consider of the application of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. and having examined Mr. Thomas and Mr. Timothy Nowlan, touching the trade and dealings of the said firm, Resolved, That the further consideration of said application be postponed.

—Nov. 20th.—The Commissioners having already considered, several times, the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. (N^o 90.) for a loan from this Board, and having examined Messrs. Timothy and Thomas Nowlan, two of the partners in said firm; and having this day again taken same, and the several documents furnished from time to time to the Board by Messrs. Nowlan and Co. into their consideration, and having maturely deliberated thereon, are of opinion that the application cannot be complied with.

However desirable it might be to support such an establishment as the Merino Factory, and however willing they are to give as liberal a construction to the Act of Parliament under which the Board is constituted, as the terms of that Act will permit, it appears to this Board, that the said firm is not in that state of solvency which the Act declares shall be the situation of persons who shall be entitled to relief thereunder.

Ordered, That a letter be written to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. stating, that the Board, having fully considered and deliberated on their application, and the several documents laid before them, feel themselves reluctantly under the necessity of informing them that their application cannot be complied with.

—Nov. 23d.—The chairman having received a letter from Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. requesting the Board to give them an opportunity of further explaining their situation and circumstances, he accordingly ordered a special meeting of the Board, who having met, and fully heard Messrs. Timothy and Thomas Nowlan on the subject of their application, and considered the said letter, the following statement was ordered to be entered on the Minutes:—

Office of the Commissioners for the relief of Trade, 23d Nov. 1820.

The Commissioners have very fully considered the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. for a loan of 30,000*l*.: one half on a deposit of goods, the other half on personal security; but they are not convinced that the firm is in that state of solvency which the Act contemplated.

The documents produced by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. state, that, conditional on such loan being granted, certain English creditors have agreed to take a composition of about ten shillings in the pound on their respective debts, which would make a reduction on the debts due by Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. to the amount of about 6,950*l*.; this sum would then form the only capital in their hands to carry on their manufactory, besides a sum of about 3,700*l*. consisting of farming stock and furniture, &c.

They

They also state, that the sum of 60,000*l.* has been expended on the building and out-fit of the concern, for 49,900*l.* of which they have issued, or (contingent on the loan being granted) are to issue, debentures, payable in twenty years, with interest; and that it is further probable, as another consequence of the loan being made to them, that the remainder of the said sum of 60,000*l.* being 10,100*l.* might be collected and rendered available.

The Commissioners, as already stated, not thinking themselves authorized to grant the loan, but feeling the importance of the establishment to the manufacturing poor in its neighbourhood, make this statement for the information of His Majesty's government, to know how far, under all the circumstances, they may be disposed to afford Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. the aid they have required.

Resolved, That the chairman be requested to transmit a copy of the foregoing minute to Mr. Secretary Grant, with the following letter.

Board-room, Sackville-street, 23d Nov. 1820.

Sir,—At the request of the Commissioners for the relief of trade I have the honour to enclose you, for the information of his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of the Board's minute of this date, on the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. of the Merino factory, near Kilkenny, for a loan of 30,000*l.*

I have the honour to be, &c.

(signed.) J. Lindsey, Chairman.

Right Hon. Charles Grant, &c. &c. &c.

The Board having received a letter from Mr. Secretary Grant, dated 30th November last, on the subject of the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. for an advance of 30,000*l.*

Ordered, That the said letter be copied on the Minutes; it is as follows:

Dublin Castle, 30th November 1820.

Sir,—I have submitted to the Lord Lieutenant your letter of the 23d instant, transmitting, at the request of the Commissioners for the relief of trade, a copy of the Board's Minute on the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. of the Merino Factory, near Kilkenny, for a loan of 30,000*l.*; one half on the deposit of goods, and the other half on personal security:

And I am to signify to you, that his Excellency has taken the Board's Minute into consideration, and approves of the loan of 30,000*l.* to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. on the above securities.

I have the honour, &c. &c.

(signed.) C. Grant.

John Lindsey Esq.

Chairman to Commissioners for Relief of Trade.

The Board having taken said letter into consideration, it was resolved that a letter in answer be forthwith sent to Mr. Secretary Grant; it is as follows:

Board Room, Sackville-street, 4th December 1820.

Sir,—I am directed by the Commissioners for the issue of money for the relief of trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th November, stating that you had submitted to the Lord Lieutenant the Board's letter of the 23d ultimo, transmitting their Minute on the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. of the Merino Factory, near Kilkenny, for a loan of 30,000*l.*; one half on the deposit of goods, and the other half on personal security; and stating that his Excellency had taken the Board's Minute into consideration, and approved of the loan of 30,000*l.* to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. on the securities therein stated. And I am further directed to state, that from the tenor of your letter the Commissioners conceive it has appeared to the Lord Lieutenant, by their communication of the 23d November, that the Board had agreed to make a grant to the firm of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. which they did not intend should have been so understood; and they submit, that upon a further consideration of the Minute, it would appear that the Board did not conceive they could, under the Act, make such a loan; but that they submitted the whole circumstances of the case of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. to the consideration of Government, to know how far, under all the circumstances, the Government might be disposed to afford them relief.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c.

John Lindsey, Chairman.

Right honourable Charles Grant, &c. &c. &c.

Dublin Castle, 6th December 1820.

Sir,—I received and submitted, to the Lord Lieutenant, your letter of the 4th instant, in reply to my communication of the 30th ultimo, respecting the application to the Commissioners for the relief of trade, from Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. for a loan of 30,000*l.*; and I have received his Excellency's command to acquaint you, that his intention in the letter to your Board alluded to was to authorize the advance to Messrs. Nowlan, and Co.; and to repeat, that if the Commissioners are satisfied as to the securities, (of which they of course are the best judges) his Excellency thinks the advance ought to be made without delay.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c.

(signed.)

C. Grant.

John Lindsey, Esq.

Chairman to the Commissioners for the relief of Trade.

Resolved,

Resolved, That having submitted to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, by the communication of the Board's Minute of 23d November, a full statement of all the circumstances of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.'s case, together with the decision of the Board thereon, that they did not conceive that they could, under the provisions of the Act, grant them the loan asked for, and his Excellency having, with such information before him, thought it right to convey to this Board in the foregoing letter, his Excellency's desire that they should notwithstanding grant the loan required by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. provided their securities were approved of, the Board consider this communication under such circumstances as implying the willingness of Government to undertake the responsibility of granting the loan; and that under this impression, and the persuasion that Government has been induced to interfere, on weighty consideration,

Resolved, That a loan of 30,000*l.* be granted to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.; one half to be secured by a deposit of goods, and the other half by personal security, to be approved of by the Board; provided Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. shall bring their affairs within the statement made in the communication sent in to the Lord Lieutenant by the Board on the 23d November last.

Resolved, That a deputation, consisting of the Chairman, Messrs. William Harding, Thomas Crosthwaite and Thomas McDonnell, do wait upon Mr. Grant with a copy of the foregoing resolution; and that the Solicitor do attend the deputation.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution be forthwith sent to Mr. Grant, with a request that he will be pleased to appoint a time for the deputation to wait on him.

Board Room, 12th December 1820.

Sir,—I have the honour to enclose, by the directions of the Commissioners for the issue of money for the relief of trade, a copy of their Minute of this day; and to request you will please to appoint as early a day for the deputation therein mentioned to wait upon you as your convenience will permit.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c. (signed.) John Gallowsy, Secretary.

Right honourable Charles Grant, &c. &c. &c.

The deputation appointed by the Board to wait upon Mr. Secretary Grant, on the subject of the application made by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. for a loan, Report to the Board,—That they did wait upon him yesterday, and entered into a detailed explanation of all the circumstances which have come before them, respecting the solvency and property of the firm; when Mr. Grant requested they would furnish him with a written statement, containing the substance of their communication, which the deputation promised should be done; and then Mr. Grant requested further proceedings to be suspended until the Board should again hear from him.

Resolved therefore,—That the gentlemen who composed the deputation be requested to draw up a minute upon the subject, and submit it to the consideration of the Board previous to its being sent to Mr. Grant; and that the Board be specially summoned for one o'clock to-morrow.

The deputation appointed by the Commissioners for the relief of commercial credit to wait on Mr. Secretary Grant with their resolution of the 7th December, consenting to grant to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. upon the responsibility of Government, a sum as therein specified, has been instructed to submit in detail the views of the Commissioners on the whole of this case; conceiving it a duty they owe to the importance of the trust they are endeavouring faithfully to discharge towards the public, to set this matter before Government in the clearest light they are able for its information, before involving it finally in that responsibility, as well as to justify their motives for declining to take it upon themselves in this instance, as in ordinary cases it belongs to them to do, under the Act of Parliament.

The question as to the solvency of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. early in their case, started a difficulty in the way of granting them the loan required, and induced the Commissioners to have recourse to the opinion of His Majesty's attorney-general, to set at rest all doubts on the point. The Opinion is as follows.—“Vide Appendix, for copy of said opinion.”

Under this opinion, the Commissioners, in the first place, went into an inquiry into the affairs of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. with the view of ascertaining their situation as to solvency. In the course of that inquiry, it appeared to the Commissioners that the firm had granted an annuity of 500*l.* chargeable upon their factory, and other lands, as well as upon the separate property of one of the partners; that they had also granted a mortgage for a sum of 10,000*l.* to another person, payable with interest at 6 per cent; and that they had issued debentures for the sum of 14,900*l.* to persons who had paid in subscriptions to that amount, payable with a like interest of 6 per cent in 20 years; but it was stated to the Commissioners, that the persons who held the annuity, would (provided their so doing would facilitate the obtaining of a loan) execute an instrument, agreeing to reduce their annuity from 500*l.* to 300*l.* per annum; and that the representative of the mortgagee would give up his mortgage, reduce his interest to 3 per cent, and take debentures in lieu of said mortgage; and it was further stated, that another issue of debentures to the amount of 19,900*l.* with interest at 3 per cent, was to be made by the firm, to secure sums of money to that that amount, raised by bills of exchange, on which said firm were parties or endorsers. If these arrangements were completed, the buildings and machinery would stand vested in trust for the holders of these debentures, forming a total of 43,900*l.* and the reduced annuity of 300*l.* per annum, to secure them, in case of default in the payment of their interest annually, or the principal, at the expiration of their term of 20 years; thence it appeared to the Commissioners, that persons who have, or may hereafter become creditors of this establishment in the course of its ordinary dealings, have no security to look to for any portion of their demands, in its buildings and machinery, as, in the opinion of the Commissioners, they will not be ultimately sufficient to cover the demands having thus a priority of claim on them.

The other class of debts contracted by Nowlan, Shaw and Co. in the ordinary course of their dealings, and now undischarged, amounts to a total of 32,800*l.*; and they have returned a schedule of assets to meet these debts, under date of 20th September 1820, as follows:—

Goods manufactured or in process	- - -	£.25,357	11	2
Raw materials of manufacture	- - -	1,919	19	8
Debts due to them deemed good	- - -	5,571	3	4
Farming stock and furniture	- - -	3,700	-	-
Making a total of	- - -	£.36,548	14	2

Although the manufactured goods are stated to be here valued at the retail, and consequently the utmost prices, it will be observed, that these assets only exceed the debts due by a sum of 3,700*l.* or precisely the dead capital sunk in farming stock and furniture, leaving no provision to cover the charges, or any loss that may arise in converting these assets into money.

With these facts before them, the Commissioners did not feel convinced, that Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. are in such a state of solvency as affords any reasonable ground of hope, that they can ultimately discharge their engagements, and carry on a profitable business.

In forming this conclusion, the Commissioners did not feel themselves authorized to give any weight to the conditional composition agreed to by the English creditors, alluded to in the Board's minute of 23d November, because it appeared revolting to the Commissioners, to admit a case of solvency to be established, by a contemplated act of insolvency, in which light they have been accustomed to view all compositions; neither could they reconcile to themselves, that they would be acting within the views of the legislature in forming such a commission, should they agree to make advances for the purpose of facilitating compositions between debtors and creditors.

Having on such grounds disposed of the strict question of solvency, the Commissioners next applied themselves to the consideration of the extended latitude given to the meaning of the Act in the latter part of the attorney general's opinion.

To obtain grounds on which to form an opinion on this question, the Commissioners examined Mr. Timothy Nowlan as to the scale on which the firm proposed carrying on their manufacture, in case the required loan was granted to them, and what profit that scale might be expected to yield. He stated that they would manufacture twenty ends of cloth per week, of the value of about 400*l.* on which they calculated upon realising a profit of 10*l.* or 20*l.* per cent; taking the profits at the medium of this calculation, or 15*l.* per cent the entire profits that would be realised in one year on this scale of working, would amount to the sum of 3,120*l.* For the said period they would be subject to a charge, under the head of interest alone, as follows:—

One year's interest on 14,900 l. debentures at 6 per cent	- - -	£.849	-	-
D° - - - 34,100 l. - do - at 3 per cent	- - -	1,023	-	-
D° - - - 30,000 l. loan from Commissioners, at 6 per cent	- - -	1,800	-	-
Making a total of	- - -	£.3,672	-	-

Leaving a loss of 552*l.* to which is to be added, one year's rent, repairs, salaries of clerks, maintenance of partners, bad debts, and those casualties to which an extensive manufacture must ever be liable.

From a view of these facts, the Commissioners are of opinion, that the Merino factory neither has been, nor is likely to become profitable, so long as it is at present subject to the payment of interest annually for all the capital invested, as well in its buildings and machinery as in its current trade; they are convinced, that the loan, if granted, will prove but a temporary expedient, and that the evils likely to result from its refusal, will be only deferred for a short period, but not ultimately prevented or alleviated.

Entertaining such views, the Commissioners could not agree to grant the loan asked for in this case, under the attorney general's opinion that they would be authorized to do so, if thereby a useful or productive business and manufacture could be kept on foot, from which it is probable that the person obtaining the loan would be enabled to discharge it, as well as to profit himself.

In bringing this case first under the notice of government, the Commissioners were influenced by a sincere regret, that it was not within their power to relieve the difficulties under which they found the individuals immediately interested labouring, from their meritorious efforts to introduce a valuable branch of manufacture into that part of the country where their factory is situated; and still more so by a strong feeling of sympathy for the wretched condition to which the numerous poor people in their employment would be reduced, should it become necessary again to abandon them to the life of misery and comparative idleness from which this factory has succeeded in rescuing them; aggravated, as all its wretchedness would be, by the painful contrast with their present life of industrious, quiet and moral habits;—persuaded that this evil was not ultimately to be avoided by a loan under a heavy charge of interest, the Commissioners were anxious to inform government of the several circumstances attending the case, for its consideration.

Having thus in compliance with the wishes of Mr. Grant, communicated the full sentiments of the Commissioners on this case, they will, as requested, suspend any further proceedings on it, until they receive further communication from government on the subject.

1821: January 11th.—A letter being received from Mr. Sec^r Grant, dated the 6th inst. as follows:—

Dublin Castle, 6th January 1821.

Gentlemen:—With reference to the correspondence which has taken place relative to the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. for a loan of 30,000*l.* from the sum voted for the relief of Trade,

I am to acquaint you, that the Lord Lieutenant, upon consideration of all the circumstances, is pleased to direct, that the loan of 30,000*l.* be made to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. from the sum voted for the relief of Trade; and that the same be made with the least possible delay, according to their application.

I am, Gentlemen, &c. &c. &c.

Commissioners for relief of Trade.

(signed) C. Grant.

And same being read and considered, and the Board having in consequence referred to the several minutes communicated to government upon the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co for a loan of 30,000*l.* and the letters received from government in reply;

Resolved, That the said loan be granted, subject to the conditions therein contained.

That the several creditors of the said firm must execute releases to the said firm, pursuant to their agreement laid before the Board.

That the deeds proposed to be executed by the representatives of Mr. Harty, and by Mr. Hemmings, be forthwith perfected.

That debentures to the amount of 43,900*l.* must be executed to and accepted of by the several subscribers who have paid their subscriptions, or passed securities for the same, and that the firm be fully released from those securities.

That goods to the amount of 30,000*l.* must be deposited in the warehouse of the Commissioners; and the sufficiency of the personal security offered for 15,000*l.* be shown to the Board before the loan is issued.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be sent to the solicitor as his instructions, and that he do communicate with Messrs. Nowlan & Co.

1821: January 15th.—The Board having proceeded to the further consideration of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co.'s case.

Ordered, That the solicitor do lay a case before the attorney general, as soon as he shall obtain the searches, for his opinion, whether the securities offered by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. for the sum of 15,000*l.* are sufficient, and should be accepted of by the Board, notwithstanding the incumbrances which may appear to affect them, and the circumstances attending Mr. Buller's property.

The solicitor reported, that he had obtained the opinion of the attorney general, on the case submitted to him, pursuant to the order of the Board dated 15th January; which opinion is as follows:—

I am fully satisfied under the circumstances of this case, that there will be proper and sufficient security for the 15,000*l.* which is to be secured by personal security, under the provisions of the Act, and not by deposit of goods; Messrs. Nowlan & Co. fortifying the security of Mr. James Buller by the additional security for 2,000*l.* of Sir Robert Mends, R. N. whom they have mentioned to me as ready to enter into security to that amount, in addition to the security above proposed, and which appeared to me to be desirable.

(signed) W^m Saurin.

1821: January 26th.—The Board having met this day, pursuant to special summons, to take into further consideration the opinion of the attorney general on the case submitted to him, respecting the application of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, & Co. and same having been read, as also the minute of the 11th instant,

Resolved, That in consequence of the various communications received by the Board from the government upon this subject, and of the opinion given by the attorney general upon the validity of the securities offered, the sum applied for be issued, upon the several arrangements mentioned in the said minutes of the 11th instant being completed, and the bonds being executed by the securities proposed.

Resolved,

Resolved, That the said sum be repaid on or before the 10th July 1822.

Resolved, That the Chairman, Mr. Hone and Mr. Harding, be a committee to make arrangements for procuring a proper warehouse, to deposit the goods to be lodged by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co.

Resolved, That proper persons be appointed to value all goods to be deposited in the warehouses of the Board, and that the above-mentioned committee do find out such, and report thereon to the Board at the next meeting; and also a proper person to be appointed storekeeper.

1821: February 7th.—A letter having been received from Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. as follows:—

Westmorland-street, 7th February 1821.

Gentlemen,—We beg to inform you, that our English creditors, instead of renewing the conditional agreement which expired on the 1st of January, have sent receipts in full of all demands, and with very few exceptions have intrusted them to ourselves, and we have deposited them with your solicitor; it is unnecessary to remark, how grateful such a mark of confidence must be to our feelings.

The deed of assignment of the mortgage to the late Mr. Mark Harty, has been executed by all the necessary parties, and the deed of abatement of Mr. Hemmings' annuity, will be executed either to-morrow or the day after; it would have been done before this, but that he was unable to obtain leave of absence from his office as barrack master of Limerick.

With respect to the Merino factory debentures, those to the representatives of Mark Harty for 10,000*l.* have been delivered, as will appear by the assignment of the mortgage. Debentures have already been issued to individual subscribers to the amount of 14,900*l.* The Messrs. Shaw and Needham will release as endorers on the notes in their hands, amounting to 3,500*l.* (part of said loan) on payment of a sum of 500*l.* as appears by Mr. Lane's letter transmitted to you: the Messrs. Ryall's have already done so for 6,000*l.* as will appear by an instrument in the hands of your secretary; and on Tuesday last, the Bank of Ireland were pleased to agree to an arrangement, exonerating us from a sum of 10,000*l.* and taking the direct security for that sum from certain gentlemen, now endorers on our paper, and who have accepted of debentures in lieu thereof; thus completing the arrangement for 43,900*l.* as required by the Board.

We beg leave to add, that the sureties are now in town whom we proposed for securing the sum of 15,000*l.* by bonds to the crown, and as you are already aware that a great portion of the goods which we proposed to deposit in your store, are in the hands of factors and others, who have advanced money on them, but which we find a difficulty in obtaining, without discharging the sums due upon them to the several holders, we therefore trust, that you will not deem us unreasonable, in requesting an advance upon the bonds for 15,000*l.* as soon as they shall be executed, for the purpose of enabling us to redeem those goods. We are now prepared to commence depositing goods to the amount of from 8,000*l.* to 10,000*l.* as soon as your Board shall be pleased to select a store for that purpose.

We feel some difficulty as to the effect of stripping our own immediate establishments of the goods now actually on sale, and we beg leave further to suggest, the material advantage which the concern will derive from permitting the goods now on hands of our several agents, to remain with them for sale, instead of locking them up in a warehouse, to avoid which, our several agents with other satisfactory security, shall be proposed, in order to prevent the removal of these goods at a heavy expense and loss of time, independent of the danger of injuring these establishments, where we expect to vend our entire stock without sacrifice of price; under all these circumstances, we trust that the Board will be pleased to order an issue upon the bonds for 15,000*l.* now ready to be executed.

We have the honour to be, &c. &c.

(signed) Nowlan, Shaw & Co.

To the Commissioners for the Relief of Trade, &c. &c. &c.

1821: February 8th.—Resolved, That as soon as the Solicitor shall report to the Board, that the creditors of said firm, named in the agreement laid before the Board, and mentioned in our Minute of the 11th January last, have executed their receipts for the several sums annexed to their names; that the deed proposed to be executed by the representatives of Mark Harty shall have been signed by them; that the deed proposed to be executed by Mr. Hemmings shall have been signed by him; that debentures have been accepted of by the several creditors, to the amount of 43,900*l.*; and that the bond of said firm, with their several sureties heretofore agreed to be accepted of, to secure a sum of 15,000*l.* shall have been executed, that then a sum of 15,000*l.* shall be issued to the said firm.

Ordered, That a letter be written to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. informing them that the Linen Board have appointed rooms for the reception of the goods to be lodged, and that they are at liberty to begin making deposits as soon as convenient to them.

The Sub-committee appointed on the 26th ultimo to inspect rooms for receiving deposits of goods, and to report proper persons to inspect and value such goods, and also a proper person to be appointed store-keeper, now beg to report, that they conceive Mr. George Rankin will be a proper person to be appointed store-keeper; and that rooms have been obtained from the Linen Board.

Resolved,

Resolved, therefore, That the said George Rankin, be appointed store-keeper, and that he be paid a salary at the rate of sixty guineas per annum, while he shall be employed.

A letter from Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. having been laid before the Board, the same was read, and is as follows :

Westmoreland-street, 22d February 1821.

Gentlemen,—We beg leave to inform you, that we have lodged in the stores allotted to us in the Linen Hall, a considerable quantity of goods, which are measured, classed and ticketed; and we request you will be pleased to direct your store-keeper to take charge of the same, and that you will appoint a person before whom we may prove their value. We also beg leave to subjoin the names of sureties for the sum of 5,000*l.* for the amount of the goods necessary to be retained in our houses of sale, &c.

We have again to request you will be pleased to appoint a special board; for the purpose of granting us an issue on the goods deposited, and the securities already entered into, and for the purpose of enabling us to redeem the remainder of our stock in the hands of factors, &c.; and of making other arrangements necessary to enable us to resume our business with spirit, at a season so well calculated as the present for effecting sales.

We shall be prepared by Monday to satisfy your solicitor respecting the various matters required by him to be done according to your instructions.

We are, Gentlemen, &c. &c.
(signed.) Nowlan, Shaw & Co.

To the Commissioners for the Relief of Trade.

1821: February 22d.—Names of proposed sureties for 500*l.* each.

John Dougherty, of Stephen's-green, in the city of Dublin, esq.; barrister at law, (one of the commissioners of inquiry).

William Harty, of Gloucester-street, in the city of Dublin, esq.; physician to the prisons, &c. &c.

Michael Donovan, of Townsend-street, in the city of Dublin; apothecary; (lecturer to the Apothecaries Hall).

Benjamin Barton, of Ballymack, in the county of Kilkenny, esq.

Edmond Fogerty, of the city of Cork; woollen draper.

Mathias Fogerty, of the city of Kilkenny; woollen draper.

William M^c Dougall, of Francis-street, in the city of Dublin; woollen draper).

Henry Taylor Budd, esq.; brother-in-law of Mr. M^c Dougall, and Captain in His Majesty's 60th regt. of foot.

Mathew Fogarty, of Kilkenny.

Resolved, That a letter be written to Mr. Secretary Gregory, informing him that the said firm have applied to the Board to vary the original mode of securing the loan applied for, by obtaining an additional sum of 5,000*l.* upon further personal security; instead of 15,000*l.* as originally proposed; and by securing a sum of 10,000*l.* only by a deposit of goods and that the Board considers the concurrence of the Lord Lieutenant requisite to such alteration.

1821: March 1st.—Pursuant to the Board's Minute of the 8th February last, the solicitor reports as follows, in the case of Messrs. Nowlan and Co.:

That the deed required by the Board to be executed by the representatives of the late Mark Harty has been perfected.

Also, That it appears by the deed of agreement executed by Messrs. Ryall and their trustees, laid before the Board by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw and Co. that debentures to the amount of 6,000*l.* have been handed to the said Messrs. Ryall, or their trustees; also, that the receipts of the several English creditors, mentioned in the statement heretofore laid before the Board, under date of 26th October 1820, have been obtained by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw and Co. except that of J. and R. Christie.

Also, That the deed proposed to be executed by Mr. Hemmings has been perfected. And it further appears by the deposition of Mr. Timothy Nowlan, one of the partners in said firm, that debentures amounting in the whole to the sum of 43,900*l.* have been issued and delivered by said firm, to sundry persons named and alluded to therein, and in a schedule to said deposition annexed.

And, That the bond proposed to be executed by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. and their sureties for securing a sum of 15,000*l.* has been executed, and is now laid before the Board.

Ordered, That a letter be written to Mr. Secretary Gregory, for the information of the Lord Lieutenant, stating that the Board has agreed to lend a sum of 30,000*l.* to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw & Co. to be repaid on the 10th July 1822, and to request his Excellency's approval.

A letter having been received from Mr. Secretary Gregory, in answer to that forwarded to him by order of the Board on last day of meeting, in consequence of an application on the the part of Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. to vary their securities to the extent of 5,000*l.* the same was read and ordered to be entered on the Minutes, and is as follows:

Dublin Castle, 26th February 1821.

Gentlemen,—Having submitted to the Lord Lieutenant your secretary's letter of the 22d instant, stating that Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. to whom the Board has agreed, on certain conditions, to grant a loan of 30,000*l.* viz. 15,000*l.* to be secured on a deposit of goods, and 15,000*l.* on personal security, have applied to the Commissioners to vary the said original mode of securing said loan; and have proposed, that instead of making a deposit to the extent before mentioned, an additional sum of 5,000*l.* should be advanced upon further personal security, and that a sum of 10,000*l.* only should be secured by a deposit of goods: I am to acquaint you that his Excellency approves of the additional sum of 5,000*l.* being advanced upon further personal security to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. provided you are fully satisfied of the validity of the security proposed.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c.

(signed) William Gregory.

Commissioners for the Relief of Trade.

1821: March 5th.—The Lord Lieutenant having by letter from Mr. Secretary Gregory to the Board, dated the 2d instant, approved of the term of repayment of the advance of 30,000*l.* agreed to be made to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. of the Merino Factory, near Kilkenny, and the Solicitor having reported that the security to the Crown for the sum of 15,000*l.* part of said sum of 30,000*l.* had been executed by them and their sureties;

Resolved, That a draft on the Bank for 15,000*l.* be now drawn in favour of said Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.; and accordingly a draft was drawn (N^o 38) and signed by the Chairman, Mr. Conolly, and Mr. M^o Donnell, and delivered to Mr. Timothy Nowlan, one of the partners of the said firm of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.

1821: March 15th.—The Sub-committee appointed upon the 26th of January last to procure the names of persons qualified to inspect and value the woollen goods sent into the Linen Hall by Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. submit, that Mr. Thomas Nowlan, of the firm of Nowlan, Briscoe, and Co. and Mr. Joseph Beasley, of Merchants Quay, will be proper persons for the purpose.

Resolved, That the said Mr. Thomas Nowlan and Mr. Joseph Beasley be requested to inspect and value said woollen goods, and report accordingly, at their earliest convenience, and that they make their valuation at a liberal wholesale price.

Ordered, That a letter be written to Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. informing them of the foregoing resolutions, and also to Messrs. Nowlan and Beasley, requesting they will appoint the earliest convenient time for making their valuation, and that the secretary do inform the store-keeper thereof, that he may attend and take charge of the goods as they shall be valued.

The Solicitor reported that he had made inquiries as directed by the Board, on the last day of meeting, respecting the circumstances of Messrs. Timothy Driscoll and Rodolphus Mortimer, proposed by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. as sureties, and that he has received such information as leads him to think they will be sufficient security for the respective sums for which they have been proposed, viz.

Mr. Driscoll	£. 1,000.
Mr. Mortimer	500.

And the bond being prepared and executed for securing the sum of 5,000*l.* being a further part of the 30,000*l.* agreed to be advanced to Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. on the following personal security, viz.

Robert Lanigan	£. 1,000
Timothy Driscoll	1,000
William Harty	1,000
John Dougherty	500
Nicholas Donovan	500
Benjamin Barton	500
Rodolphus Mortimer	500
	£. 5,000

Resolved, That a draft on the Bank for 5,000*l.* be now drawn in favour of said Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.; and accordingly a draft (N^o 39) was drawn, and signed by the Chairman, Mr. Guinness, and Mr. Crosthwaite, and delivered to Mr. Timothy Nowlan, one of the partners of said firm of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.

22d March 1821.—The solicitor having reported, that the bond to the Crown for 10,000*l.* collateral with a deposit of the goods to the amount of 20,017*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.* had been executed by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. and a schedule of said goods now deposited in the Linen Hall, and certified by Mr. George Rankin, storekeeper to the Board, being produced, and sworn to by Mr. Dougald Wainwright, book-keeper to said Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.

Resolved, That a draft on the bank for 10,000*l.* being the amount agreed to be advanced to them on a deposit of goods, be now drawn in favour of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. and accordingly a draft (N^o 41) was drawn and signed by the chairman, Mr. Hone, and Mr. Goff, and delivered to Mr. Timothy Nowlan, one of the said firm of Nowlan, Shaw, and Co.

Ordered, That Mr. Goddard be requested to confer with Mr. Corry, secretary to the Linen Board, as to the expediency of making insurance against fire on the woollen goods deposited in the Linen Hall, and to ascertain the party chargeable with the premium.

Ordered, That a letter be written to Messrs. Thomas Nowlan and Joseph Beasley, thanking them for having so readily complied with the wishes of the Board to value certain woollen goods deposited in the Linen Hall by Messrs. Nowlan, Shaw, and Co. and for the time and trouble they bestowed in this business.

APPENDIX.

Copy Opinion of the Attorney General referred to on page 4.

“ I AM of opinion, generally, that persons who cannot satisfy the Commissioners, or will not, of being possessed of funds ultimately sufficient to answer all demands against them, ought not to obtain loans. Still I should be of opinion, that persons who were carrying on a profitable manufacture, or any other useful and profitable business, though (if it should be discontinued) they might not have funds adequate to their existing engagements, still, if by a loan (for which others, who are sufficient, shall be ready to be security along with them) the Commissioners should be of opinion that a useful and productive business or manufacture could be kept on foot, from which it is probable that the person obtaining the loan would be enabled to discharge it, as well as to profit himself, the Commissioners would make a just application of a part of the fund committed to them in granting a loan in such cases (taking care always that the public should be safe) the loan being sufficiently secured.

“ I am also of opinion, that the Commissioners are fully warranted by the Act, and that it is their duty to ascertain, by examination on oath or affidavit, all such facts and matters as they shall in their discretion judge it necessary to be acquainted with, in order to satisfy themselves that the public money intrusted to their management will be properly and usefully, and at the same time safely, granted on loan, under the provisions of the Act of Parliament, to the persons who may apply for the same.”

The Church of Cloon is in progress, and it is expected will in due time be finished.

The Glebe House for Umma is now in progress. It has been unavoidably delayed by the death of the Incumbent, in whose time the grant for building it was made.

Headford Glebe House, although its completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board, it is very nearly finished; but as much of the expense of its erection is to be laid a charge upon the successor to the present Incumbent, which must be regulated by the value of the benefice; under the present depressed state of the times, when the Clergy in this diocese receive little or nothing of their lawful income, it would be impossible to certify it to the Board, without very great injury to the present Incumbent.

The Union of Headford consists of the followings parishes:—

Donaghpatrick	- - -	rectory and vicarage	- - -	4,226	acres.
Kilkiloevy	- - -	- d° - - -	- d° - - -	1,157	d°.

Kilmainbeg Glebe House is just finished; and its completion, it is expected, will very soon be certified to the Board.

Mohill Glebe House is just finished; and its completion, it is expected, will very soon be certified to the Board.

Drominaghan Glebe House is in progress.

The parishes of Arranmore, Arranby, Ennismain, and Ennisker, are islands in the Bay of Galway. The parishes of Ennisboffin is also an island in the County of Mayo.

The extent of this Union is very great, comprehending more than the whole district of Connamara. The present Incumbent does not enjoy an income of 200 l. per annum out of the whole, and the late Incumbent resigned it, and accepted a curacy of 80 l. per ann. If there could be had support for four ministers, they would be few enough for this great district.

DIOCESES OF CORK AND ROSS.

An Account of Churches and Glebe Houses, for erecting which Sums of Money have been advanced by way of Gift or Loan, and of which the completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board; together with the Reasons assigned for the Delay in their completion.

Date.	PARISH.	Sum Paid.	Reasons of Delay of Completion.
1820	Fanlobbus - - - -	£. 1,000	Loan for building a church:—built sufficiently.
1819	Abbey Stroury - - -	£. 300	Gift for building a church, which has not yet been commenced, the ground whereon it was intended to be built having, on digging for the foundation, been found so soft that one half of the sum granted for building the church would be wasted in laying a secure foundation. Another scite has been obtained from Mr. Townsend, whose illness for the present prevents the execution of the necessary deeds, but it is hoped that the building may proceed this spring and summer.
1821	Rathbarry - - - -	£. 600	Gift for building a church, which is now nearly completed by the care and munificence of Lord Carbery, at an expence far exceeding the amount of the gift from the Board, and will be consecrated in the ensuing spring.
1820	Temple Trine - - -	£. 618. 15s.	Loan for building glebe-house, which being now completed, a commission has issued for viewing it; on the return of which, the completion, &c. will be immediately certified.
	Kilmocomogue - - -	- - -	Loan for building a church, the shell of which has been completed long since; but the money is all exhausted, in consequence of the scite chosen being on ground where the founda- tion proved bad, and from other unforeseen difficulties; the Board, under their rules could not in better times make an additional loan, and now, from the impoverished state of the country, the interest of the loan made cannot be raised.

An Account of the Annual Value of the several Benefices, as certified to the Board of First Fruits in Ireland, under the Acts of 43 and 48 Geo. 3, for Loan or Gift of Money to assist Incumbent in erecting a Glebe House; together with a Statement of the number and extent of Parishes comprized therein, and whether such Parishes are contiguous or otherwise, whenever a benefice consisted of an union of two or more parishes; and also stating, whether such union has been formed by act of Council or episcopally, and at what period.

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS.

THE following Returns of the yearly values of these parishes at the time when the Glebe Houses were erected and finished, gives a very erroneous statement of the present incomes of the incumbents thereof; the values of such parishes, as well as others, having fallen from 40 l. to 60 l. per cent since the year 1813, insomuch that the payment of instalments of loans from the First Fruits, press heavily on incumbents. I have been well assured, that a benefice considered as the best in these dioceses, does not now produce more than 800 l. a year, though situated within four miles of the city of Cork.

The Board never make a loan or gift for building a glebe house to a greater amount than two years income of the single parish whereon such glebe house is to be erected, excepting parishes under 100 l. a year, and unions by act of Council; and no union by act of Council has been formed within these dioceses since the passing of the Acts of the 43d and 48th Geo. 3.

An Account of the Measures adopted by the Commissioners of First Fruits in Ireland, within the last twenty years, for effecting a more exact Valuation of the Benefices contributing thereto; and of including therein such Benefices as have not been valued for that purpose; as far as concerns said dioceses.

WHEN a beneficed clergyman proposes to build a glebe house, by the assistance of the Board, and has obtained his Diocesan's approbation of the measure, he presents a memorial to the Board, stating the annual value of the single parish whereon he proposes to build, and prays a loan and gift in proportion, which the Board generally grant on the representation contained in the memorial, sanctioned by the Bishop's name, without further inquiry at the time. But the loan is advanced by the Treasurer of the First Fruits by four instalments, the second and third of which are not paid until the expenditure of the preceding is certified by the Bishop (who generally requires an affidavit of the fact), and the fourth instalment, together with the gift granted for the encouragement of building, are withheld until a certificate, under the Ordinary's authentic seal, is produced to the treasurer; by which not only the whole expenditure, the completion of the building, and its fitness for the residence of the Incumbent, are ascertained, but also the annual value of the parish; which certificate the Ordinary never grants until the building has been inspected and examined by commissioners duly appointed and sworn, who from the examination of the Incumbent or others on oath, satisfy themselves of the value of the parish, of which value they duly make a return to the Bishop, who certifies accordingly. I do not know of, nor does there occur to me, a more effectual mode of ascertaining an exact valuation of such parishes; neither do I know on what authority the Board of First Fruits could obtain a knowledge of the annual value of parishes, other than those whereon Incumbents have built by their aid.

NO parishes have been united under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, from the 1st January 1818, within the said dioceses.

NO parishes have been disunited under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, since the 1st January 1818, in the said dioceses; the several parishes which have been disunited within these later years, having been so done by the Bishop's own authority.

An Account of all the Unions of Parishes now subsisting in the Dioceses of Cork and Ross, effected by episcopal authority; specifying the number of Parishes, whether Vicarages or Rectories, and the date of commencement of such Union, and the estimated extent of the Parishes so united, together with the name of the Bishop by whom such Union has been authorized.

NAMES OF PARISHES.	BISHOP BY WHOM AUTHORIZED.
Kilbrellan, prebend. Rathclarin, rectory and vicarage. Extent, 4 miles by 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles.	These parishes have been episcopally united from time immemorial. Bishop Bennett authorized the last union, in consideration of the very inconsiderable value of the prebend.
Kilnaglory, prebend. Athnowen, rectory and vicarage. Extent, 6 miles by 2 miles.	These parishes have been episcopally united for a great length of time. The last union authorized by Bishop Mann.
Moviddy, rectory and vicarage. Kilbonane, vicarage. Aglish, vicarage. Extent, 4 miles by 3 miles.	These parishes had been long united to the prebend of Ins-kenny. The last union was authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance, by whom they were severed from the prebend.
Garrynoe, rectory. Kilowney, rectory. These parishes are very small in extent and value, and are in the presentation of Lord Kinsale.	United as long as records reach. The union last authorized, at the request of the patron, by Bishop Stopford.
St. Mary Shandon. St. Catherine's, near Shandon. Within the city of Cork, and very small in extent.	The cure of souls of St. Catherine's appears by the earliest records of the diocese, to have been committed to the rector of St. Mary Shandon, and to have been so continued ever since. Such continuance last authorized by Bishop —
Rincurran, rectory and vicarage. Taxax, rectory.	In the presentation of the King, by whose commands the union of them was last authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance.
Kilmichael, rectory and vicarage. Macloneigh, rectory and vicarage. Estimated extent, 10 miles by 4 miles.	United for a great length of time. The last union authorized by Bishop Stopford.
Brinny, rectory and vicarage. Knockavilly, rectory. Estimated extent, 4 miles by 3 miles.	United immemorially. The last union authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance.

Kilgarruff, vicarage. Desert, vicarage. Kilkerran, vicarage. Ardfield, vicarage. Cáshurn Ventry, vicarage. Of these vicarages the rectories are inappropriate; the estimated extent of the whole is 6 miles by 7 miles.	These vicarages appear to have been always united with the prebend of the island. The last union authorized by Bishop Mann, 1786.
Lislee, rectory. Kilsillagh, rectory. The extent of these parishes, which surround the parish of Donoughmore, including the same, is about 4 miles by 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ mile.	Lislee and Kilsillagh are hardly separable; the latter, which is very small and inconsiderable, being included within the former. The last union authorized by the Primate, when Bishop of Cork and Ross.

NAMES OF PARISHES.	BISHOP BY WHOM AUTHORIZED.
Myross, rectory. Kilmacabea, vicarage. Kilfaughnabeg, vicarage. The rectories are inappropriate.	Have been united for above a century. The last union authorized by the present Bishop of Cork and Ross.
Aghadown, vicarage. Kilcoe, vicarage. Clear, vicarage. The rectories are inappropriate. Aghadown and Kilcoe are in extent about 5 miles square. Clear is a well known island in the Atlantic.	Were last united by the authority of Bishop Mann.
Kilaconenagh, vicarage. Kilkatern, rectory. Kilmanagh, rectory. The extent of these parishes is unknown, as they consist in great islands, and of rocky and barren promontories and headlands, running into the Atlantic ocean, thinly inhabited, and separately insufficient to support a clergyman.	Have been united for a great length of time. The last union authorized by the present Bishop.

An Account of the Churches and Glebe Houses, for erecting which Sums of Money have been advanced by way of Gift or Loan, and of which the completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board; together with the Reasons assigned for the Delay in their completion, wherever unforeseen Delay has existed.

OFFERELANE, a rectory and vicarage. The building of a glebe-house was commenced by the predecessor of the present Incumbent, who died, leaving the same in an unfinished state; in which condition it is likely the buildings must remain, as from the ineligibility of the site and other local circumstances attending the buildings, the Diocesan could not certify the same as a fit, convenient and eligible residence for the Incumbent and his successors.

SKEIRKE, a vicarage. A glebe-house was commenced, but not near finished, by the predecessor of the present Incumbent, who declines finishing the same, in consequence of the misapplication of the greater part of the money granted by the Commissioners of First Fruits to his predecessor, who died insolvent.

An Account of the several Benefices in the Diocese of Ossory, for which Applications have been made, under the 43d and 48th Geo. 3, for a Loan or Gift of Money, to assist the Incumbent in erecting a Glebe House; together with a Statement of the Number and estimated Extent of the Parishes comprized therein; and whether such Parishes are contiguous or otherwise, whenever the Benefice consisted of an Union of two or more Parishes; and also stating, whether such Union had been formed by an act of Council or episcopally, and at what Period.

AGHAVOE consists of one parish, about eight miles in length, and three miles in breadth.

OFFERELANE, one parish; it extends about nine miles in length, from north to south; and the same in breadth, from east to west. It comprehends a great range of the Slieve-Bloom mountains, stretching from east to west about seven miles in length, and which land is too barren to be cultivated, and is not inhabited.

SKEIRKE, one parish; it extends about three miles from north to south, and about two miles from east to west.

KILFANE UNION consists of three parishes; they are contiguous to each other. The benefice is about two miles and one half in length, and averages one mile in breadth. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1676.

DUNGARVAN, one parish; it is about two miles in length from north to south, and about two miles and an half in breadth from east to west.

THOMASTOWN UNION consists of three parishes; they lie all contiguous. The benefice is about one mile and three quarters in length, and half a mile in breadth. They were united by act of Council in the year 1803.

KILMOGANNY, one parish.

FIDDOWN UNION consists of four parishes; they all lie contiguous to each other. The extent of the Union from east to west is about five miles; and from north to south, about four miles. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1689.

ENNISNAG, one parish; it extends about two miles from north to south, and one mile and an half from east to west.

RATHSARAN, one parish; it extends from north to south about half a mile; from east to west, about a mile.

BURNCHURCH UNION consists of eight parishes, several of which ought rather to be denominated town-lands, being so extremely small. They are interspersed through the county of Kilkenny; many of them are contiguous; those that are not so, are distant from five to eight miles. The estimated extent of the Union north of Kilkenny, is about ten square miles; and the extent of that portion south of Kilkenny, is about twelve square miles. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1678. The Diocesan knows not how they can be disunited, till the entire charge on the glebe house has been paid.

RATHDOWNEY UNION consists of three parishes; they are contiguous. The extent of the Union is about one mile and an half from north to south, and about five miles from east to west. Rathdowney and Glashare united by act of Council in the year 1740; Kildelgy was episcopally united thereto by the present Diocesan.

KILLERMOGH, one parish; it extends about one mile from east to west, and about half a mile from north to south.

CASTLANE alias WHITECHURCH, one parish; it extends about one mile from north to south, and about half a mile from east to west.

DUNKIT UNION consists of four parishes; they are all contiguous. The extent of the Union is about four miles from north to south, and three miles from east to west. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1711.

KILMACOW, one parish; it extends from north to south better than three miles, and from east to west about two miles.

CLONMORE UNION consists of two parishes; they are contiguous to each other. The benefice extends about one mile and a half in length from north to south, and about one mile in breadth from east to west. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1821.

LISTERLIN, one parish; it extends about three miles from north to south, and about one mile and an half from east to west.

ROSBERCON UNION consists of six parishes; they are all contiguous, with the exception of one, which is distant from the others about one mile. The extent of the Union from north to south, is about seven miles; and from east to west, about three miles. These parishes were united by act of Council prior to the year 1686. This Union produces but little emolument, and is very mountainous.

DUNMORE UNION consist of three parishes. The parish of Dunmore is distant from the others about two miles. The estimated extent of the Union is about three miles in length from north to south, and about one mile and an half in breadth from east to west. They were united by act of Council, but cannot say at what period.

COMER, one parish, extends about five miles from north to south, and about four miles from east to west.

MOTHEL UNION consists of three parishes; they are contiguous to each other, and extend about eight miles in length, and about three miles and an half in breadth. These parishes have been episcopally united time immemorial by the respective Bishops of Ossory.

KILLAMERY, one parish; the extent of this parish, from east to west, is about four miles, and from north to south about two miles.

EIRKE, one parish; it extends about four miles from north to south, and about three miles from east to west.

SAINT MARY'S, one parish, situate within the city of Kilkenny.

An Account of all Unions of Parishes now subsisting, effected by Episcopal Authority; specifying the Number of Parishes, and whether Vicarages or Rectories, and the Date of Commencement of such Union; and the estimated Extent of the Parishes so united, with the Name of the Bishop by whom such Union has been authorized.

AGHOUR UNION, consisting of eight parishes, viz. the prebend or prebendal church of Aghour; the rectories and vicarages of Clomanta and Kilrush; the rectories of Clashacrow and Rathbea; the vicarages of Tubbridbretani, Sheffin, Clontubbrid, Coolcashion and Ballymenard. They are contiguous to each other. The estimated extent of each is from one mile and less, to one mile and an half; the extent of the entire Union from north to south is about seven miles, and from east to west about eight miles. The rectories and vicarages of Clomanta and Kilrush, the rectories of Clashacrow and Rathbea, and the vicarage of Tubbridbretani, have been united from time immemorial; but when, or by what authority, cannot state, as the records of the diocese do not afford any information on the subject. In the year 1782, the other rectories and vicarages, together with the prebend of Aghour, were episcopally united to the former by the then Lord Bishop of Ossory.

RATHDOWNEY UNION consists of three parishes, viz. the rectory and vicarage of Rathdowney, and the rectories of Glashare and Kildelgy, otherwise Kildellig; they are contiguous to each other. The extent of the Union is about one mile and an half from north to south, and about five miles from east to west. Rathdowney and Glashare have been united by act of Council since the year 1740; Kildelgy was episcopally united thereto by the present Diocesan, not being of itself of sufficient value to afford comfort to an Incumbent.

KILCULLIHEEN and MUCKALLEE, two parishes, rectories and vicarages; they are distant one from the other, about eight miles. Kilcullihéen extends about three miles from north to south, and one mile from east to west. Muckallee extends about two miles from north to south, and one mile from east to west. These parishes have been united time immemorial; but cannot state by what authority, as the records of the Diocese afford no information on the subject.

MOTHEL UNION consists of three parishes, viz. the rectories and vicarages of Mothel Kilmodumioige and Kilderry. The parishes of Mothel and Kilmodumioige join each other, and extend about six miles from north to south, and about two miles from east to west. Kilderry is only divided from the other two by a townland of about one mile in extent; it is about two miles in length, and one mile and an half in breadth. These parishes have been episcopally united time immemorial by the respective Bishops of Ossory.

INNISTIOGE UNION consists of two parishes, viz. the vicarage of Innistioige and the prebend or prebendal church of Cloneamery; they are in extent, about six miles in length, and about four miles and an half in breadth. They are episcopally united.

ROSINAN UNION consists of three parishes, viz. the vicarages of Rosinan, Kilbeacon and Kilalahy; they are in extent, about six miles in length, and about four miles and an half in breadth. These parishes are episcopally united; they, together with the vicarage of Innistioige and the prebend or prebendal church of Cloneamery, had been for time immemorial episcopally united, and constituted one benefice, but have lately been disunited by the present Diocesan.

An Account of any Measures which may have been adopted by the Commissioners of First Fruits in Ireland, within the last twenty years, for effecting a more exact Valuation of the Benefices contributing thereto; and including therein such Benefices as have not heretofore been valued for that purpose.

THE Diocesan is not aware of any measures which have been adopted by the Commissioners of First Fruits within the period, and for the purposes above-mentioned.

An Account of the several Parishes which have been united under the Authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, from the first day of January 1818; specifying the Date of such Orders of Council, and the Names of the Parishes united, and the Diocese in which they are situated.

ATLANA UNION consists of the vicarages of Attier alias Atlanagh, and Aharney; the rectory and vicarage of Kilmenan; and the rectory of Rossconnell. They were united by act of Council some time in the year 1818.

CLONMORE UNION consists of two parishes, viz. the rectories and vicarages of Clonmore and Ballytarsney. They are contiguous to each other, and extend about one mile and an half in length from north to south, and about a mile in breadth from east to west. They were united by act of Council in the year 1821.

An Account of the several Parishes which have been disunited, under the Authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, from the first day of January 1818; specifying the Date of such Orders of Council, and the Names of the Parishes disunited in this Diocese.

NO parishes have been disunited within this Diocese, under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, within the period above-mentioned.

The Case of CLONFERT stands thus:

The incumbent to whom the £. 1,125 was paid, died insolvent before the building was completed. His successor has called upon the securities to finish the buildings, which they have refused. The case has been submitted to counsel, and an action at law ordered against the securities of the deceased insolvent.

1.—MANOR HAMILTON CHURCH

Is finished; but as there were some faults in the building, I would not certify it built sufficiently.

2.—URNEY CHURCH:

The building of this church was left to the management of the vicar; the money was expended; the accounts tried before the parish, and sanctioned by them. Whether the expenditure was well managed, I cannot say; but the church is not finished sufficiently. Service has been performed in it by my licence for some years; and I have reason to think the church will be finished this summer.

3.—CARRIGALLEN CHURCH:

The delay in this church is owing to the failure of two contractors, and a law-suit in consequence; the money borrowed was expended on the church; the parishioners are finishing it by assessments, and they inform me it will be finished this year. Service is performed in the new church.

4.—TEMPLEPORT CHURCH:

The money borrowed has been expended; and the building is finished, all but part of the tower and spire. The parishioners depended on subscription for part of the money, and they failed: however, they are raising the money to finish it by assessment, and they expect to be able to do so either this year, or at farthest the next. Service is performed in the new church by licence.

5.—KILLESHER CHURCH

Is built; but as much damp came into the tower, I would not certify it built sufficiently till that was remedied.

6.—DRUMGOON CHURCH

Was finished well, and taken off the hands of the builder; but before the year expired, the roof spread, and the walls were pushed out. The plan of the roof was given by the late Mr. Bowden, the architect of the Board; and, from every inquiry I could make from architects and builders, I am convinced the fault was in the plan. Service is still performed in it; and the walls that are injured will be rebuilt, and the Church new roofed, during the summer.

7.—LURGAN CHURCH:

This church was nearly finished; but was much injured by the storm on the eve of the 5th of last December, which has caused the delay in finishing: it will be finished early in the summer.

Any further information I can give, is given by me in my returns to the House of Commons.

GEORGE KILMORE.

12.—CITY OF DUBLIN.

Customs of the Gates belonging to the City of Dublin.

At a Post Assembly, held at the Tholsel of the City of Dublin, on Monday, the 13th day of June 1763; the following Order was conceived relative to the under-mentioned Docket, to wit.

That from and after the 24th day of June 1763, all goods and merchandizes that are really the property of any freeman of this city, do pass custom free, into and out of the city, provided such freeman do certify to the collectors of the customs, the quantity and quality of such goods, and that they are his property; that if any freeman of this city shall presume, after the said 24th of June, to certify that any goods are his property, which are actually the property of any other person not free of this city, in order to defraud this city or their farmers, of the customs of such goods, such freeman to be proceeded against by the city agent, as Mr. Recorder shall advise, in order to his being disfranchised for such fraud and breach of oath.

And it is further ordered, That from and after the said 24th day of June, all raw hides going out of this city, to any of the adjacent liberties to be tanned, shall be free from custom going out. That bark going out of any of the adjacent liberties to be made use of for tanning, shall likewise be free; that all iron going out to the several mills near the city to be manufactured, and returning into this city manufactured, shall be likewise free from custom; that all salt manufactured in Ireland shall be free from any custom; that all goods going to be manufactured, and the materials made use of therein, shall be free from custom, if they are to be returned to this city manufactured; and that the committee be empowered to regulate the docket accordingly.

Arthur D'Esterre,
D^y Cl. Peace, Co. Limerick.

Kilmallock, May 18, 1823.

I have never heard of any return being made, or that it was necessary to make one to the clerk of the peace for the county of Limerick, of the tolls paid in the town of Kilmallock.

The weigh-master, Mr. Henry M'Connel, receives 6½d. per load for any corn that may be weighed by him, which, on an average of 7 years, does not exceed 100 loads.

The fairs have been only lately re-established, and as yet no tolls, &c. paid; when they shall be, it is intended they shall be similar to those now paid in Charleville, the next town of any note.

Chas D. Oliver, Town Clerk.

Diocese Cloyne.

(6).—DIOCESES OF CORK AND ROSS.

IN the dioceses of Cork and Ross there are seventy-four benefices, of which six are sinecures, and nine small noncures, without churches or glebe-houses, the income, of which are insufficient to support resident clergymen. In these dioceses however there are, according to the Reports made previous to visitations, fifty parish-schools, kept and supported at the expense of the respective beneficiaries, and probably others not notified. It appears also, from the registry of the dioceses, that twenty-five private schools have been licensed, many of which are supported by voluntary subscriptions. There are in the city of Cork several schools supported by charitable donations, and bequests with the funds or economy of which I have no means of becoming acquainted. The number of scholars in the different schools I have no means of acquiring a knowledge of.

Remark of the minister of these parishes:—"THERE are several small country schools kept occasionally by itinerant masters, which, having no permanency, I omit to mention; the only one which can be said to be stationary is the general parish-school, supported here by the usual grant from the vicar of 2 l. annually, and a voluntary donation of 1 l. from the rector, together with what is paid by the parents of the children, which altogether amounts to so trifling a sum as not to ensure the attendance of a master for any length of time."

Remarks of the minister of the parish:—"The inhabitants almost exhausted and racked out. It may appear somewhat extraordinary that the income by the scholars of each school before mentioned is so small; but it is a well known fact that not more than two thirds of the scholars attending each school, or any country school, are able to pay for their instruction; and many of the schoolmasters of this country, and I suppose in other places as well as here, live on scanty fare; sometimes going with their pupils occasionally from house to house, and sometimes actually in a state of starvation, especially in hard times.—
This I have seen, and know to be perfectly true.

Return of AGHALEE School:—The number of scholars last year was about 30.—No fund for the support of said school, but 40*s.* allowed to the master by the Rev. Mr. Fletcher; the annual income of it on an average is about 25*l.* no expenditure, but some trifle collected of the parish for the repairs of the schoolhouse.

Return of AGHADERG School:—In the village of Scarva, near the borders of this parish, there is a school established under the society for educating the poor of Ireland; there are at present attending the male part of this school, 47 children, and the female, 33.—There are no funds for its support; and the salaries of the master and mistress arise from the donations of John L. Reilly, Esq. and the payments made by the scholars.

Return of CLONDUFF School:—About 30 children attended the school during the last year, each of whom pay 2*s.* 6*d.* quarterly; this sum, with the addition of 2*l.* a year, paid by the vicar of the parish, constitute the whole income of the schoolmaster; as to the expenditure, there is none; the repairs of the schoolhouse, when required, are made by the parishioners.

Return of DROMARA School:—The parish-school of Dromara is held in the church; the master is Hugh Carrothers; the number of scholars for the last year have varied from 45 to 55, who are only charged 2*s.* a quarter, the remainder of the master's salary, and his diet and lodging, being provided by the Rector, as there are no public funds or other allowance; there is no expenditure except of a very trifling nature for books.

Return of DONAGHCLONEY School:—It is not supported, independently of the payments made by the scholars, by any fund, except an annual allowance of two guineas, made by the hon. and rev. Archdeacon Meade, the rector.—This school is superintended by William Warren, the parish-clerk, who has at present 40 pupils; of these, 20 are taught spelling and reading, and 20 writing and arithmetic; they consist of 29 males, and 11 females; of whom 26 belong to the established church, and 14 are Presbyterians.

Return of DONAGHMORE School:—The average number of children for the last year has been 55, whose education is paid by their parents, having no fund whatever.—The school has obtained a grant of salary from the association for discountenancing vice, and received one half year's amount, 5*l.* ending the last day of June.

Return of DRUMGOOLAND School:—No endowment; 2*l.* per annum paid by the rector of the parish to the master; the average number of scholars is about 50.—Besides this school, there are six others in the parish, without any endowment of any kind, except the schoolhouse.

Return of DRUMBALLYRONEY School:—No endowment; 2*l.* per annum paid by the vicar; the average number is about 60.—There are also six, and sometimes seven, schools in this parish, without any endowment of any kind except the schoolhouse.

Return of SHANKHILL School:—The children taught gratis; contains about 120 boys and 90 girls; supported by a grant from Erasmus Smith's funds of 30*l.* per annum for the master, and 30*l.* for the mistress; also by subscriptions averaging about 40*l.* per annum, and an annual charity sermon, giving about 50*l.* per annum; these latter sums are expended in repairs, books, &c. and about 150 or 160 are clothed.

Return of MOIRA School:—Built on an acre of ground, given in perpetuity by Sir Robert Bateson, bart.—The master's dwelling-house consists of one sitting-room, 19 feet by 11 feet 8 inches; two bed-rooms, one 12 feet by 11 feet 8 inches, the other 11 feet 8 inches by 6 feet 8 inches : and a closet, 10 feet by 4; the school-room is 5 feet by 19 feet.—The master's salary is 15*l.* per annum, from the association for discountenancing vice, and the children also pay the master 4*s.* 2*d.* 2*s.* 6*d.* and 1*s.* per quarter, according to their circumstances, which payments amounted, for the last year, to nearly 20*l.* the children also provide their own books, stationery, &c.—It appears that the average number of children in daily attendance from November till April inclusive, is 38, and during the six summer months is 57.

Return of MAGHERADROLL School:—Name of the master John Turner; number of scholars 26; Protestants 8, Dissenters 16, Roman Catholics 2, total 26.—Master's income arising from the school, paid by the children, 24*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.*; deduct rent of schoolhouse 9*l.* 2*s.* remains 15*l.* 16*s.* 4*d.* For the half year ending 30th June, 1822, association granted 4*l.*—There is neither land nor schoolhouse belonging at present to the parish; the land that had been granted to schoolmaster was alienated 22 years ago, and has remained so ever since.

Return of MARALIN School:—Schoolhouse built on an acre of ground granted for that purpose by the Lord Bishop of Dromore.—The master's dwelling consists of two rooms upon the ground floor; the one 16 feet by 16, the other 10 by 16, with two rooms on the second story, one 16 by 16, the other 10 by 16.—The boys schoolroom is 30 feet by 16; the girls (in part erected) is to be of the same dimensions, and both joined to the dwelling-house.—The master receives 15*l.* per annum from the association for discountenancing vice; the funds for providing articles for stationery and repair of the house, are furnished by the scholars, most of whom pay one penny per week.—The average expenditure for paper, pens, ink, and pencils, might be about 3*l.* per annum.—The average number of scholars on the registry, during the last year, was 80; the average daily attendance through the spring and summer months, about 61, the winter months not more than 45.—The annual income of the school from the paying scholars is very fluctuating, depending much upon the circumstances of the parents, none being rejected from poverty; still the payments have hitherto more than met the expenditure.

Return of MAGHERAHAMLIT School:—The school is held in a cabin for the present, but it is supported by no fund; a schoolhouse is expected to be built before winter.

Return of SEAPATRICK School:—The schoolhouse and the dwelling-house for the master, &c. were built by contribution aided by a donation, on an acre of land granted for ever, rent free, by the present incumbent; there are a master, and a mistress, who instruct the females in needle-work; their salary is 15*l.* from the association, and 1*s.* 7½*d.* per quarter from each scholar; the average number of children are from 69 to 136.

Return of TULLYLISH School:—During the year ending 21st March 1822, William McCoy, schoolmaster, average number of pupils attending first six months 14, at 5*s.* per quarter, 91 at 2*s.* 6*d.* in all 14*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* from association 6*l.* Average second six months, 24 at 2*s.* 6*d.* per quarter; 44 at 1*s.* 8*d.* per quarter, in all 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* From association 4*l.* the vicar pays per annum, 2*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* private subscriptions, 17*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.* making 19*l.* 6*s.* 9*d.*

Return of ANACLONE School:—Schoolmaster of Anacclone parochial school receives forty shillings per annum from the rector of the parish; keeps a daily school of about 20 scholars, from whom he receives a small but uncertain pittance; he also superintends the Sunday-school, at which about 80 scholars are in general present; the former held in his own house, the latter in the church; no public schoolhouse in the parish.—Schoolmaster's name James Cuddy.

Return of CLONALLON School:—The funds appropriated to its support, from the rector, forty shillings; the name of the schoolmaster, John Graham; the condition of the schoolhouse very good; the average number of children in attendance 50; the rates charged for tuition, for reading, quarterly, 5*s.*; writing and accounts 8*s.* 1½*d.*; mathematics, 1*l.* 2*s.* 9*d.*

Return of DRUMGATH School:—There are no funds for the parish-school of Drumgath; the incumbent pays annually to its support the sum of two pounds; schoolmaster's name is Hugh Toal, formerly John Millar; the house for the school is a neat thatched cabin in townland of Ballykell, almost central to the parish; number of children average about 50; rates of tuition, reading 2*s.* 1*d.* per quarter; writing and arithmetic 2*s.* 6*d.* per quarter.

Return of GARVAGHY Parochial School:—The vicar of the parish allocated one acre and an half of glebe land for the use of the schoolmaster, upon which stands a thatched cabin, one end of which serves for a schoolhouse, and the other for the residence of the master. The schoolhouse is situate near the gate of the church. In addition to this small endowment of land the vicar pays the schoolmaster forty shillings yearly, who has no other salary except what he derives from the small payments of the scholars; the average number attending the daily school is about 35, from whom the master derives about 15*l.* yearly. At present there are in attendance 4 boys, engaged in writing and arithmetic, at 4*s.* 4*d.* per quarter; 10 in reading and writing, at 3*s.* 4*d.* per quarter, and 20 in spelling and reading, at 2*s.* 8½*d.* per quarter; but the parents of many of these are poor, and unable to pay. The schoolhouse is open on Sundays, before and after divine service, to all children of the parish who will attend. In general the number of Sunday-scholars is from 40 to 60.—The name of the present schoolmaster is James Stewart.

Return of MAGHERALLY School:—There is not, nor ever was, an endowed school in the parish of Magherally. William Simpson, vicar.

Return of MOYNTAGHS School:—Schoolmaster of Moyntaghs parochial school receives forty shillings per annum from the vicar of the parish; keeps a daily school, at which about 10 scholars attend, from whom he receives one penny per week each; he also superintends the Sunday-school, at which about 120 children attend.—There is a small schoolhouse within the confines of the church-yard; a resident gentleman of the parish gives the schoolmaster a house and four acres of land rent free; he is also parish-clerk; his name is John McComb.

Return of KILBRONEY School:—No regular parish-school; the clerk indeed has long kept a school of a very inferior description. And I believe he has been considered the parish schoolmaster, but I cannot say whether he is licensed, nor would I recommend that he should, because I consider him wholly incompetent for such a situation. There are several schools in the parish, but none of them can supply the place of an efficient parish-school, placed under the superintendence of the clergyman.

Return of DROMORE School:—The parish-school of Dromore was built in the year 1817; it contained in the year 1821, 70 scholars.—The funds for the support of the school for 1821 were from the association for discountenancing vice, 15*l.*; tuition-money paid by the pupils 12*l.*; contributed by the Bishop of Dromore 18*l.* 10*s.*; there is also a dwelling-house for the master, with an acre of ground, which is equivalent to 10*l.* a year.—Amount of income for the year 1821, 55*l.* 10*s.* Amount of expenditure for the year 1821, master's salary 45*l.* 10*s.*; house and land belonging to the master 10*l.*, total 55*l.* 10*s.*—There are altogether 18 schools in the parish of Dromore, in which about 650 children are educated; sixteen of these schools are independent of any society, and are supported entirely by the tuition-money paid by the pupils. The amount of each master's income does not exceed on an average 10*l.*; the population of the parish is between 14,000 and 15,000.

James McCreight, Curate of Dromore, February 17th, 1823.

I hereby certify that in the foregoing abstract is contained a true copy of the returns made by the respective clergy of the diocese of Dromore, of the state of their several parochial schools, pursuant to the order made by the House of Commons on the 10th day of July 1822; of which returns the originals are preserved in the diocesan registry.

Number of schools returned in the dioceses

Scholars

In all the reports returned there seems to have been schools established in all those parishes ; but that owing to the great hostility evinced by the clergy of the roman catholic church against the holy scriptures, they have been almost entirely put down.

Schoolhouse built by incumbent, at his own expense, on a lease from the bishop, but not perpetual; fund arises from the scholars, to which incumbent contributes.—There is also another school in the union; the house built at the sole expense of Sir Francis Le Hunte, who pays the master 30 l. yearly; incumbent contributes 5 l. yearly.—The number of scholars, protestant and catholic, about 60.
Report of the Rev. Frederick Draffen, incumbent of the Parish of Ardcolme, in the diocese of Ferns, in answer to inquiries made by order of government, respecting parish-schools, and transmitted to him by Thomas Bridson, esq. registrar of that diocese.
There are two schoolhouses in this parish, one only open at present for education.
This house was built by Francis Le Hunte, Esq. a parishioner, at his own expense, on four acres of ground, in that part of the parish where there are the greatest number of protestant inhabitants, and opened in January 1818.
The school-room is well laid out, and admits with convenience 60 scholars, which number were for the last year, and are at present, on the establishment.—Of these 60, 23 are roman catholics.
The schoolmaster, (a member of the established church) beside the accommodation of a dwelling, grass for a cow, and other smaller benefits, has a yearly salary of 30 l. paid to him by Mr. Le Hunte, aided only by a few subscriptions, amounting to the sum of 14 l. five of which are contributed by the incumbent of the parish.
Beside the usual course of reading, writing, and arithmetic, taught in the school, the holy scriptures of the Old and New Testament are read, and familiarly explained; no catechism is used, lest it should prevent those of the catholic persuasion from sending their children. The children children of protestant parents, however, are regularly instructed in the church catechism by the incumbent or his curate, from Whitsuntide to Michaelmas in each year.

The other house was built by the incumbent, in the year 1814, at his own expense, in the village where the parish church is situated, having a rear of a few perches of ground for a garden, running in a line parallel to the fence of the church-yard; it consists of two stories, was built with the same materials as required for glebe-houses, and calculated to receive from scholars; for some time it was occupied by the parish-clerk, but he having been found on trial insufficient as a teacher, has lately been removed from the situation.

The income of the incumbent having, on an average of the last five years, suffered a reduction of more than one fourth of its former annual produce, he solicits for one year from government a grant of 15*l.* which sum, added to an equal contribution from himself, would enable him to engage a teacher duly qualified; the grant to be continued according as the report of the incumbent shall represent; the state of the school to be such as to claim the further attention of government.

Dublin 8, Molesworth Street,
13th Sept. 1822.

The foregoing are the only Returns in my power to make to your letter, as I understand some of the clergy having mistaken the purport of the letter I sent them, have, instead of sending their Return to me, sent some with a duplicate to you. I also understand there are several hedge-schools kept in several of the parishes by persons who can scarcely spell or read.

There are several schools kept in Wexford besides the diocesan-school, which are not considered as parish-schools.

Applications for assistance to build a schoolhouse have been made to the association, with an offer from the minister of a portion of his glebe for a site; refused from want of funds. (No. 16.)—DIOCESES OF LIMERICK, ARDFERT, AND AGHADOE.

NAME Of Parish.	N ^o of Scholars in 1821.	FUNDS From whence the School is maintained.	Annual Income.	Expenditure.
Kilmallock - - - Rev. Jas. Ellard, Curate.	Protestants - 9 Rom. Cath. - 4 13	From the association for discountenancing vice - £. 4 Subscription - 10	£. s. d. - - - 14 - -	£4. yearly for a temporary school-house, and for school-books, by the Rev. James Ellard the curate.
Remarks: —The number of roman catholic children is now much increased, consisting of upwards of forty, and would increase considerably if there was a good schoolhouse. The curate has been obliged to give the corporation castle (where the school had been kept) for a guard-house, and to take a very inconvenient house for school and school-master at his own expense.
Kilcornan - - - Rev. Francis Langford, Rector.	Protestants - 13 Rom. Cath. - 29 42	The school is maintained by John Waller, esq. of Castletown, in the county Limerick.	£. 15 - -	All necessary charges, if any extra charges above the 15 £, is paid by Mr. Waller.
Remarks: —A piece of ground has been procured from Richard Taylor, esq. in the centre of the parish, on which the Rector intends to commence building a new school-house early in, and for which he has already been promised 50 l. subscriptions.
Adare - - - Rev. Jas. W. Graves, Curate.	Protestants 157 Rom. Cath. - 24 181	The school has been founded and patronized by the honourable Mrs. Wyndham Quin, (now Lady Adare,) and derives no other support or assistance from any public body.	Lady Adare £. pays the school-master per annum - 30 The vicar - 2 32	None, except what Lady Adare pays for occasional repairs of schoolhouse.

Remarks:—The school has increased in number since 1821. There are at present on the books 207; and till within the last fortnight the roman catholics were 35: but on the day of the visitation of the roman catholic bishop there was so strong a censure passed on the parents who sent their children to the school, that most of them have been withdrawn. But still there are 7 of them in regular attendance, and the curate hopes the number will increase; for many of the people have publicly declared that their children were better instructed at the protestant school, than any other school in the neighbourhood.

Incumbent provides books, paper, slates, &c. at his own expense.
Remarks:—The incumbent gives a house and piece of ground rent free.
Kilfinnane - - - Rev. Jas. Ellard, Vicar	Protestants - 86 Rom. cath. - 126	By parish cess, yearly By Rich. Rent of school-house and repairs.
The school has been increasing for years past, but is much in want of desks, books, and forms.
St. Patrick, district of Kilquane. Rev. Wm. Maunsell, Curate.	40	Donation by the rector per annum - - - Paid by the children, d ^o	10 - - 2 - - 12 - -	Schoolmaster's salary.
There is a schoolhouse much wanted; the master teaching in his own house. There have been but two protestant children in the school this last year.
Ardcanny - - - Rev. S. Jones, Rector	Protestants - 27 Rom. cath. - 8 35	No funds. The master receives a small sum per quarter from the children.	In 1821, about £. 5	None.
There was some years ago a large school containing 160 children, but it failed for want of a good schoolhouse and funds to support the master and mistress. The association for discountenancing vice granted 15 l. a year to assist the master, and a house was built on the border of the parish, and sufficiently convenient for 120 children. The association afterwards withdrew this grant.
Nantinan - - - Rev. J. Warburton, Rector.	Protestants - 67 Rom. cath. - 6	No funds. The children pay by the quarter.	None.	None.

DIOCESE OF ARDFERT AND AGHADOE.

Tralee	-	-	-	150	A yearly grant of 30 l. from the board of Erasmus Smith, together with private subscriptions.	£. 65	30 l. for master's salary. 15 l. for the mistress. 20 l. for house-rent.
Ed. M. Denny, rector.
Remarks:—There are at present but 83 children in the school, 48 of whom are Protestants, the remaining 35 are roman catholics. The diminution in the number of children since 1821 is to be attributed to the interference of the roman catholic clergy, who, though every precaution is taken against any interference with the religious principles of their persuasion, have succeeded in withdrawing many of them from the school. Aid for the erection of a school-house is much wanting, as from great arrears in private subscriptions it is found impossible to continue to pay the present heavy house-rent, and the depressed state of the times prevent the parishioners from contributing.
Killorglin	-	-	-	Protestants - 15	No fund or endowment save the encouragement given by the incumbent.	There is no annual income or donation, nor are the resident gentry likely to co-operate in forming one.	From the statement here given, the expenditure may be easily ascertained.

A moiety of Killorglin is impropriate to Lord Ventry, who contributes nothing to the maintenance of the school.

Kilcoleman - - - Rev. Robert Hewson.	Protestants - 25 Rom. cath. - 15 40	Entirely by private sub- scriptions.	£. s. d. Uncertain.	30 l. per annum master's salary.
Remarks:—The school is kept in the Meeting-house at present, it was, previous to the last winter, held in the Session-room, which was fitted up for that purpose; last winter it was turned into a guard-room, and afterwards into a store. There is 50l. in the hands of trustees for apprenticing protestant children.
Bally M ^c Elligott - Rev. Ed. Nash, curate.	Protestants - 45 Rom. cath. - 16 61	No funds, the master has 8 l. a year from the association for discountenancing vice; 5 l. from the rector, and 1 l. from the curate, besides private subscriptions.	No income to the school. The master gets what is stated. In 1821 he got 20 l. 3 s. 4 d. besides a gratuity of 4 l. from the association for discountenancing vice for good conduct.	None.
The present school-house was built by subscription; it is too small, and would want very much to be enlarged; there is a great want of books in the school. The school-house is thatched, and much out of repair, having no fund to keep it up, which would be obviated if it was slated. The children in general are in great want.
Listowell - - - Rev. M. Hewson, curate.	School was established 28th Feb. 1822, there is at present on the books 165.	A salary of 8 l. , and 4 l. premium per annum for the master from the association for discountenancing vice. A grant of 11 l. worth of books and school requisites, from the Kildare-street association, and 2 l. per year subscription,	14 - -	£. s. Rent of house - 5 - Master's salary 12 - Sundry repairs 3 - £. 20 -
The school is at present in its infancy, and from the impossibility of getting adequate subscriptions is in a very imperfect state, and the curate is very often accountable for more expenditure than he has funds to meet.
Anna - - - Rev. Pierce Goold.	Protestants - 10 Rom. cath. - 40 50	The governors of the funds bequeathed by the late Erasmus Smith.	30 - -	30 l.
The number of scholars in the beginning of this year was 100, it reduces sometimes from 25 to 30: the alteration arises from the interference of the roman catholic priesthood.
Kilnaughtin - - Rev. Austin Martin, curate.	A school on the foundation of Erasmus Smith; curate of the parish, master, with a teacher under him. Protestants - 43 Rom. cath. - 14 57	The governors of the funds bequeathed by the late Erasmus Smith.	20 l. per annum, and a house.	20 l. per annum.
An English school, kept by Patrick Madigen and Patrick Crowley, in the town of Tarbert; number of scholars 55; no income, except what arises from their pupils; there are but seven Protestant scholars in this school.
An English school kept by Patrick Quin at Boherbawn; no income except what arises from his scholars. There are about 25 scholars in this school; no protestants attend it.
An English school by Timothy Leahy, in Tarbert, there are 68 scholars attend it; only one Protestant.

SAINT PAUL: - - - There are two schools in the parish of Saint Paul: a parochial school and a daily and Sunday school for female children.

In the parish school the establishment is 20 children; 8 females dieted, lodged, clothed and educated, 12 males clothed and educated.

In the day school the number on the books is 72; 19 roman catholics, 53 protestants.

The funds of the parish school arise from interest on city bonds and house-rent, amounting in the whole to 30*l.* a year; also from the collection at an annual charity sermon, and occasional subscriptions.

The funds of the day school arise from private subscriptions, from payment by some of the pupils, and from needle-work done in the school.

The last year's income of the parish school was 141*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.*; the expenditure 151*l.* 14*s.* 8*d.*

The last year's income of the day school was 69*l.*; and its expenditure 65*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*

There are two extensive schools in the parish of Saint Paul which do not come under the cognizance of the rector; viz. that of the King's hospital, and that of the house of industry.

ST. NICHOLAS (WITHIN): - - - One parochial school in this parish, as also two schools for males and females.

Ten boys in the parish school; the other two schools consist of 42 males and 42 females.

The parish school is maintained by 28*l.* a-year, arising from two houses in Ship-street, and by the amount of collection at the annual charity sermon, which comes to, one year with another, about 30*l.*

The expenditure corresponding with the income.

The male and female schools mentioned above are supported by the parents of the children who send them to the schools, and who pay for their education; they are merely common day schools.

ST. WERBURGH: - - - There are two parochial schools; one for boys and one for girls, containing 16 boys and 20 girls.

Annual expenditure 350*l.* per annum.

CHAPELIZOD: - - - One parish school. The average number of boys last year was about 30, that of girls about 26, actually attending the school; the number on the roll was usually about 20 more.

The school is supported by a grant of 15*l.* to the master annually, from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, &c. subscriptions to the amount of 20 guineas, and a charity sermon which seldom exceeds 20*l.* and which has been much less last year.

The amount of the income has been usually about 55*l.* per annum. The expenditure (including salary for a competent master and mistress, breakfast and a few articles of clothing for the most deserving children, books, fuel, repairs, &c.) has generally amounted to nearly the same sum.

SAINT MARK'S: - - - There is one parish school in the parish of St. Mark.—The establishment is 18, varying from that number according to circumstances; they are exclusively females.

Funds:—The collection made at the annual charity sermon in the parish church, and an annual donation of 10 guineas from the provost and senior fellows of Trinity College, Dublin, and some few private subscriptions.

The average income of the school for the last 5 years has been 216*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*

The expenditure for the same period, 210*l.*

SAINT NICHOLAS (WITHOUT): - - - There is a parish school maintained by private donations, and the produce of an annual charity sermon.

There are 8 boys educated therein, lodged, clothed and dieted; and when of age, apprenticed to useful trades under protestant masters.

The annual income and expenditure is about 200*l.* per annum.

TIMOLIN: - - - There is a parish school not endowed, 5 boys were educated therein last year. There is a new schoolhouse erected capable of containing 200 children, under the patronage of the association; it will be finished and in activity in a few weeks.

SAINT PETER: - - - One female boarding school at present, (a parochial Sunday and day school is to be established with as little delay as possible.)

There are from 30 to 40 children.

Funds are supplied by private subscriptions and charity sermon.

RATHFARNHAM: - - - There is but one parish school in this parish, containing 9 males and the same number of females.

The number of boys are from 8 to 10 actually attending the school of males, and about the same number of females.

The school is supported by 40*s.* per annum from the rector, and whatever the master can make by taking pupils.

TAWNEY: - - - There are two schools, one for boys and one for girls, containing about 200; at present 98 boys and 100 girls.

The funds are composed of the collection made at the annual charity sermon, and 15*l.* given annually by the Association for Discountenancing Vice.

The amount of annual income is about 115*l.*; expenditure of both schools about 90*l.*; the surplus is laid out and distributed in clothing to both sexes.

The schools are under the same roof, and I cannot accurately state the expenditure of each; all the children are taught gratis without any religious distinction.

NARRAGHMORE: - - - There are four schools in the parish of Narraghmore.

Narraghmore School:

Master, Robert Cook, who receives a salary from the rector; there are 20 boys and 15 girls, including 12 children who are taught gratis.

Blackrath

Blackrath School:

Master, Thomas Neale; there are 48 boys and 14 girls.

Cookestown School:

Master, John McEvoy; there are 20 boys and 10 girls.

Spratstown School:

Master, William James; there are 20 boys and 10 girls.

There are no funds.

There is neither income nor expenditure.

ST. LUKE'S: - - - There is one parish school, established by the present minister in 1810 when appointed to the parish.

The school commenced with 12 boys, since increased to 63 boys, all of whom are educated; 24 of the above number are dieted and clothed; 16 are clothed, with 23 super-numeraries, who succeed by gradation or desert to the superior classes.

The funds originally bequeathed for the establishment of a school in this parish amounted to a principal sum of 300*l.* vested in public security; since which there has been added by legacies, donations, the produce of an annual charity sermon, savings, &c. &c. a revenue, making in the total a sum of 290*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*; of which the charity sermon has produced on an average of ten years an annual sum of 170*l.*

The annual permanent income of the school amounts to 120*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*; the expenditure for the last year for 63 boys, as above stated, amounts to 264*l.* 2*s.* 11*d.* including house, rent, master, mistress, stationery, &c. &c. being an average expense of each boy of about 4*l.* 3*s.* 10½*d.* each annually.

ST. BRIDGET: - - - One parish school, containing 54 boys and no girls.

Funds:—An annual income of 170*l.* and an annual charity sermon.

Expenditure and income, 300 guineas annually.

ST. ANN: - - - One parochial school in this parish, in which 20 boys are lodged, dieted, clothed, and educated; and when of proper age and duly qualified, apprenticed to protestant masters.

This school is supported by subscription of the parishioners, and by the collections after annual charity sermons.

The expenditure is about 500*l.* per annum.

CASTLEDERMOT: - - - There is one parish school in the town of Castledermot; about 12 females and 18 males attend the school.

Funds:—10*l.* per annum, paid by the Honourable and Rev. John Pomeroy.

The annual income merely 10*l.*; therefore, as there is no other fund, the expenditure is confined to this, nor has the master any scholars but those on the establishment to aid him.

ST. ANDREW: - - - One protestant parochial school under the direction of the minister of the parish and governors of the school, containing 12 boys and 12 girls during the last year, who are clothed, dieted and lodged.

Funds:—Collection made at the annual charity sermon (principal), interest of money in bank, and rent of some lands in Phrumpstown, making, with a few bequests, the sum of about 400*l.* per annum; the annual expenditure about the same.

SAINT CATHERINE: - - - One parochial school, consists of 50 female children, who are lodged, dieted, clothed, educated and apprenticed; each of whom, at the expiration of their period of servitude, receives 2*l.* provided their conduct has been such as to merit it.—There are two mistresses, one of whom acts as housekeeper, the other superintends the instruction and work department. A writing master attends three days of the week; no servant kept.—The expenses of this large establishment, house rent, &c. &c. included, has heretofore been estimated at 800*l.* per annum, (this year considerably less) under the following heads:—

50 children at 13 l. 10 s. each	£. 675	—	—
2 mistresses at 30 guineas each	68	5	—
Writing-master	20	—	—
House rent	25	—	—
Premiums to apprentices after service	10	—	—

£. 798 5 —

The funds to meet this expenditure are the following:

Parish estate	£. 500	—	—
Late Mr. Pleasants, his legacy	40	—	—
Interest on wide-street certificates	48	—	—
Profit rent, house in Patrick-street	20	—	—
Interest on ballast office debentures	4	—	—
— navigation — ditto	4	—	—
Tisdall's legacy	2	—	—
Southwell's ditto	2	—	—
Subscriptions fluctuating, but say	20	—	—

Leaving to be provided for by a charity sermon 160*l.* a sum which far exceeds the average collection for several years past, and has therefore often compelled us to lessen our admissions so as to meet our resources. There are in this parish two other schools on an extended scale, one the Dublin free-school, capable of accommodating 1,200 children of both sexes; here no religious instruction is allowed to be communicated, save only that the Bible is permitted to be read as a school book, whether this Institution can be considered friendly to the establishment or not I leave to his Grace to determine. The other school to which I alluded is of quite a different character; it was erected and is supported at the sole expense of the governors of Erasmus Smith's charities; it is capable of accommodating 300 children, and is intended for protestants exclusively. The average attendance for the last year has been, boys 117 daily, girls 90; the number fluctuates according to the seasons and other circumstances, but what tends principally to diminish the attendance is, the alarm excited in the minds of the parents by the frequent attacks made on their children, on their way to and from the school, by persons of a different persuasion, who vent their resentment against an establishment, wholly protestant, by insulting and ill-treating the children who attend it. There are a variety of popish schools throughout the parish, but with these the minister has nothing to do.

The funds are, first, an annuity from bequest of Mr. Pleasants, 40*l.*; second, charity sermon and subscriptions; also, 10*l.* from rent of a house in Castle-street.

N. B. There is a piece of ground purchased and a considerable sum of money raised, with which it is intended immediately to build a large schoolhouse, and then to take as many girls as there are at present boys; and more of both sexes can then be accommodated if they offer themselves.

MANOR OF GRANGE GORMAN: - - - The schools of the House of Industry, male and female, are situated in the parish of Grange Gorman. During the last year, 144 children have attended, 100 of whom are girls and 44 boys, who are educated, clothed and dieted; the funds are supplied by Parliament. The expenditure during the last year was 1,215*l.*

The female orphan house school is also situated in the parish of Grange Gorman, which consists of 164 children, who are educated, clothed and dieted; the funds are derived from parliamentary grants, charity sermons and private subscriptions.

PORTMARNOCK: - - - The schoolhouse not being finished; there is but one very small school very lately established.

Eleven scholars, 8 boys and 3 girls.

The school has been entirely maintained by the minister.

DONAGHBATE: - - - There is one charity school, gratuitously supported by a wealthy parishioner, containing about 60 scholars, all roman catholic children, except two, who are taught reading, writing, and figures. The boys are about 40 in number, the girls 20.

There are no funds but what are supplied by a wealthy parishioner, about 40*l.* a year.

SAINT DOOLOCK'S: - - - One parochial school; containing 25 girls and 23 boys.

Funds arise from private subscriptions, and a moiety of the collection made at annual charity sermons.

The regular income averages 27*l.*; expenditure 46*l.* 2*s.* but the deficiency made up from the parochial cess.

KILSALLAGHAN: - - - One parochial school; there is a properly qualified schoolmaster, but no scholars of either sex attend him. No funds whatsoever.

The annual income is 2*l.* paid by the incumbent of the parish to the schoolmaster.—The very few roman catholic children who reside in this parish (for there are no protestant ones) go to a school in the neighbouring parish of Swords, conducted by a man named Smyth, a person immersed in stupidity, and totally incapable of instructing children.—The school is supported by the voluntary subscriptions of some of the neighbouring farmers.

SANTRY: - - - There is one parish school, containing 10 boys and 25 girls.

The Association for Discountenancing Vice gives 8*l.* per annum, a legacy of 6*l.* left by a former incumbent, the remainder by private subscription.

The expenditure is about 60*l.* a year.

SWORDS: - - - There are no parish schools in the union of Swords.—There is one great school most numerous attended, supported by an estate allotted to it.

GARRISTOWN: - - - There is no free school; one is about to be established and supported by subscription.

LUSK: - - - The parish school is at present in litigation, but there is every reason to expect a speedy arrangement.—There are two schools in the parish supported by Mrs. Palmer.

BALROTHERY: - - - There is no parish school in the parish of Balrothery; there is a licensed schoolmaster who has made several efforts to keep a school by giving notice that he was ready to do so, &c. but he did not succeed as he was never attended by more than two scholars. There are two schools in Balbriggan, one kept by William Huston, who is to be supported by a salary of 10*l.* a-year from the Society for Discountenancing Vice, and also by subscriptions; there are at present 30 boys and 12 girls who attend this school. - The other school in Balbriggan is kept by Mr. Doreau, and is at present attended by 43 boys; the Kildare-street Education Society granted 10*l.* a-year to assist in fitting up this school, and the master is supported by a charge which he makes to the scholars. - There is also a very large Sunday school attended by 100 boys and very nearly 200 girls. The Rev. G. Hamilton has given two houses for the above schools in Balbriggan, which is nearly in the centre of the parish of Balrothery.

BALBRIGGAN: - - - There are two schools in the town of Balbriggan, parish of Balrothery; the first under the patronage of the Association for Discountenancing Vice; it has been established but a fortnight, and contains at present 30 boys and 12 girls, and is likely to increase very considerably: the other is on the principles of the Kildare-street Education Society, which granted 10*l.* towards the fitting up the school, &c.; it contains 43 boys. The Rev. George Hamilton, proprietor of the town of Balbriggan, has given two houses for these schools, and accommodation of the masters; Mr. Huston, the master of the first mentioned school, is to be supported by a salary of 10*l.* a year, which the association has promised to grant, and also by private subscriptions.

Mr. Doreau, the master of the second school, is supported by a small charge he makes to each of the scholars; there are several other small schools in the town, besides a very large Sunday school, which is generally attended by 100 boys and 190 girls.

CASTLEKNOCK AND CLONSILLAGH: - - - The only parish school, properly so called within this union, is that of Castleknock. There is however another large school within the union, chiefly supported at the expense of Luke White, esq.

The parish school contains 36 boys and 25 girls, total 61.

The house stands on an acre of glebe given by the vicar to the master, the sum of 10*l.* per annum has been bequeathed for the use of the master, who also receives from the association incorporated for discountenancing vice, &c. a further sum of 15*l.*

The income and expenditure may be taken as follows:—

GLASNEVIN: - - - There is one schoolhouse, in which are two school rooms; one for boys, the other for girls:

The average number of boys for the last year were 26 girls and 28 boys.

The funds for the maintenance of both schools are weekly payments of the children, a charitable bequest, charity sermon, and a grant from the Association for Discountenancing Vice: these funds being inadequate to the support of both schools, the deficiency is supplied by a private contribution.

In consequence of the deficiency of the funds, a debt was contracted amounting to 26*l.* which was paid by a private contribution; the accounts of the school are not kept separate.

COOLOCK : - - - One parish school, containing 36 boys and 44 girls.—The school is maintained by a grant of 15*l.* per annum from the incorporated association, and by subscriptions of the parishioners.

The annual income amounts to	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	52	12	9
Expenditure	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	£. 55	10	9½

RAHENY : - - - There is but one parish school properly so called in Raheny parish, in which are educated on an average about 25 boys.—No girls come to this school.—The schoolmaster's salary, 30*l.* is paid out of the annual rent of eight small houses in the town of Raheny, which were built by the late Samuel Dick, esq. of Violet Hill, in said parish; the other expenses of this school are supplied out of the money collected at a charity sermon, annually preached in the parish church for that purpose and in aid of the poor fund of the parish.—Mr. Dick left the above-mentioned rent of said houses by will to his son, Quinton Dick, esq. and his heirs, in trust that he should and might apply the profits arising therefrom to the payment of a schoolmaster's salary for superintending the charity school established in the town of Raheny; the annual average expenses of this school for books, stationery, &c. may be about 10*l.*

There is another school in the parish, in which there are none but female children educated, and which is attended by about 60 girls on an average annually.—They are all roman catholics.—This school is supported by the annual subscriptions of the neighbouring gentry, and a very good schoolhouse has been lately erected for the purpose.—The children in this school are daily instructed in reading, writing and arithmetic, and also taught needle-work, spinning, &c.

CLONTARF : - - - The protestant parochial school has on an average 30 boys and 20 girls.

The funds arise from a grant of 15*l.* per annum from the association, and subscriptions amounting to 27*l.*, making annual income 42*l.*; expenditure 48*l.* The difference between the expenditure and the funds is defrayed by a Mr. W. C. Colville, until ground is obtained to build a schoolhouse, when the parish will be relieved from 22*l.* 15*s.* per year rent, which will enable the parish to pay their debts and leave an annual surplus.

DRUMCONDRA : - - - One parish school, containing 80 males and 92 females, total 172. Funds are supplied by private subscriptions and aid from the association in Capel-street. The annual income is 33*l.* 12*s.* 3*d.*—Expenditure for the last twelve months, 42*l.* 8*s.*

CLONDALKIN : - - - One parochial school, containing 77 scholars; 38 boys 39 girls. Funds arise from 15*l.* from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, and a charity sermon.

Income ending August 1822	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	£. 53	6	7
Expenditure, including part of a debt of 8 l. 16 s. 1 d.	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	53	6	7

RATHCOOL : - - - There are two parish schools in the parish of Rathcool, one protestant and the other papist. The papist schoolmaster obtained a license 30 years ago from Archbishop Fowler under pretence of being a protestant, by this manœuvre he got possession of the parish schoolhouse and its annexed glebe, and retains it in defiance of the parish minister, and will yield to nothing but legal force; his name is Daniel Brady; the glebe and garden exceed 3 roods.—In this school there are 30 scholars during the summer half year, about 12 females and 18 males; the tuition money amounts to from 2*s.* 6*d.* to 8*s.* per quarter.

The minister has appointed William Pitman as protestant schoolmaster in February last; Brady before-named being in possession of the schoolhouse and its glebe, the minister was obliged to take a schoolhouse in the town for 4*l.* per annum; this man taught until within six weeks 17 scholars, he has now only 3 or 4; the minister gives him 2*l.* per annum; he charges only from 3*s.* to 8*s.* per quarter; there is no fund or donation for said schools, consequently it is hard to know the expenditure of the 17 pupils mentioned above. There were 10 boys and 7 girls.

Besides the above schools, there is a female school in the parish founded by Mrs. Mercer in the year 1740; in this school there are 50 girls boarded, lodged and taught; it is supported by an estate amounting to, as is supposed, 400*l.* per annum; there is no fund for apprentice fees. The governors of this school are his Grace the Archbishop of Dublin, the Lord Bishop of Kildare, the Dean of St. Patrick's, the Archdeacon of Dublin, and the minister of Brides Parish all appointed by the will of Mrs. Mercer for the time being; the minister of Brides being the agent who only can answer the query as to expenditure.

KILGOBBIN : - - - One parish school at Kilgobbin, containing 53 males and 40 females. Funds arise from voluntary subscriptions, the only funds from which the school derives support; the master receives generally 15*l.* per annum from the association, what he receives from the scholars is little and uncertain.

The school has no regular income, the expenditure varies, the ordinary expenses are not less than about 7*l.* annually, exclusive of what may be laid out in clothing, &c. by way of reward.

CRUMLIN: - - - There are two parish schools in Crumlin. There were 34 boys in the school under Lady Shaw's direction. Funds are derived from the parish. Expenditure is uncertain.

STILLORGAN: - - - There are three parish schools; viz.

No. 1. at Stillorgan, containing 77 males.

No. 2. at Stillorgan, containing 51 females.

No. 3. at New Town Park, containing 60 females.

Total—77 males, 111 females.

Funds are, from the association - - - - - £. 15 - -

Annual subscription - - - - - 10 - -

Annual charity sermon, uncertain, from 60*l.* to - 90 - -

These funds are common to all the schools.

Expenditure:

N.B.—Above 600*l.* has been expended in building and fitting up two school rooms, 36 by 18 feet, at Stillorgan, and a residence for the master and mistress, of which 150*l.* is still due.

N.B.—There is also a male and female Sunday school at Stillorgan, where 30 males and 30 females attend.

LEIXLIP: - - - There is but one parish school in the union of Leixlip, which is established in a new school room built by the late Lady Louisa Conolly in the town of Leixlip.

There are six or seven other schools in the parish, over which the clergyman of the established church has no control.

There were in October 1821, 130 children in the above-mentioned school, it being established on Dr. Bell's system, under the care of a protestant master, and the scriptures read daily; of these children about one-third were females; now the school is reduced, by the interference of the romish priest, to 42 children, of which 8 are females, and 15 of the present number are romanists.

The parish school is supported from an annual charity sermon, and also from 10*l.* per annum allowed by the incumbent, Mr. Jones; such children as can afford pay one penny per week.

The annual income (and consequently the expenditure) must be liable to variation, arising from a charity sermon; but the present expenditure is a salary of 30*l.* paid to the master, and 40*l.* expended on the children, in giving the poorest of them breakfast every morning, and also giving clothing to such as need and deserve it, together with supplying books, paper, &c.

Note.—The proceeds of last charity sermon were 56*l.*

There is a Sunday school in the town of Lucan, where the children meet after divine service is over, from two until four o'clock.

There are about 140 children in this school, for the most part romanists, and of course the New Testament is not read.

This school has been found very useful, and is particularly wanted in this village, where the children are during the week employed in a large flax spinning factory.

There is a Sunday school established in the town of Leixlip, exclusively for protestant children; it commences at half-past ten, and continues until twelve; about 35 attend.

CELBRIDGE: - - - In this union there is but one weekly parish school strictly under the influence of the minister; viz. a school of about 33 boys, children of protestant parishioners, kept by the parish clerk in the vestry room of the church.

The master receives over and above a salary of 20*l.* per annum (as parish and vestry clerk), about 20*l.* in weekly payments of from 6*d.* to 8*d.* from each child.

There is no other income nor expenditure attendant on the school; the children purchase their books, paper, &c.

Weekly Female School:

The clerk's wife keeps also a school of about 18 girls (half protestant, half roman catholic, in general); but this school is kept on her own account, the children pay her from 6*d.* to 10*d.* weekly.

Weekly Free School;

There is a school also kept under the direction of Colonel Conolly and at his expense, containing at present 12 boys and 12 girls, protestants. He pays 50*l.* per annum.

Over these two last schools (as has been said) the minister has no direct control, but the education afforded in them is of the same kind as in his own school.

N.B. 120 roman catholic children did attend until the scriptures were last month introduced.

Under the direction of the minister there is also a Sunday school, supported by voluntary subscriptions, amounting to about 20*l.* per annum, and containing about 60 protestant children, (exclusive of the weekly scholars who choose to attend), all of which are instructed in the scriptures and church catechism.

There is no other school for protestant children of these parishes except little nursery schools.

We compute that in two roman catholic schools at Celbridge and Straffan, there may be 100 children of that persuasion instructed.

MAYNOOTH: - - - There is but one protestant school in the parish of Maynooth; this school is kept by the licensed parish clerk.

There have not during the last year been more than an average of six children attending the school, of which three are protestants. There are not many more protestant children of an age for school; such as may be, are of the latter class and educated at home.

There are no funds except 40*s.* annually from the minister of the parish.

BRAY: - - - In the union of Bray there are three parish schools, one in Kiltarnan at the Scalp, affording instruction to 49 boys and 33 girls.

Its funds are derived from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, private subscriptions, and quarterly payments of the scholars. The amount of annual income is about 37*l.*; the expenditure equal to that.

One in the parish of Bray and town of Bray for girls only, affording useful instruction to 70. Its funds are derived from private subscription and the sale of articles made in the school, there being a shop attached to it.

The amount of annual income 59*l.*; the expenditure 57*l.*

One in the parish of old Connaught, near the town of Bray, for boys only, kept by the parish clerk, affording instruction to 86 boys during the last year. Its funds are derived from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, a collection made in the church at an annual charity sermon, a donation from the incumbent, and small weekly payments from some of the scholars.

The expenditure of this school, as the scholars are taught gratis, with a few exceptions, and found in stationery, &c. generally exceeds its income, and will certainly do so this year. Its income amounts to about 66*l.*; its expenditure about 70*l.* This will be less in future, as there were some alterations and additions made each year since the school was opened.

DELGANY: - - - There are three schools for the poor in the parish of Delgany, under the superintendence of the clergyman; (two besides attended to and supported by ladies and gentlemen of the parish.)

In the school in the village of Delgany, there have been, during the last year, 149 scholars, 85 boys and 64 girls. In another school in a part of the parish called Windgates, 82 scholars, 36 boys and 46 girls. In the third school, at Calary, 34 scholars, 15 boys and 19 girls.

In the schools not under the immediate superintendence of the clergyman, in one 78 scholars, 52 boys and 26 girls; in the other, 70 girls.

The Delgany school is maintained, in part by Mrs. La Touche, in part by the parish and clergyman, in part by the scholars; the schoolmaster of this parish is also parish clerk.

Windgates school is maintained from Erasmus Smith's fund, and contributions from Mr. Pennefather, Mr. Brownrigg, and the clergyman and scholars.

Calary school is maintained from the Association for Suppressing Vice, &c. the clergyman and scholars.

The amount of the income of Delgany school, (the clerkship, 12*l.* included) 46*l.*; of Windgates school, 52*l.*; of Calary school, 33*l.* 2*s.* The annual expenditure of each for books, slates and cards, inconsiderable; defrayed out of the parish fund.

MONCKSTOWN: - - - There are three parish schools, Monckstown, Deans Grange and Killiney:

In Monckstown school, there have been 149 boys and 194 girls; in Deans Grange school, there have been 50 boys and 64 girls; and in Killiney school, there have been 100 boys and 100 girls during the last year, commencing 1st October 1821 and ending 1st October 1822.

Monckstown school is maintained by annual subscriptions, occasional donations, an annual charity sermon, and the sum of 10*l.* annually from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, &c. besides which, the association gives a gratuity of 5*l.* annually to the schoolmaster, upon a certificate of good conduct from the parish minister. Killiney and Deans Grange schools are also each of them supported in the same manner, by annual subscriptions, occasional donations and an annual charity sermon.

NEW CASTLE, COUNTY WICKLOW: - - - There are two parish schools in the parish of New Castle.

In New Castle School during the last half-year, there were 36 boys and 34 girls. This school is supported by a grant from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, and by the salaries paid by the pupils.

In Newtown Mount Kennedy school, there were, during the last half-year, 37 boys and 21 girls. This school is supported by a sum of 20*l.* granted annually by Lady Rossmore, and by the salaries paid by the pupils.

POWERSCOURT: - - - One parish school at Tinnyhinch, John Murray, master, supported by Lord Powerscourt. One at Annacreny, John Cranston, master, supported by 15*l.* per annum from the association, and 5*l.* from rector; during the year it has had about 50 boys and 40 girls.

WICKLOW: - - - There are three schools in the union of Wicklow, to which assistance is given exclusive of the sums the masters receive from the parents of the scholars; there are also schools in the parishes of Glanely and Killiskey, which are in the union of Wicklow.

The three schools mentioned are kept, by Francis M^cPhail at Wicklow, by Mr. John Breathour at Ballinalea, and by John Watson at Ballinree.

Number of scholars in the school kept by Francis M^cPhail at Wicklow, during the last year, 61; viz. 53 boys and 8 girls.

The Rev. Dr. Dealtry, prebendary of Wicklow, gives a schoolhouse and about one acre of land, worth about 8*l.* per annum. Earl Fitzwilliam gives ten guineas per annum, and the Association for Discountenancing Vice, &c. have for some years given 15*l.* per annum.

Francis M^cPhail who is parish clerk as well as schoolmaster teaches foundling children and other children whose parents are in very indigent circumstances without payment; he does not receive for tuition from the parents of his pupils more than 2*l.* per annum, and the expenses of keeping the schoolhouse (which is a large house) in repair cannot be less than 2*l.* per annum.

Number of scholars in the school at Ballinalea, kept by John Breathour, 88; viz. 58 boys and 30 girls.

The late Mrs. Sarah Tighe, of Rossana, gave a schoolhouse and two acres of land, which may be worth 15*l.* per year; but whether Mrs. Tighe's representatives will allow him to retain the possession of the house and land, or what rent he may be hereafter required to pay, John Breathour cannot tell.

John Breathour receives 9*l.* yearly from the Association for Discountenancing Vice, &c. and about 23*l.* yearly from the parents of his pupils; he has about 19 boarders, from whom he receives from 20*l.* to 27*l.* each per year; he pays 16*l.* yearly to an assistant, and 2*l.* yearly to a boy for keeping the school rooms clean.

Number of scholars in the school at Ballinree, kept by Thomas Watson, 45; viz. 25 boys and 20 girls.

The Rev. Henry L. Bayly, rector of Arklow, gives a schoolhouse and dwellinghouse rent free; the Society for promoting the Education of the Poor of Ireland have given some stationery and a premium of 3*l.* in the last year.

Thomas Watson receives about 15*l.* per annum from the parents of his pupils, and he hopes that the Rev. Mr. Bayly, or the Society for promoting the Education of the Poor in Ireland, will keep the schoolhouse in repair.

GLANELY: - - - In the parish of Glanely there are four parish schools: Ballinree, Ballinakill, Glanely and Kilcandra. Ballinree consists of 44 scholars; 22 males and 22 females; 17 of the former and 15 of the latter are protestants. A house and an acre of land, and 5*l.* received from the association are the only funds.

Ballinree school is a good room, furnished with desks and forms, built by government.

Ballinakill school, a wretched room, in want of tables, desks, forms and slates.

Glanely ditto, a wretched room, in want of desks, tables and forms.

Kilcandra has no separate room for a school, but the children are taught in the master's house and family, and wants desks, forms and slates.

In the parish of Wicklow is the school of Ballinalea, under my inspection, consisting of 87 scholars, 50 males and 37 females; annual income 35*l.* 15*s.*; expenses 18*l.* 16*s.* to an usher, and 2*l.* to a boy who sweeps the school rooms, of which there are two in very good order and well well furnished. John Breathour, master, a protestant and a very careful and attentive man; 20 of the scholars are roman catholics.—Funds: A commodious house and two acres of land given by the late Mrs. Tighe, 10*l.* per annum by Charles Tottenham, esq. and 9*l.* by the association.

In the parish of Rathdrum is the school of Shinamore on lands belonging to the Commissioners of Education, consisting of 49 scholars, 25 males and 24 females, under my inspection, also as agent to the commissioners for that estate. The school is a miserable cabin, too small, and in total want of all necessaries for a school, without desks, forms, tables, slates, or books, in so much that the master is obliged to catechise them out of his own Prayer-book; the income scarce 3*l.*; the expenditure last year was 3*l.* 2*s.* 5*d.*; funds, 20*l.* paid by the commissioners. William Price, a protestant master, who is very attentive and careful, and well qualified to instruct children in reading, writing, arithmetic, bookkeeping, and several branches of the mathematics. He has no house attached to the school, but resides in a house of his own; in this school 22 are taught gratis. Most of the scholars are children of poor parents.

INCH: - - - One parish school in the parish of Inch, containing 13 males and 15 females. Maintained by a parish cess; 16 l. and 4 l. per annum, paid by the incumbent: expenditure not known.

HOLLYWOOD, COUNTY WICKLOW: - - - There are eight schools in the parish of Hollywood :

A school kept at Mullica, by John Giltrap ; 28 males, 18 females.

Ditto at Hollywood, by Hugh Reily ; 24 males, 8 females.

Ditto, by Mary Byrne ; 6 males, 5 females.

Ditto at Newtown, by John Flarty ; 30 males, 3 females.

Ditto at Blakestown, by John Nowlan ; 20 males, 20 females.

Ditto at Slecorrough, by Abraham Cooper ; 14 males, 14 females.

Ditto at Granamore, by Martin Clarke ; 14 males, 13 females.

Ditto at Aughgrenny, by John Wilks ; 4 males, 4 females.

There is no certain fund for the support of the above schools.

The small annual fees for tuition, paid by the scholars to their respective masters, form the whole income and expenditure ; the want of some fund to build a schoolhouse, or even a good school room, is much felt in this parish, which is not so fortunate as to possess even one resident landholder within its bounds.

BALLINTEMPLE: - - - There is no parish school in this parish ; the whole parish is within the property of the Earl of Carysfort, who, from family arrangements, is unable to grant land for building a schoolhouse.—There are two small schools of a very bad description held in the parish, but no parish school.

BLESSINGTON: - - - There are two parish schools in this union.

In the parish school of Blessington, there were from 35 to 40 boys educated gratis, and of this number 20 are clothed and educated.

In the parish school of Rathmore, there were this year 43 boys and 31 girls ; total 74.

The parish school of Blessington is supported by an endowment, and the master receives of this 20*l.* with a house and garden, and also 5*l.* per annum from the vicar of the parish.

The parish school of Rathmore is supported from Erasmus Smith's fund, and 2*l.* annually from the vicar of the parish ; the master has an excellent house and offices, with three acres of land, and 32*l.* per annum.

ARKLOW: - - - A schoolhouse has just been completed in the town of Arklow, capable of containing 300 children on the estate, and at the sole expense of the Earl of Carysfort. The Earl of Wicklow has also built a schoolhouse of considerable dimensions on his estate, for the advantage of his tenantry ; neither of these schools have yet opened. Lady Wicklow has established a female school of 40 girls, who are well instructed and attended to ; and the Honourable Mrs. Proby has also a female school, containing 40 girls. Lord Carysfort has it in contemplation to build three additional schools on his estate. The Sunday school has been established about 12 years ; 627 protestant children are on the roll, and from 300 to 400 attend regularly the year round.

It is impossible to make a satisfactory report of the Arklow schools for some months to come (with the exception of the Arklow Sunday school) as the schoolhouses lately built will not be prepared for the reception of scholars until after the Christmas holidays, when it is expected that a very considerable portion of the population of this parish will enjoy the advantage of an improved system of education.

DONARD: - - - One school in the parish of Donard, it was only opened on the 1st of May 1822, and attended in summer by from 50 to 60 children, at present 31 only attend regularly, whereof 17 are males, the remaining 14 females. The master is to receive from each scholar 2*s.* per quarter, and from the clergymen 5*l.* a year.

DUNLAVIN: - - - There is one parish school ; there are several schools throughout the union of Dunlavin, of which two only have protestant superintendents.

In the parish school, from 11 to 23 females attended to the beginning of summer, and from 18 to 37 boys to the same period.

In consequence of two protestant schools being established in the town of Dunlavin, during the last summer, the attendance at the parish school has been diminished somewhat.

Funds arise from association grant and private subscriptions.

During the past year the expense amounted to about 43*l.* ; the income to about 36*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.*

DONOUGHMORE: - - - One parish school containing 89 males and 64 females ; total 153.

Funds: The only funds is 15*l.* per annum, paid by the association to the master, who is also clerk at a salary of 15*l.* per annum, a house and half an acre of ground rent free ; he teaches 30 children gratis.

ATHY: - - - One protestant parochial school, containing 40 scholars, 22 boys and 18 girls.

Funds: 10*l.* allowed by Dean French, the rector of the parish, and 10*l.* paid in small sums, by those pupils that are able to pay. There being no schoolhouse built, the master out of his salary is obliged to provide a place ; his annual income is about 20*l.*, many being free scholars ; his expenditure about the same.

FONSTOWN: - - - One parish school, containing 53 males and 44 females.

The master is allowed one acre of land, and a dwellinghouse, by the rector ; 5*l.* per year by the parish, and he receives about 10*l.* a-year from the children.

To the Trustees and Commissioners of the First Fruits in Ireland.

The humble Memorial of William Shaw Mason, Joint Remembrancer and Receiver of First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, &c.

Sheweth,

THAT your Memorialist humbly begs leave to lay before your Board the following extract from the patent of First Fruits, granted by the Crown in 1812:—"We do give and grant unto the said Walter James Glascock, Edward Glascock, and William Shaw Mason, Esqrs. and the survivors and survivor of them, the said office of clerk of the First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, or Remembrancer of First Fruits or Twentieth Parts, of all archbishopricks, bishopricks, deanries, archdeaconries, prebends, rectories, vicarages, chanterships, and all other ecclesiastical dignities and benefices whatsoever, in that part of our united kingdom called Ireland, and of commissioner and commissioners from time to time to collect levy and receive, and to examine and search for, the just and true value of all and singular the said First Fruits and Twentieth Parts of all and singular the said archbishopricks, bishopricks, deanries, archdeaconries, prebends, rectories, vicarages, chanterships, and all other ecclesiastical dignities and benefices whatsoever; and to compound and agree for the said First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, according to the rates and taxations thereupon now made or thereafter to be made, and by different statutes or acts of Parliament made, in that part of our united kingdom called Ireland, in the twenty-eighth year of the reign of our royal predecessor king Henry the Eighth, one of which acts is intituled "An Act for the First Fruits," and the other is intituled "An Act for the Twentieth Parts," ordained or established; and of taking and executing bonds and all other securities for the payment of the said First Fruits and Twentieth Parts; and the same bonds and securities to retain in their hands until the debts therein contained shall be fully paid off and satisfied, and also full and absolute power and authority of giving acquittances for the same First Fruits and Twentieth Parts; and to do and execute all and singular such things as our Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, and Vice-treasurer of that part of our united kingdom called Ireland, or any of them, could or ought to do by virtue of the said acts of Parliament, or either of them, concerning the premises, or any of them, if these our letters patent had not been made."

That for the purpose of carrying into effect the powers which it appears by the aforesaid patent are now vested in him, Memorialist humbly prays that your Board will be pleased to grant such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for that purpose.

To the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury.

The Memorial of William Shaw Mason, Esq. Joint Patentee of the office of First Fruits.

Humbly Sheweth,

THAT by letters patent, or commission under the Great Seal, dated the 30th of day of May 1812, and duly enrolled in His Majesty's high court of Chancery, the office of clerk of the First Fruits in Ireland was duly granted to your Memorialist, and his co-patentees therein named, who were thereby also appointed Commissioners from time to time, "To collect, levy and receive, and to examine and search for, the just and true value of all and singular archbishopricks, bishopricks and all other ecclesiastical dignities and benefices whatsoever in Ireland; and to compound compound and agree for the said First Fruits, according to the rates and taxations thereupon then made, or thereafter to be made; and by different statutes or acts of parliament, made in Ireland in the 28th year of Henry VIII, ordained and established, and to do and execute the several other things therein mentioned." And your Memorialist is advised that under and by virtue of that commission your Memorialist is now the proper officer of the Crown for the management and receipt of the revenue arising from the First Fruits in Ireland.

Please to see a copy of that commission herewith sent.

That under the authority of the statute referred to in that commission, several valuations of those dignities and benefices have been made in the reign of Henry VIII. and of subsequent monarchs, by officers for that purpose appointed by the Crown, by commissioners or letters patent under the great seal, who (in like manner as your Memorialist now is) were authorized to do and execute all and singular such things as the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, under Treasurer, or any of them, ought to do by virtue of the said act of Henry VIII. concerning the premises.

That the disposal of the revenue arising from the First Fruits, which formerly constituted part of the king's revenue, has been since the reign of Queen Anne vested in certain trustees and commissioners, for the purpose of building and repairing churches and glebe-houses, and purchasing glebes and impropriations, and the maintenance of the poorer clergy; and from certain official documents, of which your Memorialist has now the care, it appears (and so the fact is), that those trustees, with a view of assisting the poorer clergy, did in the year 1766 contemplate a new and general taxation of all ecclesiastical benefices in Ireland, which if it had taken place would have superseded the necessity of several parliamentary grants, which have since been made to supply the deficiency of the funds properly applicable to that purpose; but in consequence (as it is apprehended) of those parliamentary grants, which commenced about that period, the execution of that salutary plan was postponed, and has not yet taken place.

That the several grants heretofore made by Parliament to the Board of First Fruits amount to a very large sum, and therefore when the existing circumstances of the country are taken into consideration, your Memorialist humbly submits that the exercise of the power, which now appears to be vested in him by law, of re-taxing all ecclesiastical benefices, should be considered by your Lordships as an object of great national importance, and be entitled to your favour and protection. By such exercise, the revenue arising from First Fruits will be really productive, and the country relieved from the heavy annual parliamentary grants which have heretofore been made to the church. By it a fund will be created for the repayment of the large loans which have been from time to time advanced to it, and the Board of First Fruits will be enabled to answer the purposes of their institution.

That your Memorialist's serious attention having been called to the subject by orders of the House of Commons, and by the late government of Ireland, he felt it his duty to examine into the just and true value of the First Fruits of the several ecclesiastical dignities and benefices which have lately become vacant; and your Memorialist having discovered the existence of certain valuations of such dignities, made under the Act of 10th William III. and 9th George II. and of benefices under the present Stamp Act, your Memorialist intended calling upon the several persons who have been promoted to such vacant dignities and benefices, and to request them to compound and agree with him for the several sums specified in such valuations, as and for the amount of the First Fruits of their several and respective ecclesiastical promotions; but some objections having been made to your Memorialist's relying on the last-mentioned valuations, it has been deemed necessary, in order to enable him to compound and agree for the amount of such First Fruits, that your Memorialist should cause new valuations to be made of the said ecclesiastical dignities and benefices, in such manner as his predecessors have formerly; but such valuations cannot be made without incurring some expense.

That the sums of money now due according to such new valuation, when placed to the credit of the Board of First Fruits, would amount to upwards of 80,000 £.; and your Memorialist feeling it his duty so to do, did on the 20th day of February last present to that Board a memorial, praying, that for the purpose of enabling him to exercise the powers vested in him by law, they would be pleased to grant to him such sum or sums of money as in their opinion should be necessary; but no order has been made on that memorial, nor has your Memorialist received any official communication on the subject.

That your Memorialist feels it his duty to your Lordships, and to the public, to state for your information, the foregoing facts, which are more at length detailed in a copy of a case relating to the office of First Fruits, which is herewith laid before you; and humbly prays, that if it shall seem proper to your Lordships that such new valuations should be proceeded on, you will be pleased to order a small part of the money voted in the last Session of Parliament to the Board of First Fruits, may be advanced to your Memorialist for the purpose of proceeding in such new valuations; the same to be replaced out of the produce arising therefrom; but, if it shall appear to your Lordships under all the circumstances of the case, that your Memorialist should compound with the several archbishops and bishops, and other persons who may now be liable to the payment of First Fruits, at the rates specified in the ancient valuations (which bear a very small proportion to the just and true value) then your Memorialist prays that your Lordships will cause your pleasure on that subject to be made known to him, in order that the conduct of your Memorialist may be regulated thereby; and your Memorialist protected from the censure which he might otherwise incur.

All which is most humbly submitted.

W. Shaw Mason.

and Vice-treasurer of that part of Our united kingdom called Ireland, or any of them, could or ought to do by virtue of the said acts of parliament, or either of them, concerning the premises, or any of them, if these Our letters patent had not been made; to have, hold, enjoy and occupy the said office and offices, with all and singular the powers and authorities aforesaid, together with all fees, salaries and emoluments thereunto belonging, unto them the said Walter James Glascock, Edward Glascock, and William Shaw Mason, and the survivors and survivor of them, during our pleasure; provided always, that these Our letters patent be enrolled in the Rolls of Our high court of Chancery in that part of Our united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, called Ireland, within the space of six months next ensuing the date of these presents. Case on behalf of the First Fruits Office in Ireland (referred to in the foregoing Memorial).

THE revenue of First Fruits or Annates appears at a very early period to have been a tribute or tax paid to the see of Rome, and became a part of the King's revenue at the time of the Reformation, viz. in the 26th year of Henry VIII. when the first act of the legislature was passed in England respecting First Fruits. In Ireland a statute was passed in the 28th year of Henry VIII. c. 8, comprising many of the clauses in the English act, and among others, enacting, that the King and his successors should enjoy for ever, of every person to be nominated to an archbishoprick, bishoprick, and so down to a vicarage, the First Fruits, revenues and profits for one year of such archbishoprick, &c. And that every such person, before he receives possession, or meddles with the profits, should pay, compound, or agree to pay to the King's use, at reasonable days, upon good securities, the said First Fruits for one year; and by this Act the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, and Under Treasurer, or any two of them, or such other person or persons as it should please the King, his heirs or successors, from time to time to depute, by commission under the great seal, shall have authority, as well to examine and search for the just and true value of First Fruits, as to compound and agree for the rate of the same, and to limit reasonable days for the payment thereof.

See said Act, Irish Statutes, vol. i. page 97.

I have read it. C. E. A.

By virtue of this Act of Parliament certain valuations were made in the 29th Year of Henry VIII. of the dioceses of Kildare, Ossory and Ferns, and the archdiocese of Cashel, and in the 30th year of the said reign of the archdioceses of Armagh and Dublin; (but whether these were made by the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, and Under Treasurer, or any two of them, or by commissioners appointed under the great seal, as mentioned in the Act, does not now appear) but it appears that the valuations were returned into his Majesty's court of Exchequer in Ireland, where they now remain of record. It is to be observed here, that there are also valuations of record of part of the dioceses of Leighlin, Ardfer, and Lismore; the latter in Trinity College, Dublin, stated to have been made "de Antiquo et in certo tempore," and "ex veteri taxatione;" but whether these latter valuations were made before or after the Act of Henry VIII. does not now appear. It is however supposed that they were made long anterior thereto.

After these valuations had been completed, (and they appear to have been the only valuations made in Ireland in the reign of Henry VIII.) it became necessary to institute an office, and appoint an officer to manage the revenue of First Fruits; Richard Foster, gentleman, accordingly appears to have been the first receiver of

First Fruits formerly a tribute to the see of Rome, and became King's revenue in England by statute 26 Hen. 8.

And in Ireland by stat. 28 Hen. 8. c. 8.

Under said act certain valuations made in the 29th year of Hen. 8.

And again in 30th year of said reign.

These remain on Record in the Exchequer.

Others in Trinity College, Dublin.

First appointment of Receiver of First Fruits.

First

First Fruits in Ireland, and to have acted as such until the year 1544, when by letters patent, bearing date 20th September in that year, the Crown instituted an office of clerk of the First Fruits of our kingdom of Ireland, or the office of First Fruits of all and singular archbishopricks, bishopricks, archdeaconries, prebends, rectories, vicarages, chantries, and other benefices and spiritual promotions whatever, to the king, by authority of the said Irish Act of Parliament granted, and thereby made, constituted and ordained, John Margretts clerk of the First Fruits aforesaid in Ireland, to be exercised during his life by himself or his sufficient deputy.

See copy of patent.

I have read it. C. E. A.

Eng. Act of 3d and 4th Philip & Mary, discharging First Fruits.

Repealed by the Irish stat. 2d Eliz. c. 3. as if binding Ireland.

By an English Act of Parliament, made in the 3d and 4th of Philip and Mary, chap. iv. it was enacted, that the payment of First Fruits to the Crown should cease, and be clearly extinct, and determine for ever; but by the Irish statute of 2d Eliz. chap. 3, the act of Philip and Mary, as if binding Ireland, is repealed; and it was thereby, among other things, enacted, that the said First Fruits, &c. should be paid and payable only to the queen, her heirs, and successors, at the receipt of the Exchequer, or in such other places as the queen, her heirs and successors, should appoint, in such sort, order and form, as the same should or ought to have been paid or payable, in case the said act of Philip and Mary had never been made. And it was also enacted, (sect. 4.) that all and singular vicarages, not exceeding the yearly value of 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* after the rate and value upon the records and books of the rates and values of the First Fruits and Twentieth Parts then remaining in the Exchequer, or that should thereafter come and remain in the same court, and also all and singular parsonages, not exceeding the yearly value of 5*l.* as therein mentioned, should be discharged and acquitted for ever of and from the said First Fruits.

See said Act, Statutes at large, Vol. 1. p. 297.

I have read it. C. E. A.

Here it is relied, that the words, "or that should thereafter come and remain in the same court," imply as well all future valuations, as re-valuations to be made thereafter, under the circumstances which shall be herein after stated; and that the prospective term of "from time to time" in the statute of Henry VIII. goes to support this position.

Succession of officers of First Fruits to 1583.

The succession of the officers or clerks of the First Fruits was continued from the appointment of the first officer in 1544, as before stated. Thus Richard Edwards was appointed by patent in 1561, (after the passing of the last-recited act of parliament) vice Margretts, deceased. William Clerk appointed by patent 16th February 1577, during pleasure, vice Edwards, deceased. Henry Forest appointed 23d October 1579, vice Clerk; and Nicholas Kenny appointed 28th May 1580, vice Forest; and the same Nicholas Kenny re-appointed by patent, dated 28th May 1583.

Second valuation of First Fruits in Ireland, 26 Eliz. 1585.

The second valuation which appears to have been made in Ireland, is in the 26th year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, A. D. 1585, under letters patent, bearing date 1st June 1584, granting authority from the Crown to Sir Henry Harrington, Knight, or his sufficient deputy (inter alia) to extend, rate and value, for seven years next ensuing the date, all and singular such archbishoprick, bishoprick, college, hospital, archdeaconry, deaconry, provostship, prebend, parsonage, vicarage, chantrie, free chapel, and all other spiritual dignities, benefices and promotions, which already were not extended, rated or valued, and so remaining of record in the Exchequer in Ireland, whereby the First Fruits and Annates due to the Crown by force of certain statutes made in the 26th and 28th year of King Henry VIII. and in the 2d year of her said Majesty's reign, might thereafter the better be contented and paid to the Crown, to the good increase of said revenues, both of the casual First Fruits, and also of the perpetual 20th parts, with other sundry clauses, matters and articles, mentioned and specified in said letters patent, to be put in due execution for the benefit and profit of the Crown. Soon after the preceding patent was granted, Sir Henry Harrington deputed, by Deed, Rowland Cowyk, Hugh Strowbridge and Henry Stanyhurst, or any two of them, his deputies. And by further letters patent, dated 25th March 1585, reciting, that in respect of her Majesty's dignity and calling, whereby the more indifference might be thought to be used in said estates, rates, valuations and and taxes, Daniel Bishop of Kildare, was appointed commissioner adjunct, either with the said Sir Henry Harrington or his deputies, to make this valuation. Under these several letters patent the following Sees were valued, viz. Ardagh, on 4th August 1585; Elphin, on 13th August 1585; Killala, and part of Elphin, on 7th August 1585; Killala, on 26th August 1585; Clonfert, on 8th September 1585; Tuam, on 3d October 1585; and Kilmacduagh on 28th October 1585. In the year following, viz. September and October 1586, part of the dioceses of Meath and Kildare, in the King's County, otherwise Offaly and part of Leighlin, were valued under the aforesaid letters patent to Sir Henry Harrington, by the aforesaid deputies, and Nicholas Kenny, gentleman, who appears to have been joined with them as a commissioner by letters patent, bearing date 27th August 1586. Here it must be observed, that Nicholas Kenny was (at the time he was made commissioner to value as aforesaid) clerk or remembrancer of First Fruits under a patent dated 28th May 1583, as before mentioned.

Nicholas Kenny was at the time of being Commissioner, also Clerk or Remembrancer of First Fruits.

Under the same patent of Sir Henry Harrington the following Sees were afterwards taxed by commissioners assigned in that behalf, by virtue of her Majesty's letters patent granted to Sir Henry Harrington; viz. Kilmore, on 2d June 1588; Cork, Ross and Cloyne, on the 16th August 1589; Ardfer, on the 28th May 1591; Limerick, on the 14th May 1591; and Lismore, on the 26th May 1591; but the remembrancer does not appear to have been joined in these valuations, which may be accounted for in consequence of his death, which happened in 1589, when he was succeeded by William Dongan, who was afterwards appointed clerk or remembrancer of First Fruits by patent dated 28th April 1590. The foregoing are the only valuations that can be ascertained to have taken place in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

Further valuations under same patent.

By letters patent, dated 6th May 1597, Hugh Strowbridge was appointed clerk or remembrancer of First Fruits, in place of Dongan, deceased. Here it will be observed, that this Hugh Strowbridge was one of the deputies before named of Sir Henry Harrington, by whom the valuations of 1585 and 1586, before mentioned, were made. In the reign of James I., Francis Edgeworth appears to have succeeded Strowbridge as clerk or remembrancer of First Fruits; and by letters patent, bearing date December 1611, the said Francis Edgeworth and William Crofton, esquires, were appointed clerks or remembrancers of First Fruits, in as full and ample manner as the said Francis Edgeworth then held the same.

Succession of First Fruits officers to 1611.

The next valuation that appears to have taken place in Ireland was in the fourteenth year of the said reign, when a commission issued, dated the 5th April in that year, directed to Christopher, Bishop of Kildare, John Moore, Oliver Flood, Francis Edgeworth, esq. clerk and remembrancer of First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, Robert Leycester and Colly Philips, under which commission the diocese of Kildare was valued.—In the same year another commission issued from the Crown, bearing date 3d October 1616, directed to Sir Oliver St. John, lord deputy of Ireland, Christopher, archbishop of Armagh, Lord Chichester, then high treasurer, George, bishop of Meath and Clogher, and Sir Francis Aungier, Master of the Rolls, reciting, “that the estate of the bishopricks and other ecclesiastical benefices within the province of Ulster had lately been established, and the yearly value thereof much augmented by the King's princely bounty; yet that there had hitherto come unto the Crown little or no profit, either by the First Fruits or Twentieth Parts, by reason that theretofore there had not been any taxation made or returned into the Exchequer of Ireland of the yearly value thereof, by which, if the said bishopricks and benefices should be taxed at the uttermost yearly value, and all the subsidies, first fruits and twentieth parts should be paid according to that rate, the condition of the clergy in that province, which we have endeavoured to raise, would be much weakened; for avoiding of which inconvenience, it is our gracious pleasure, in favour of the church, to dispense with the strictness of the statute in that behalf made and provided; and therefore we ourselves have thought fit, in our princely discretion, to limit and set down the certain taxation of the archbishoprick of Armagh, and of the bishopricks of Clogher, Derry, Raphoe, Kilmore, Ardagh, Down, Connorth and Dromore, in our said province of Ulster; and that a like moderate taxation be made of all the spiritual livings within the said province.” The said commissioners were accordingly appointed to examine, search and inquire, by the oaths of good and lawful men, and by all other good ways and means, what are the reasonable, indifferent and moderate

No other valuation in the reign of J. 1. The Primacy and other Dioceses, &c. re-valued.

Under the preceding commission the following valuations were made, viz. the dioceses of Connor, Raphoe, Armagh, Clogher, Kilmore, Derry, Down and Dro-more, and the deanery of Christ Church, Dublin; all on the same day, viz. on the 7th October 1616. No other valuation appears to have been made in the reign of James I.; and here it must be observed, that the Primacy, as before stated, had been taxed originally in the 30th year of Henry VIII. at 183*l.* 17*s.* 1½*d.*; the diocese of Ardagh in the 18th year of Elizabeth, when it was valued at 11*l.*; and that of Kilmore in the 30th year of the same reign, when valued at 26*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* It may also be observed, that several rectories and vicarages in the last-mentioned diocese were at the same time re-taxed, and the value thereof considerably increased on the latter taxation in the time of James I.

Last valuations in Ireland made under Charles I.

The next and last valuations which appear to have taken place in Ireland were made in the reign of Charles I. under a commission from the Crown, bearing date the 6th August 1629, directed to John, Bishop of Killala, Francis, Bishop of Limerick, and several others, one of whom was the above-mentioned William Crofton, the remembrancer and clerk of First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, reciting, that the King was credibly given to understand, that as well the several ecclesiastical dignities, rectories, and other spiritual promotions and livings specified in the schedule thereunto annexed, as divers others not as yet known or entered in the offices of our chief remembrancer, or the remembrancer or clerk of our First Fruits, and are not as yet taxed or rated of record, by which means we have been hitherto wholly bereaved of the First Fruits and Twentieth Parts due to us out of the said livings, by the statute in that case provided; the said commissioners were appointed to examine, search and inquire, as well by the oath of good and lawful men, as by all other good and lawful means and ways to them seeming most expedient, the true, just, whole and entire value of the livings in the schedule thereto mentioned, as also of any other dignities, &c. in the diocese of Limerick and Killaloe, not as yet taxed, or hitherto yielding or paying First Fruit or Twentieth Part. Under this commission several spiritual livings in the diocese of Limerick and Killaloe were valued on the 19th September 1629 by Sir Rowland Delahoyde, knight, William Crofton, remembrancer and clerk of First Fruits, and William Bridgdale, commissioners; and on the 2d October 1629 by Francis, Bishop of Limerick, the said William Crofton and Edward Sexton, commissioners.

Under another commission of Charles I. on the 6th August 1629, directed to Randal, Archbishop of Tuam, and several others, among whom was the said William Crofton, reciting, precisely as in the former commission, several livings in the dioceses of Elphin, Killaloe and Achonry, were valued on 3d September 1629, by Edward, Bishop of Elphin, the said William Crofton and Josias Lambert; and on 15th October 1629, by Sir Roger Jones, said William Crofton and others.

Under another commission of Charles, on the aforesaid 6th August 1629, directed to Randal, Archbishop of Tuam, Robert, Bishop of Clonfert, and others, among whom was the said William Crofton, reciting precisely as in the former commission, several livings in the diocese of Tuam and Clonfert were valued on 7th October 1629, by the Bishop of Clonfert, the said William Crofton and Malbely Brabazon.

William Crofton, the remembrancer of First Fruits, also the principal acting Commissioner for valuing First Fruits in all the Commissions.

Diocese of Kilfenora never subjected to a First Fruits taxation, and nearly 1,000 rectories and vicarages similarly circumstanced.

This is the last valuation which appears to have been made in Ireland; but it is observable, that William Crofton, the remembrancer or clerk of the First Fruits, was the principal acting commissioner in these valuations, no other commissioner but him is named in all the commissions; and he appears to have journeyed through the province, and to have made the valuations in junction with such of the commissioners as had been appointed to meet him in his progress: and here it must also be observed, that the diocese of Kilfenora has never been subjected to a First Fruits taxation, and that there are nearly one thousand rectories and vicarages in Ireland similarly circumstanced.

Having thus far stated the several valuations and proceedings which appear to have been hitherto adopted in Ireland relative to First Fruits, it may be necessary, in this part of the case, on behalf of the First Fruits Office, to recur to such measures as appear to have taken place in England, with respect to this part of the Crown revenue previously to this period.

The First Fruits and Tenths in England were anciently paid to the popes under several valuations, from time to time, viz. in the reigns of John, and Henry III. and advanced in value by commission from pope Nicholas III. anno 1292, 20th Edward I. which valuation of pope Nicholas still remains in the Exchequer. In the 20th year of Edward III. this tribute was, by an ordinance, formally yielded up to the pope, and a valuation of the ecclesiastical livings within England was made, "to the end, that his holiness might know and be answered of that yearly revenue;" (vide 2nd Institutes, 627.) Sir Edward Coke again cites an ancient record on this subject, Hill. 34 Edward I. anno 1307. At a Parliament held at Carlisle great complaints were made of oppressions of churches, &c. by the pope's legate, in which Parliament the King, with the assent of his Barons, denied the payment of First Fruits; and to this effect he wrote to the pope, who relinquished his demand; and the First Fruits were for two years given to the King by that Parliament. At the period of the Reformation these revenues were taken from the pope; and as the clergy had theretofore expressed every willingness to contribute so much of their income to the then head of the church, it was thought proper, when the papal power was abolished in England, and the King became the supreme head of the church there, to transfer and annex, by Act of Parliament, this revenue to the Crown of England; in consequence of which, the act of the 26th Henry VIII. (English) first above mentioned, was passed, and a new and general Valor Beneficiorum was then made, which to this day remains the rule for ascertaining the First Fruits of such benefices as were then rated.

Several attempts were subsequently made to alter the rate of First Fruits, and to have it increased by a re-valuation. In the reign of queen Elizabeth, part of her ministry resolved to have issued a writ of melius inquirendum, or review of the value of ecclesiastical dignities and benefices, but the archbishops and bishops of England being against any new valuation, assembled in convocation, and remonstrated, that if such a writ were sent forth it would not in likelihood turn to the queen's commodity; they stating, that some benefices rateable were then less than what they had been already valued at. In consequence of which it appears that the plan of a new valuation was at that time given up, not, as it would appear, that such re-valuation was contrary to the statute or common law of the land, but, as already stated, that it were not likely that it would be attended with advantage to the queen's revenue. On this subject nothing further appears to have been done until the reign of James I. when the measure of a new valuation was again revived, and the king, having conferred with his lord treasurer Cranfield on the subject, and it having been represented to his majesty, not that it was contrary to law, but that it might tend to injure the interests of the clergy, the king did not persist in the project. The question was again renewed in the reign of Charles I. but it seems to have been prevented by the interest of archbishop Laud.

Soon after the restoration of Charles II. a new extended valuation of First Fruits and Tenths was again projected, but it does not appear to have been carried into effect, probably because it was for a time obviated by a practice then instituted of taking from the clergy (over and above the four bonds which they had formerly passed for the payment of the old valuation) a fifth bond for a future account, to be called for upon any review or future valuation; which having been universally acceded to by the clergy must be presumed to have been according to law; and, it is submitted, was in effect a re-valuation. It does not appear however, that the payment of this fifth bond was ever exacted; but that it was not contrary to law that it should be so. The clergy were not discharged from it until the 2d and 3d years of the reign of Queen Anne, when the Act passed for the making more effectual her Majesty's gracious intentions for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy; when it was enacted, with reference to the said fifth bond, that one bond only should be given or required for the four payments of the First Fruits, "which said First Fruits, it is enacted, as well as the Tenths payable by the clergy, shall hereafter be answered and paid according to such rates and proportions only, as the same have heretofore been usually rated and paid." Since the passing of this Act, which it is supposed terminated any intention or attempt which might be made for a new valuation in England, nothing appears to have been done respecting the augmentation of First Fruits in that part of the Empire.

And also, under 29th Geo. 2. c. 16.

These several attempts at extending and increasing the value of ecclesiastical benefices in England was universally, and perhaps properly, opposed by the clergy, while the First Fruits and Tithes formed a part of the royal revenue; and no intention of a re-valuation in England appears since the passing of the last-recited Act of Parliament: neither does it appear that in Ireland any of the above-recited projects for a re-valuation had been attempted after the reign of Charles I. as already stated; which may perhaps be attributed to the unsettled state of the kingdom from the period of the rebellion in 1641, to a short time previously to the reign of Queen Anne. The succession of clerks and remembrancers, or receivers of the First Fruits, was however regularly continued, with similar powers to those already recited.

By letters patent of Queen Anne, dated 7th February in the 10th year of her reign, the Queen granted to Narcissus, Archbishop of Armagh, and several others therein named, all and all manner of First Fruits issuing out of ecclesiastical benefices payable by the clergy in the kingdom of Ireland, by whatsoever name the same are called; to have and to hold the same to the uses therein mentioned, viz. for the building and repairing of churches, the purchase of glebes, where they are wanting, and of impropriations wherever the benefice is not sufficient for the liberal maintenance of the clergy having cure of souls. In this grant the First Fruits are stated as casual and uncertain, seldom exceeding 4 or 500*l.* a year, which the Queen's ministry wisely appropriated to the laudable purposes contained in the patent, and thereby put an end to any speculations for increasing same, which might be made while it continued a branch of the revenue of the Crown. It has been also suggested, that one of their principal inducements was a hope that the opposition invariably shown by the higher clergy, as already detailed, to a new valuation, while the First Fruits went to the state, would wholly cease, or rather that such valuation would be promoted by them when the produce was to be applied to the benefit of the church.

By statute enacted in Ireland, 2 Geo. 1. chap. 15, the said letters patent were fully confirmed; and it was enacted, that the several persons to whom the First Fruits were thereby granted, or intended to be granted, should and might for ever thereafter have and hold the said First Fruits in the said letters patent mentioned, to them and their successors, and should and might for ever thereafter have, hold and enjoy all First Fruits arising or becoming due, or which should thereafter arise and become due, in Ireland, formerly payable to the Crown, subject to the several uses, trusts, &c. in said letters patent expressed and limited, and discharged of and from all rights and titles which the king then had, or his heirs or successors might have, to them or any of them, in right of his crown or prerogative royal.

See said Act, stat. at large, vol. 4. pa. 398.

By another statute enacted in Ireland, 10 Geo. 1. chap. 7, whereby the trustees and commissioners of First Fruits were incorporated, it was enacted, sect. 5, that whenever any parish or parishes, or parts thereof, then liable to the payment of First Fruits, should be divided by virtue of the act for "real Union and Division of Parishes," 2 Geo. 1. chap. 14, it should and might be lawful for the chief governor and governors, and privy council for the time being, in and by the instrument in writing whereby such division should be made, approved or confirmed by them, to settle and ascertain a just proportion of the First Fruits then due for such parish or parishes, or part thereof, which should be so divided; and that such First Fruits as should be thereby ascertained, and no other, should from thenceforth be payable out of and for such parish or parishes, or part thereof, respectively; and where any parish had been theretofore divided, the archbishop and bishop of the diocese were empowered to settle and ascertain a just proportion of the First Fruits.

By another act, 9th Geo. II. chap. 12. sect. 5 and 6, upon the division or union of parishes, the Bishop is empowered and directed to inquire into the value of such parishes, or parts of parishes, as are separated and divided from the old parish, and erected into the new parish, and to return the adjudication into the Exchequer, by which only such parishes should be charged. And by a subsequent act, 29th Geo. II. chap. 18. sect. 6, reciting that it was necessary that the trustees and commissioners of First Fruits, in order to the more regular making proper augmentation of poor livings, should be informed of the clear improved yearly value as therein stated, it was enacted, that the respective archbishops and bishops of every diocese were empowered and required from time to time, as well by the oath of two or more credible witnesses witnesses (which oath they were thereby empowered to administer) as by all other lawful ways and means, to inform themselves of the clear improved yearly value of every benefice as therein stated, and how arising, where commonly reputed under 60*l.* per annum; and the same to certify to the trustees and commissioners of first fruits, who were thereupon empowered to augment any such benefice, &c. as is therein set forth.

See said acts.

I have read them. C. E. A.

By statute 12th Geo. I. chap. 10, it is enacted, that when any certificate shall be given for any sum or sums of money to be charged upon any archbishoprick, bishoprick, or other ecclesiastical living, for any building or improvements, such certificate shall contain a true account of the clear yearly value or income of the said archbishoprick, bishoprick or ecclesiastical living, as the same shall be proved to be. Here the words "clear yearly value," mean the improved value; for since the passing of this act all valuations made under it have been of the improved yearly value of the day, and not otherwise, as appears by these valuations on record in the chief secretary's office. This observation is introduced, as it has been argued that the words "just and true value" in the act of 28th Henry VIII., and in the present patent of the office of First Fruits herein after detailed, mean "not the improved value," but the nominal value set down in the old taxation. And it is likewise observable, that various subsequent statutes respecting the church are of the like tenor and effect.

No re-valuation having taken place in Ireland, as is supposed from the causes before stated, the fund arising from the First Fruits was consequently trifling, and quite inadequate to the purposes for which it was vested in the trustees and commissioners, insomuch that it became necessary in the year 1758 to apply for parliamentary aid; in consequence of which, a committee of the House of Commons was appointed to inquire into the state and management of the fund, who reported, that from the date of the Queen's letters patent (before recited) to the trustees, to the commencement of the year 1755, (a period of upwards of 40 years,) the Board received out of the said fund 15,853*l.* 9*s.* 1*d.* 4. and that within the same period they laid out in the purchase of glebes and impropriate tithes, and in building glebe-houses, 16,830*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.* over and above all salaries and incidental expenses. The difference between these sums, the committee reported, was defrayed by voluntary contributions from the Archbishops, Bishops, and some of the Clergy of the Kingdom. This is the first time since the First Fruits had been vested in trustees that Parliament appears to have directed their attention to the subject; and the inquiries thus instituted seem to have led to the intention of a new valuation of all ecclesiastical dignitaries and benefices, as shall be presently stated.

Soon after this granting of the Patent, viz. in 1766, the trustees and commissioners of First Fruits appear to have taken into their consideration the subject of a new general taxation of ecclesiastical benefices in Ireland, and accordingly communicated several queries to the clerk or remembrancer of First Fruits before named, some of which were, first, "Whether a new valuation of livings throughout the Kingdom ought not to be made, (if it might be done with little expense to the church,) that the poor clergy may be eased, and the rich pay their just proportion; that an equality may be had in things relating to charity, and impropriations may be made liable to pay, when being purchased they cease to be impropriate; second, Whether the new act for the real union and division of parishes will not make a new taxation necessary, as well on the account of First Fruits, as other charges incident to livings, such as quit-rent, port-corn, and schoolmasters and quarta pars; third, Whether a private valuation may not first be made by the bishop of each diocese, and a medium taken of the last three years, as set to farmers, which will make matters very easy as to commissioners." To which queries the officer returned the following answers; viz. first, a more equal valuation would certainly be very useful, as many rich livings, particularly in the northern dioceses, are rated at very small valuations; many within the rate exempted; and many poor ones taxed above their present value; and there are many in the city of Dublin, and throughout the whole Kingdom, which were never valued; and it is apprehended no great expense could attend such a valuation, and that it would be soon reimbursed by the rise on a new taxation; second, the union and division of parishes will make it necessary, (if not to have a new taxation) at least to have some proper regulation in the office of First Fruits, in regard to the livings thus united or divided, as it is apprehended, a considerable loss yearly accrues to the fund, for want of proper information of First Fruits, of the several livings in such union therein; and by reason of their taking new names upon such union or division; and it is humbly submitted, whether all unions and divisions of parishes already made or hereafter to be made, should not be authentically certified into the office of First Fruits, so as the officer might be enabled to put them in charge, if chargeable; and whether it would not also be necessary to have a return from the bishops, or certificates from the proper officers, of the livings annexed to bishopricks, which at present do not appear to this officer; third, the expediency of the measure proposed in this query is submitted to the honourable Board of First Fruits."

These queries and answers are on record among the papers of the First Fruits Office.

Nothing however appears to have been done in consequence of the preceding queries and answers; but it is supposed that the Board of First Fruits would not have contemplated such new valuation if it had not been according to law; and it may be further presumed that such re-valuation would have taken place either at that time or since, were it not for the annual grants about that period commenced, which the Board has since that time continued to receive from Parliament.

Letters patent dated 30th May 1812, granting office of clerk of First Fruits and of Receiver and Clerk of First Fruits, or Remembrancer of First Fruits, of all Archbishopsricks, &c. to W. Glascock, Edward Glascock, and William Shaw Mason and survivor. They are also appointed Commissioners and Commissioner. First, to collect, levy and receive. Second, to examine and search for the just and true values. Third, to compound and agree for First Fruits, according to the rates thereupon now made, or hereafter to be made. Fourth, to take and execute bonds and all other securities, and retain same. Fifth, to give acquittances. And lastly, to do such things as the Chancellor, &c. could do under the Acts of Henry 8.

By letters patent, bearing date the 30th May 1812, the office of clerk of the First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, and the office and offices of receiver and clerk of the First Fruits and Twentieth Parts, or remembrancer of First Fruits or Twentieth Parts of all archbishopricks, bishopricks, &c. in Ireland, was granted unto Walter James Glascock, Edward Glascock, and William Shaw Mason, esquires, and the survivors and survivor of them, who were also by the said letters patent appointed commissioners and commissioner, from time to time to collect, levy and receive, and to examine and search for, the just and true value of all and singular the said First Fruits and Twentieth Parts of all and singular the said archbishopricks, bishopricks, &c. and all other ecclesiastical dignities and benefices whatever, and to compound and agree for the said First Fruits and Twentieth Parts according to rates and taxations thereupon now made or hereafter to be made, and by different statutes or acts of parliament made in Ireland in the 28th year of Henry VIII. ordained and established, and of taking and executing bonds and all other securities for the payment, and the same to retain until fully paid off and satisfied; and they were also granted full and absolute power and authority of giving acquittances, and to do and execute all and singular such things as the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls and Vice-treasurer of Ireland, or any of them, could or ought to do by virtue of the said acts of parliament.

Last patent same as predecessors, with the addition of being a commission within the meaning of the statute of Henry 8, with powers similar to those contained in the commissions,

Here it may be observed, that by the preceding patent the officers are appointed, like all their predecessors, clerks or receivers and remembrancers of First Fruits; and that in addition thereto they are appointed commissioners within the meaning of the statute of Henry VIII., with powers similar to those contained in the commissions under which the valuations had been made in the reign of Elizabeth, James and Charles I. The officers accordingly, from the time that they were so appointed, intended intended to take effectual measures for carrying into effect the powers with which they were so invested, whereby a competent and permanent fund would be created for the purposes of the trustees of the First Fruits, without having recourse to Parliament; and still expecting that the Board would take the subject into consideration, without subjecting the officers to the hazard, expense and difficulty, which would attend such measure, unless sanctioned by the authority of Government or the Board, at whose disposal the funds had been placed; but the Board not having done so, and several vacancies having lately occurred by deaths and promotions among the dignitaries and beneficed clergy of the church in Ireland, the acting officer under the aforesaid patent, on the 20th February 1822, laid a Memorial before the Board of First Fruits, praying, that for the purpose of carrying into effect the aforesaid powers, the Board would be pleased to grant such sum or sums as would be necessary for the purpose, but on which Memorial the Board has not been since pleased to make any order or communication to the officer. Under these circumstances, the officer now intends to apply to the Lords of the Treasury for aid; and for their satisfaction has prepared the foregoing statement, and requests your opinion on the following points:

under which the valuations had been made, in the reign of Elizabeth, James, and Charles.

Acting officer on the 20th February 1822, memorialised Board of First Fruits praying aid to carry powers into effect.

But no order or communication thereon.

Query 1st. Whether, under the circumstances herein before stated, the old valuations of First Fruits are to be considered in law as permanent, and always to continue the same; or whether the patentees or commissioners named in the patent of 30th May 1812, have now the power of making a new valuation of all the ecclesiastical dignities and benefices in Ireland?

2d. If so, what are the necessary legal steps to be taken for the purpose?

OPINION.

By the act of Henry VIII. such person as that king, his heirs and successors, should from time to time name and depute, by commission under the great seal, has power and authority, as well to examine and search for the full value of the First Fruits by all necessary means, as to compound and agree for the rate of them; and the person so deputed has clearly the same power which the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, and under Treasurer, would have had by that act, if such deputation had not been made.

From the nature of the grant of such an office, the power of taking an inquisition, in order to inquire into the annual value of benefices necessarily follows; and such inquisition may, in my opinion, be taken from time to time; for no statute generally declares that a valuation being once made, another valuation shall not be made; and in order to fulfil the objects of the legislature, a power of re-valuing is necessary. Accordingly (as is stated) the Primacy, the diocese of Kilmore, and several rectories and vicarages, have been re-taxed, and their values increased on the last taxation. Such power, unless it has been taken away by the letters patent of Queen Anne, and the confirmatory statute of 2d George I. or by some other statute, must, in my opinion, still remain in the Crown, and be the subject of grant. Now it is to be observed, that ever since that statute of George I. to the present time, the Crown has granted the office of Remembrancer of the First Fruits in very extensive terms, and as if such power existed.

I have read a copy of the patent to J. Glascock and N. Kempston of the office in the fourth year of his late Majesty, by which the same powers were given to those gentlemen to do and execute all things relating to that office, as the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, or Vice Treasurer, could have done under the act of Henry VIII. Now in those powers the power of valuing is included. The patent of Mr. Mason and his partners is equally extensive; and it would require some argument to show that during an entire century the Crown has been ill advised, and all those patents illegal.

By the letters patent of queen Anne, and the statute of George I. the First Fruits were certainly granted from the Crown to trustees for certain purposes, and by a subsequent statute, the trustees are incorporated; but the clause of the statute of Henry VIII. authorizing the granting of commissions to inquire into the value of livings, &c. is not expressly, nor, as I conceive, impliedly repealed. Although the profits have been appropriated in a particular manner, the court of Exchequer and

Crown-

Crown-offices, have always acted as if the power of recovering the amount of the First Fruits still remained in the king, for all process for the recovery of them still issues in his name ; and indeed, such part of the power or prerogative of the Crown as has not been expressly taken away must still remain. But even if by those acts the power created by the act of Henry VIII. were transferred to the corporation, nothing has been done, in my apprehension, to extinguish the power of re-valuing ; it would still subsist and be vested in the corporation. But the statute of 29th Geo. II. c. 18, s. 4, vol. 7, p. 362, in my opinion, removes all doubts which the grant might possibly have created ; for by that section, all statutes and provisions touching the First Fruits and the charge or discharge of them, which were in force at the time of granting those letters patent, and not expressly repealed, are declared to be in full force.

I am therefore of opinion that the present patentees of the office have power to re-value all such benefices, &c. the present rates of which have not been expressly declared by statute to be permanent ; and that the holding of an inquisition for that purpose is legal. For I cannot conceive, that if some livings have been expressly exempted from a re-valuation, any inference can be made of an intention to exempt all livings which have been already valued ; the contrary inference is in my mind much more legitimate. The proposed measure is doubtless of great importance, the patentees should therefore proceed on it with that great caution and delicacy which is due to that respectable body whose interests may be affected by its execution ; and should for that purpose endeavour to procure the sanction of the Lord Chancellor and the principal dignitaries of the church ; those eminent persons when convinced (as I think they must be) that the cause of religion must be promoted by such a measure, will doubtless give their assent, and lend their assistance to it.

FURTHER CASE.

AFTER the statement on which the foregoing opinion was given had been submitted to counsel, and his opinion obtained on it, the Remembrancer of First Fruits procured a copy of a case stated on the part of the Board of First Fruits against the office, with the Attorney-General's opinion thereon ; and being desirous that the points in question should be thoroughly investigated, has directed same to be herewith laid before you, for your further consideration and advice on the subject.

OPINION.

I have read a copy of the case submitted to the Attorney-General, and his opinion on it. No person can entertain a more unfeigned respect for his talents than I do ; but after having bestowed on the subject every attention of which I am capable, I feel myself bound to say that I cannot acquiesce in his reasonings. I still think that the power of re-taxing the value of livings has been fully conferred on the patentees by the patent under which they hold their office, and that they can proceed from time to time to ascertain those values. Before I read that case or opinion, I had anticipated, and (I hope) have successfully answered, some objections that have been raised against a re-valuation, I mean those founded on the past taxations, and on the acts of the Legislature in respect of some livings, the rate of the First Fruits of which seem to have been settled, and also in respect of some united parishes. And I have also adverted to (and I think answered) an objection which might perhaps have been made, but of which no notice has been taken in that case or opinion ; I mean the objection which might perhaps have arisen from Queen Anne's patent, and the confirmatory statute of Geo. I. I have given to those objections and reasonings all possible consideration, but my opinion remains unshaken. I must observe, that the case submitted to the Attorney-General seems to have been framed with the view of eliciting an opinion against the power of re-taxation, for it is replete with argument and inference, but does not afford all the information necessary to enable a lawyer to form a decided opinion ; in particular, it altogether omits the fact that the values of the Primacy, and of many benefices, benefices have been increased by a new taxation; and on the contrary, asserts that no second valuation has ever been made. Now in a question of this nature that fact is of great value, and should not have been omitted.

Copies of the Right Honourable Henry Goulburn's Letter, respecting the First Fruits; and of Mr. Shaw Mason's Answer thereto.

Sir,

Dublin Castle, 20th January 1823.

THE Lord Lieutenant has received from the Board of First Fruits a Memorial, in which they state that you, acting for yourself and the other patentees of the office of clerk of First Fruits, have since the month of May last uniformly continued to refuse from the Archbishops and Bishops who have been appointed by the Crown, and from the several beneficed clergymen who have been instituted or intitled to institution since that time, the First Fruits payable by a valuation upon the records and books now remaining in the Court of Exchequer; upon the pretence of certain powers vested in you by your patent; and as it appears that you have been put in possession of the opinion of the Attorney General, in which he states the course pursued by you to be not justified by law, I have received the Lord Lieutenant's commands to desire that you will no longer oppose obstacles to the due institution of the several clergy concerned, or continue, by your refusal to receive the First Fruits, to impair the fund committed to the charge of the Board.

I am, Sir, &c.

Henry Goulburn.

Wm. Shaw Mason, Esq.

Sir,

Record Tower, Castle Yard, 22d January 1823.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge your letter of the 20th instant, communicating the Lord Lieutenant's commands that I should not oppose obstacles to the due institution of the several clergy concerned, or continue, by refusal to receive First Fruits, to impair the fund committed to the charge of the Board of First Fruits; grounded on a Memorial from that Board, containing the several allegations therein mentioned, and referring to an opinion of the Attorney-General on the subject; and in reply, I beg leave, with every respect for the Memorialists, to state, that I have not opposed any obstacles to the promotion of the several dignitaries or beneficed clergymen; having been now and at all times ready, under the powers vested in me by law, to compound with them for the just and true value of their several ecclesiastical dignities and benefices, or to take the nominal value as formerly, reserving in all such instances the right of the Crown to improve the fund for the benefit of the church. Secondly, That I have continued to receive and pay over to the account of the treasurer of the Board all First Fruits falling due previously to the 5th January instant; and with regard to the Attorney-General's opinion, for which I entertain the highest possible respect, I should hope that a perusal of the enclosed documents will throw some useful lights on this important question, and induce him to take it again into his consideration.

I beg leave also to state, for his Excellency's information, that so far back as the month of February last I laid a Memorial before the Board of First Fruits, stating the powers vested in me by law for improving that fund of which the Board are the guardians; and praying, for the purpose of carrying such powers into effect, that they would grant such sum or sums of money as would be necessary for the purpose; but the Board not having been pleased to make any order or communication to me on the subject, I felt it my duty to bring the whole matter under the view of the Lords of the Treasury, and for their Lordships satisfaction and information prepared a statement, which having been previously submitted to counsel, I transmitted same, with the opinion annexed, and a Memorial, requesting pecuniary aid and direction from their Lordships in the premises.

Under all these circumstances I did not feel myself warranted in accepting from the several persons who have been recently promoted to ecclesiastical dignities and benefices less than the just and true value of the First Fruits of the same, or the nominal value, reserving the Crown's right. And on taking into consideration the great benefit that must accrue to the church from an improved collection of the revenue of First Fruits, without any increase to the public burdens of the country, I trust that I will stand justified, in his Excellency's opinion, in the course which I have adopted, and in awaiting the orders of the Lords of the Treasury on the subject. At the same time, I beg leave most respectfully to state, that my conduct in this proceeding shall be regulated by such commands as his Excellency may think proper to impose, relying on the protection and justice of the Government for my indemnity and compensation.

I have the honour to be, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

Copy Letters from William Gregory, Esq. to Mr. Shaw Mason, dated the 22d February 1823; and his answer thereto, on the 24th of the same month.

Sir,

Dublin Castle, 22d February 1823.

I AM directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acquaint you, that the Attorney and Solicitor-General are of opinion that the patent appointing Messrs. Glascock and you clerks of the First Fruits is not a commission under the great seal within the meaning of the 28th Henry VIII. c. 8, and consequently that you, as clerks of First Fruits (who are not bound by any oaths to value truly) have no authority to make any valuations of benefices under the statute. And I am directed to add, that should you persist in your claim to the exercise of a power which it was never intended you should have, and which the law does not justify, his Excellency will feel himself under the necessity of giving directions that your patent (which is only during pleasure) should be revoked.

I am, Sir, &c. &c. &c.

W. Gregory.

William Shaw Mason, Esq.

Record Tower, Castle Yard, 24th February 1823.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22d, communicating his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's directions respecting the First Fruits; and beg leave to state, that in obedience thereto I shall proceed to enter into composition with the parties concerned for the First Fruits of their several dignities and benefices at the ancient or nominal values.

I have the honour to be,

Further Case on behalf of the First Fruits Office, transmitted to the Chief Secretary of Ireland, on the 28th February 1823.

SINCE counsel's opinions were obtained on the case stated on behalf of the Remembrancer of First Fruits, a letter has been received by him from the Under-secretary, Mr. Gregory, stating that the Attorney and Solicitor-General were of opinion, "that the patent appointing Messrs. Glascock and Mason clerks of the First

First Fruits, was not a commission under the Great Seal within the meaning of the 28th Henry VIII. c. 8., and consequently, that as clerks of the First Fruits (who are not bound by any oath to value truly) they have no authority to make any valuation of benefices under the statute."

Vide same, dated 22d February 1823.

From the tenor of this opinion it is apprehended that the law officers have not seen the patent of 1812, which appoints the patentees, in express terms, "Commissioners and Commissioner from time to time to examine and search for the just and true value of the First Fruits, &c. under the 28th Henry VIII." nor the oath of office taken by the acting Patentee on his appointment, which contains the following passage: "And nothing shall you take of any person, whereby any wrong or prejudice shall be done to the King," &c.

Copies of these documents, with your former opinions, are accordingly herewith laid before you; and your further advice and opinion of the whole of this important case is earnestly and immediately requested.

OPINION:

I think from the tenor of their opinion, as stated in the preceding page, the Attorney and Solicitor-General agree with me, that the power of new valuing benefices, &c. is still vested in the Crown. I have considered my former opinions, and Mr. Mason's Commission, and adhere to my opinion, that the patent, appointing Messrs. Glascock and Mason Remembrancer and Clerk of the First Fruits, and Commissioners, is a commission under the great seal within the meaning of the statute of Henry VIII. referred to in that opinion, and that as commissioners appointed by that commission they have authority to make valuations of benefices under that statute; such powers are expressly given them by that commission, as the Chancellor, Master of the Rolls, and Vice-treasurer had under that statute; and they are thereby appointed commissioners. Now one of these powers which (if that commission had not passed) would be vested in those three officers, is that of valuing benefices. The commission is under the great seal, and I really do not see how it is possible to mistake or explain away the nature or extent of the powers vested in Mr. Shaw Mason and co-patentees. Mr. Mason should however, in my opinion, submit to the commands of the Lord Lieutenant.

24th February 1823.

C. Ed. Allen,
Fitzwilliam-street, Dublin.

All which is respectfully certified at the Record Tower, Dublin Castle, on the 10th day of April 1823, by me,

W. Shaw Mason,
Acting Rem^r and Rec^r of First Fruits, and Commissioner for valuing same.

Office of Inquiry Dublin, 11th June 1822.

SIR,

WE beg to call your attention to an alteration and an omission in printing our Answer to the reference lately made to us, on the subject of the Chief Baron's case. The printed document which we have received, is styled "A Report to the King's Most Excellent Majesty," and does not contain the preliminary statement conveyed in the letter which was prefixed to the report we had the honour of transmitting to you. That Report, it will be observed, was not either in fact or in form, a report to His Majesty, nor was it presented in the manner, necessarily observed in the presentation of such reports under our commission. The letter alluded to, was considered by us as a constituent part of our reply, to the reference made to us by His Majesty's Government, and was intended to possess the reader of the view to which we had limited ourselves, and also to point attention to our instructions, and to the correspondence; by means of which, so far as related to the Lord Chief Baron personally, our inquiries had been conducted.

We regret that any explanation on our part, which may have been necessary to indicate the connection of the two parts of our answer, should have been omitted. The publication of the first would have been satisfactory to us, not only as being in our opinion, material for the better understanding of the course of our proceedings, and of the subjoined report and the documents annexed to it; but as suggesting also that our silence upon parts of the printed letter of the Lord Chief Baron, more particularly alluding to our conduct, which might possibly appear to some persons to deserve attention, is not to be attributed to acquiescence in the justice of any impressions which those passages of his lordship's letter were calculated to produce. If there be any objection to the publication of the omitted part of our reply, we feel assured that we may rely on your interference, in any way that may be necessary, to protect us from misconception, and the report from having the appearance of defectiveness or informality.

We have, &c.

P. S. We enclose a copy of the letter omitted to be printed.

SIR,

Office of Inquiry Dublin, 9th May 1822.

HAVING closed the investigation committed to us by His Majesty's Government, in consequence of the proceedings of the Honourable House of Commons upon the report of the Select Committee, to whom the consideration of our Ninth Report was referred; we have now the honour to transmit to you the results of that investigation, in the subjoined report.

Considering the importance of the subject, and the nature and character of the proceedings, it appears to us expedient that our report should be accompanied, not only by the evidence and documents on which it is founded, but by a full exposition of the course and progress of the measures we have taken under the orders of government, in discharging the duty required of us on this occasion.

This subject we have felt would be most satisfactorily effected, by including, in the annexed Appendix, the correspondence constituting the instructions under which we have acted, together with the correspondence with the Lord Chief Baron, which has been the medium of our communication with his lordship.

We think it incumbent on us to observe, that we have confined our report to topics of public concern embraced in our instructions, not considering any matter merely of a controversial tendency as falling within the scope of them.

We have, &c.

—No. 2.—

Board of Inquiry Dublin, 26th June 1822.

Dear Sir,

I HAVE to apologize for troubling you with a letter on my own concerns; but the occasion of my writing will, I trust, plead my excuse.

The 42d page of the letter from the Chief Baron of the Exchequer of Ireland to Mr. Gregory, on the subject of the Eleventh report of the Commissioners of Inquiry, contains the following observation, in allusion to the remarks of the Commissioners, respecting the fees taken on sheriff's patents: "It is whimsical to observe that, in the investigation of this part of the case, it was discovered that one of the Board, in another capacity, had been receiving a fee very nearly four-fold that to which he was restricted by the statute regulating the fees on sheriffs; which was immediately reduced within the dimensions of the schedule, and thus the matter has ever since very properly rested."

Being the only member of the Board of Inquiry receiving a fee on swearing sheriffs, I must consider myself as the individual alluded to, as having, for a certain period, been receiving fees, unwarranted (in their rates) by statute.

His Lordship is in error in making such an assertion. The plain fact is as follows: On the death of the late pursebearer to the Lord Chancellor, his Lordship kindly offered the place to my acceptance; I did accept it; and being aware, from having been a party to the First report, (on the Court of Chancery) that the fee on sheriffs taken by the former pursebearer, was taken at a rate exceeding the statutable allowance, I immediately gave directions, that my fee on the occasion should be collected at the rate specified by the act; at that rate I have uniformly received; never, from the first, having been paid a higher fee than 3s. 6d.; and I am authorized in saying, that the person who has always paid me my fees, since my appointment, has strictly adhered to that rate in making his demand.

I have

I have judged it expedient to trouble you with this short statement, his Lordship's assertion being so public; trusting that, should occasion arise, you will have the goodness to undeceive such members of the House of Commons, as may be led to suppose, that a member of the Board of Inquiry had been induced to do, in his own case, what it was his duty to animadvert on, in the case of others.

Henry Goulburn,

—No. 4.—

SIR,

I HAVE read with surprise, in a letter of the Lord Chief Baron, addressed to you, which I had not an opportunity of seeing until yesterday, some observations of his Lordship, relative to the Treasurer Remembrancer's office; and, although unwilling to enter into any controversy with his Lordship, yet the uncandid and unjust insinuations contained in that statement, respecting my official department, after having discharged the duties of that office for nearly fifty years, compel me, in justice to myself, to make the following observations.

I deny that I did receive for, or account with his Lordship for his fees in English money, at any time previous to his directing and authorizing me to collect his fees in that currency.

An inaccuracy in point of date occurred in Mr. Nunn's and my returns, respecting the period at which such directions and authority from his Lordship took place; which inaccuracy arose from the following circumstances.—Not having kept any particulars of the accounts handed to the Chief Baron, (except as to the number of orders to be accounted for) when called on to make the returns stated, both Mr. Nunn and myself referred to the general accounts of the office, by which we found that the change from Irish to English currency took place in the office in Easter 1808, and we stated it accordingly from the office accounts to have then commenced; not at the time recollecting that the change, as to the Chief Baron's fees from Irish to English currency, took place and were accounted for with him two years previously, viz. from Hilary Term 1806, under his Lordship's personal directions and authority, although not adopted in the other departments of the office until the spring of 1808.

The paragraph wherein a motive is insinuated for the officers (or stated by his lordship) acting so justly towards him, and as alleged without any order for the purpose, is entirely unfounded; for I can answer for myself, and I am satisfied for Mr. Nunn, that we never did fear any scrutiny or inquiry by his lordship into his fees, never having received his fees, nor accounted with him for them in any way (until his directions to the contrary) that had not been the practice when I entered into office, which was previous to the year 1780, and as received and accounted for by Mr. Morgan the late Remembrancer with the former Chief Barons.

The inference endeavoured to be made from the mention of, or allusion to, a controversy between Mr. Berry and me, respecting my claims upon the subject of a branch of my office, which was interfered with (unintentionally, I am satisfied) by a clause in the Act of the 57th of Geo. 3. must fall to the ground, when I state, and in which I will be supported by Mr. Nunn, that it was Mr. Nunn who furnished to his lordship the answer, which was forwarded to the order of the House of Commons of the 16th April 1821; for I had drawn it up, and showed it to the Chief Baron, as stated and approved of by his lordship, without the introduction of the latter paragraph, so much disapproved of by his lordship; but Mr. Nunn, who is the deputy Remembrancer, and whose signature was necessary thereto, conceiving it right to state the authority under which the fees were received, required that such statement should be made, and declined to sign the answer, as I had drawn it up without such addition: upon which I told him that if he did, he should take it on himself, and wait on the Chief Baron with it; which he accordingly did; and the Chief Baron remonstrated with him, but Mr. Nunn declared he did not feel himself justified in forwarding it in any other way, and accordingly did so. And it will be observed, that his lordship states it to be signed only by Mr. Nunn, as Deputy Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer.

It is very plain, therefore, that the stated controversy between Mr. Berry and me (and which merely arose upon a question, as to which of our official departments certain fees belonged) and the memorial that followed, had no influence whatever, nor could it have any concern in the least, with this transaction.

In respect to judicial writs from this office, they are not many, and no fee whatever was or is received on them in the office: they having been always given to the attorney to take to the Baron for his signature, who himself received his fee thereon.

The fee of 1*s.* for entering the order, is of very ancient establishment; and the additional fee of 1*s.* 1*d.* was established by Mr. Morgan, the late Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer, and is always set down distinctly as a clerk's fee; and it being discretionary in the attorney to allow it, it is struck off if objected to. And with respect to the fee of 6*s.* 8*d.* which his lordship alleges was, or should have been charged for him on long orders, I need only say, that in my belief such fee never was charged or received in the office, upon any order whatsoever, within my recollection. The observation of his lordship, that I charged the long fee for the officer, and the short fee for him, is erroneous: the fees for both having been charged and received by me, agreeably to what had been the practice for perhaps a century back.

Lord Chief Baron Burgh, as I informed the present Lord Chief Baron, spoke to me on the subject of that fee of 6*s.* 8*d.* on long orders in the nature of decrees; but finding that it was not the practice to charge it, he gave it up, and was content to receive the fee of 2*s.* 6*d.*

The Lord Chief Baron states, that the only conversation he had with me on the subject of the English and Irish currency, previous to the Order of the House of Commons in 1821, was that in spring 1808. This I deny, as it certainly occurred in 1806, as before explained: and I also positively deny that it originated with me; on the contrary, it moved from his Lordship, as stated by me, in my answer before the Commissioners of Inquiry; and I also positively deny that I ever had any such object in view, as suggested by his Lordship, to obtain from him personally some direction with respect to my accounting with him for his fees in English currency from 1806, which, he alleges, I had never obtained; for I do positively assert, that I had his personal directions and authority previously given to me, and I again repeat, that I never did collect or receive his fees in English currency, until directed and authorized by his Lordship so to do.

As to the latter paragraph in his Lordship's letter, relative to this office, wherein his Lordship says, that if I was led astray by the augmentation of the official fees, by the supposed augmentation of his, I could have no excuse for having gone beyond them. I deny having ever gone beyond them; nor did I ever charge or receive the fee of 6*s.* 8*d.* therein stated, and of course would not have been expected to have paid it to his lordship. The fee of 6*s.* 6*d.* for an absolute order, is of most ancient standing, and belongs to the Remembrancer himself, and is composed as follow, by the old Table of Fees; viz. for making out the order 5*s.* and for the copy 1*s.* 6*d.* making 6*s.* 6*d.* which converted into English currency makes 7*s.* 0½*d.*

I shall not at present further occupy your time, than to state, that I shall be happy to have an opportunity of giving any explanations respecting my testimony before the Commissioners of Inquiry. And have the honour to be,

Your most obedient, and very humble Servant,

(Signed)

SIR,

Office of Inquiry Dublin, 1st July 1822.

THE circumstance of our not having received any acknowledgment of a letter, which we had the honour of addressing to you on the 11th ultimo, (and of which a copy is enclosed,) leads us to conjecture, that, in the pressure of a multiplicity of important business, it may possibly have escaped your consideration. We are the more anxious to secure your attention to the subject of it, in consequence of our having perused the Letter of the Lord Chief Baron of Ireland, since published, professing to be a reply to our recent report, in answer to the reference of His Majesty's Government to us, respecting the charges contained in a Report of a Committee of the House of Commons, founded on our Ninth Report, and the Chief Baron's answer to that report.

His lordship's letter, now published, though it had been for some days previously distributed here in a particular circle, came into our possession only by the post of Saturday.

Upon the contents of this document, separately considered, as affecting the substantive charges pending against his Lordship, it is not our purpose to add any observation that could influence a judgment upon them. The subject, we observe, is appointed for discussion in the House of Commons, whose decision, as it may affect the Lord Chief Baron, we neither presume to anticipate, nor desire to bias.

But his lordship, in seeking to defend his own conduct, has questioned our competency, our consistency, and the purity of our motives. In the endeavour to shield himself by fixing a stigma upon us, and thereby to impeach the sufficiency and impartiality of our investigation and Report, the Lord Chief Baron has employed fallacious arguments and unfounded representations; and he has perversely attributed to us statements, alledged to be contradictory, which are perfectly reconcileable with consistency and truth.

We beg to call to your recollection, that the duty which we have discharged, was enjoined us by His Majesty's Government, in deference to the opinion of the House of Commons; and, with respect to our competency to proceed, as we have done, by the only means known to be in our power, we appeal to the authority which thus imposed the duty on us, the only test of the consistency of our statements which we can at present offer without deviating from the intention we have declared, not now to enter into the subject matter of the charges, is the fact, that all the averments of our Ninth Report, whereon the Committee of the House of Commons have founded their charges, stand substantiated and confirmed by the evidence which has been published since the promulgation of that Report.

The purity of our motives we shall not descend to assert.

The publication of the letter, preliminary to our recent Report, which it was the object of our last communication to you to procure, might have precluded the supposition that, in abstaining from any notice of the insinuations contained in the Chief Baron's former letter, we were not prepared to refute them, and might possibly have prevented the repetition of them. The imputation which his Lordship has now deliberately advanced, if passed over in silence, might give colour to such a supposition. It is therefore, that we desire to place in your hands, as the organ of the instructions under which we have acted, this Protest against all and each of the misrepresentations by which, in his former and present letter addressed to Mr. Gregory, his Lordship has sought to detract from the integrity of our proceedings; and we trust, that it is not too much to intreat of the justice of His Majesty's Government that, if under the impressions which his Lordship's letters and representations are calculated to produce, any opinion derogatory to the character which we feel that we deserve and desire to maintain, should transpire in the approaching discussion, which cannot fail to bring the merits of our conduct under observation, you will, on our behalf, assert our readiness and ability to meet and to refute the grounds of such opinion, however inculcated, or by whomsoever it may be advanced.

6. Dawson-street, 1st July 1822.

SIR,

Having late yesterday evening, for the first time, seen the letter of the Lord Chief Baron of the 10th of the last month, addressed to Mr. Gregory, on the subject of the Eleventh Report of the Commissioners of Inquiry into the courts of Justice in Ireland; and having read with much attention that part of it which observes so strongly, and with such pointed animadversion, on the evidence given by Mr. Daniel Beere and myself, I am called upon, in vindication of my own testimony, to suggest the expediency of a re-examination by the Commissioners, that I may have an opportunity of removing any unfavourable impressions which his Lordship's letter may have conveyed with respect to me, and from which, if any such do exist, I have no doubt I shall be able entirely to relieve myself.

His Lordship having not only impeached my evidence, but having also attributed to me, though not in direct terms, a most disgraceful motive, I trust that the Commissioners will consider me justified in soliciting a re-examination, that I may have an opportunity of supporting my testimony, the truth of which I can support fully and effectually. I am also desirous to be permitted the privilege of denying upon my oath, the existence of the motive imputed to me.

I have taken the liberty of thus addressing myself to the Commissioners through you, conceiving them to be the proper channel of communication upon this occasion.

I have, &c.

James Johnston, Esq. (Signed) JOSHUA NUNN.
Sec^y to the Comm^{rs} of Inquiry.

Office of Inquiry Dublin, 16th July 1822.

SIR,

UPON mature reflection, we think it may be considered due to the Public and to ourselves, that we should not permit the imputations cast upon us by the Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer of Ireland, in his recent letter to Mr. Gregory, to continue in circulation without some public notice.

If, on the occasion of postponing the intended proceedings in the House of Commons, any protest against those imputations being prematurely accredited, had been offered on our behalf, we should have felt secure against any opinions unjust or doubtful towards us, whether flowing from hasty misconception of the subject, or adopted from less casual sources; but they have passed without such notice, and the presumption due to the actual situation of the Lord Chief Baron, and the character of

of his office, might suggest, and possibly justify, the supposition, whilst they remain unanswered, that they are not destitute of truth or pretext.—If his Lordship were to be differently regarded, as lying under charges not disproved, and entitled to forbearance as an accused person, we must still confess, that to submit to the risk of any compromise of our official character, would be, in our judgment, an undue concession to such a feeling. The Lord Chief Baron's exculpation must rest upon the facts of the case; and whilst, with respect to them, we are silent, the rescue of our character from unfounded aspersion, cannot deprive him of any legitimate or honourable ground of defence. Under the conviction, therefore, that the satisfaction of our own feelings, in the acquittal of what may be thought our duty in this respect, can work no prejudice to the true merits of the Lord Chief Baron's case, we have resolved to address the enclosed petition to the House of Commons, as the most ostensible, direct and suitable proceeding. We have to request the favour of you, to present this petition, and to procure the printing of it, under the order of the House of Commons; but, in preferring this request to you, officially, we beg to express our readiness to defer to your better judgment; and if, under all the actual circumstances of the case, known to you, and of which we may be insufficiently informed, the proposed step should appear to you, on any ground of public policy, objectionable, or inexpedient, we are desirous to be governed by your discretion in abstaining from it.

We have, &c.

Right Honourable
Henry Goulburn,

Irish Office, 20th July 1822.

Gentlemen,

I HAVE had the honour of receiving your letter of the 16th instant, enclosing a petition to the House of Commons, and expressing an anxious wish that it should be presented to the House. In a case, which appeared to you to involve your private and public character, I did not feel that I was at liberty (notwithstanding the discretion which you permitted me to exercise) to permit any opinion of my own to interfere with the measures which you have deemed necessary for your vindication.

I accordingly lost no time in submitting your petition to the House of Commons; and as the House was pleased to order it to be printed, I trust that the course pursued will be satisfactory to you.

I have, &c.

HENRY GOULBURN.

COPY OF THE CERTIFICATE

Filed by the Commissioners of Inquiry into the Duties, Salaries, and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks, and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, in the Office of the Auditor General in Ireland; in the case of the Claim of the PROTHONOTARIES of the Court of King's Bench in Ireland, for Compensation, in pursuance of the Act 1 & 2 Geo. 4. c. 53 :

ALSO,

COPIES OF THE CORRESPONDENCE

Between the Right honourable HENRY GOULBURN and the above Commissioners, on the subject of their said Certificate.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed, 22 April 1823.

IN pursuance of the Act of the 1st and 2d of His present Majesty's reign, c. 53, whereby it is, amongst other things, provided, That certain allowances shall be granted to the late Prothonotaries of the Court of King's Bench, in compensation and consideration of the loss incurred by them, by the ceasing and determining of their rights in the said Office; We, His Majesty's Commissioners, appointed to inquire into the Duties, Salaries and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, having first taken the Oath prescribed by the 47th section of the Act, have proceeded to the discharge of the duty required of us, under the following provision of the same Act :—

“ And for the ascertaining the amount of the allowance and compensation to be made to the said present holders of the said last-mentioned offices, upon the ceasing and determining of their rights in the said offices respectively as aforesaid; Be it Enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Commissioners appointed to inquire into the duties, salaries and emoluments of the officers, clerks, and ministers of justice, in all temporal and ecclesiastical courts in Ireland, and the said Commissioners are hereby authorized and required, to make inquiry into the salaries and emoluments of the said office of Prothonotary, and Filacer and Keeper of the writs, processes, rules, orders and records, in the civil side of the said court of King's Bench, and of the said office of Prothonotary of the said court of Common Pleas, and of the said offices of Filacer and Exigenter of the said court of Common Pleas; and to ascertain the annual amount of the salaries and emoluments of the said offices respectively, upon the average of the seven years next preceding the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, or upon the average of the seven years next preceding such day prior to the said first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, up to which the last account of the emoluments of the said several offices shall have been settled by the said officers respectively, excluding out of such average all such emoluments and income as shall appear, according to the best judgment that the said Commissioners can form thereof, to have arisen from any new fees, or from an increase of fees not arising from an increase of business, introduced subsequent to the appointment of the present holders of the said offices respectively, or from any fees, or any increase of fees which may have been introduced within twenty years prior to the commencement of this Act, or from any fees of right belonging to any other officer, or from any fees which may have been demanded or received contrary to the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or in any way contrary to law; and for that purpose, and for the purpose of every inquiry which they are directed or authorized by this Act to make, it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, and they are hereby authorized and required to examine upon oath, all parties interested in every such inquiry, and also all such other persons as shall be produced before them the said Commissioners, or as they shall think proper to require, and whom they are hereby respectively empowered to summon, together with all such accounts, books and vouchers as the said Commissioners shall call for; and the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, or any three of them, shall thereupon certify, under their hands and seals, the amount of the yearly income of every such officer, on the average of the said seven years, as reduced by the exclusion of such emoluments as aforesaid, and also by the exclusion of all such part, share or proportion of the fees or profits remaining after such reduction, as shall, during the said period of seven years, have been paid to or received or retained by, or on behalf of the deputies or clerks of the said offices respectively, and also by the exclusion of all disbursements and other deductions whatever (except in the case hereinafter mentioned and provided for,) so as to state only the net annual income of the said offices respectively, on the average of the said seven years, according to the said mode of estimating the same; and the said certificate shall contain a statement of the particular fees, profits and emoluments, on which such averages shall have been taken as aforesaid; and also of the fees, profits and emoluments heretofore received, which shall be excluded from such averages; and the said certificate shall be filed in the office of the Auditor General in Dublin Castle, without any fee being paid for the same, and shall remain there as a record":—

WE have accordingly summoned various persons, and others have been produced before us by counsel, attending at the instance and on behalf of the claimants, whose depositions upon oath we have taken in writing; and we have also examined divers account books, bills of costs and other vouchers, to enable us to certify, according to the best of our skill and judgment, the several matters required of us under the provisions of the aforesaid Act.

In approaching this our duty, we have been called upon, under the obligation of our oath, severally to construe the Act according to the best of our skill and judgment. Our most attentive consideration of this Act has not enabled us to adopt an unanimous opinion of its just construction; the constructions of which the Act has been considered by different members of our Board, susceptible, vary greatly in their pecuniary results. Under an impression of the importance of the ultimate decision to the claimants and to the public, and conceiving that a revision of our certificate by the Legislature, is contemplated in the terms of the 14th and 66th sections of the Act, with a view to sanction an equitable final adjustment, we deem it most consistent with our duty, and most suitable to the objects of the Legislature, to state the distinct views which have been taken in construing the Act, and to accompany our exposition of those views by separate SCHEDULES adapted to each.

To some of us it appears to have been the intention of the Legislature, according to the true construction of the Act, that the Compensation should be measured with reference to the Fees which were taken in the office of the Prothonotary, either as for principal or deputy, and appear from the ancient bills of costs of record in the office (so far as they afford information) to have been allowed on taxation at and previous to the time when the present claimants came into possession of the office; and which have since continued in use, and from fees, legally warranted, introduced since the appointment of the claimants; considering the exclusion intended by the Act, of "all such part, share, or proportion of the Fees or Profits, as have been paid to or received or retained by or on behalf of the deputies," to refer only to the portion of the Fees so received in the office, which constituted the remuneration of the deputies, during the period of the seven years for which the average is directed to be taken.

The Schedule N° 1, exhibits the Fees to be allowed, and disallowed, under this construction of the Act ; and the amount of the net income of the Prothonotaries, so estimated, would be - - - £. 7,732. 3. 8. yearly.

To other members of the Board it has appeared, that whilst the Act does not describe or express what Fees or Profits shall be allowed, the true intent and effect of the several clauses of exclusion are, to limit the allowance to profits arising from receipts ; which may be classed under three heads :—

First,—From Fees of the office as established and limited by a commission under Royal warrant issued in the year 1635, and avowed as the continuing claims in the official returns of the Fees made to Parliament at successive periods, one so late as the year 1768, being two years subsequent to the appointment of the claimants, excluding the excess of the actual claims above the Fees so established and returned to Parliament as not of right belonging to the Prothonotaries, and as having been received by and on behalf of the Deputies at the time of the grant to the claimants, and until they came into possession of the office in the year 1790, when in collecting the Fees the distinction as between those of the Principal and Deputies ceased, which arrangement is considered to have been in effect an increase of the Principal's Fees not arising from an increase of business :

Appendix
to 6th Report,
N° 11, Q. 119.

Second,—From such Fees, for services introduced subsequent to the above-mentioned legal establishment of the Fees of the office, as should be proved to have been in use at the time of the appointment of the claimants :

Thirdly,—From Fees legally warranted, which may have been introduced since the appointment of the claimants.

The Schedule N° 2, exhibits the Fees to be allowed, and disallowed, under this construction of the Act ; and the amount of the net income of the Prothonotaries, so estimated, would be - - - £ 4,487. 9. yearly.

COPIES OF THE CORRESPONDENCE

Between the Right honourable HENRY GOULBURN and the Commissioners of Inquiry into Courts of Justice in Ireland, on the subject of the Certificate of the Commissioners, in the case of the Claim of the PROTHONOTARIES of the Court of King's Bench in Ireland, for Compensation, in pursuance of the Act 1 & 2 Geo. 4. c. 53.

Gentlemen, Irish Office, London, March 10, 1823.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, transmitting a document under your hands and seals, stating two distinct views which have been taken by Members of the Commission, in construing the Act of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4. and transmitting two Schedules, giving very different Statements of the amount of Compensation to which the Prothonotaries of the King's Bench are entitled.

The document which you have transmitted, does not appear to me to be either in form or in substance conformable with the intentions of the Legislature, as laid down in the 1st and 2d Geo. 4. c. 53; that Act specifically requires that the Commissioners should furnish a Certificate of the precise amount of compensation to which the Prothonotaries of the court are entitled. The Act has laid down the rules by which their decision is to be guided; former Acts have given the Commissioners peculiar powers, for the purpose of inquiry and investigation;—and, although a power is reserved to Parliament, of revising the decision to which the Commissioners may come, and making a provision distinct from that stated in their certificate; yet the Act cannot be construed as contemplating a course of proceeding on the part of the Commissioners, which in fact throws either on Parliament, or on the Government, the whole task of inquiring into, and deciding upon a question, which was specially committed to the determination of the Commissioners alone.

I beg also to point out to you, by reference to the 12th clause of the Act, that the Act has not required the signature of all the Commissioners, as necessary to give validity to their certificate of compensation.

Parliament appears to have considered, that individuals upon oath might conscientiously entertain different views upon a question involving matters of law as well as of fact; and therefore gave to any three of the Commissioners, the power of signing an adequate certificate of the amount of compensation due. I have therefore thought it incumbent upon me, to request that you would take the subject again into your consideration, and transmit to me such a Certificate, under the hands and seals of any three of the Commissioners, as may satisfy the object of the Act, by specifying precisely the annual amount of Compensation, to which the majority of the Commissioners consider the Prothonotaries entitled.

I have, &c.

The Commissioners of Inquiry into Courts of Justice in Ireland.

Sir,

Office of Inquiry, Dublin, 18th March 1823.

WE have had the honour of receiving your letter of the 10th instant, acquainting us, that the Certificate which we have filed in the office of the Auditor General, in the case of the claim of the Prothonotaries of the court of King's Bench, for compensation, in pursuance of the Act of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4. c. 53. and of which copies were transmitted to you, to be laid before both Houses of Parliament, according to the 66th section of that Act, does not appear to you to be, either in form or in substance, conformable to the intentions of the Legislature as laid down in that Act; and requesting us to take the subject again into consideration, and transmit to you such a certificate, under the hands and seals of any three of the Commissioners, as may satisfy the object of the Act; by specifying precisely the annual amount of the Compensation, to which the majority of the Commissioners consider the Prothonotaries entitled.

THE difficulties which the Commissioners have experienced, in making up their Certificate, leaves it a matter of no surprize, but of great regret, that it has not appeared satisfactory to you. It will be recollected, that this duty (which is not within the scope and provisions of our commission) has been executed under the sanction of an oath, and the complicated provisions of an Act of the Legislature: In the construing these provisions, and the application of them to each of the numerous different items of claims, so much variance arose in the different views, which (under this obligation) the several Members of the Board had taken of them, that it was found impossible to obtain the concurrence of the same three Commissioners to each of the items of allowance or disallowance under any one construction of the Act; whilst the items, as set forth in either branch of the certificate, had the sanction of three, though not of the same members: Under these circumstances, therefore, the mode adopted of embracing both the principles, set forth in the certificate, was the only one by which the required number of signatures could be obtained to a certificate on any principle. In each of the Schedules forming part of our certificate, there is a distinct specification, fully authenticated by evidence, of each item of allowance, disallowance and deduction, as required by the 12th section of the Act; in each of the two modes of estimating the averages which have been adopted. We trust, therefore, that nothing more of examination will be found necessary, and that the Certificate, in this respect, substantially satisfies the provisions of the Act. In the view which we have unanimously entertained of the 66th section of the Act, as providing for an ultimate adjudication by Parliament, it will only have to determine between the two principles, distinctly set forth, and separately exemplified in the respective Schedules annexed to the Certificate; and then to adopt that branch of the Certificate, the principle of which it shall have sanctioned.

It may be proper to observe, in reply to an allusion in your letter to former Acts of Parliament concerning our Board, that the only Act from which we derive any powers, is that of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4. c. 53; no former or other Acts, nor our commission bearing any relation to this peculiar jurisdiction. The obstacle, however, to a fulfilment of the provisions of that Act, in the mode which seems to be considered by you exclusively requisite, does not arise out of any defect in our powers, but from the natural difficulty of obtaining a concurrence of opinion in the application of a complicated statute to matters of still greater complexity.

We have the honour to be, &c.

Gentlemen, Dublin Castle, April 3d, 1823.

WITH reference to the communication which I had the honour of holding with you a few days since, I trouble you for the sole purpose of ascertaining, whether I correctly understood you to state, that there was no item in the Schedule, N° 1, annexed to your report, which had not the sanction of three of the Commissioners of Judicial Inquiry.

I have, &c.

The Commissioners of Inquiry

Sir, Office of Inquiry, Dublin, April 4th, 1823.

IN reply to the question proposed to us in your letter of the 3d instant, we have to state, that, subject to the qualification set forth in our Certificate, in the case of the late Prothonotaries of the Court of King's Bench, and fully explained (as we trust) by our letter of the 18th ultimo, and in the conversations which we had the honour of holding with you yesterday, and on the 26th ultimo; there is no item in the Schedule, N° 1, annexed to that Certificate, which had not the sanction of three Members of our Board. To prevent the possibility of misconception, we think it right to add, that without that qualification, the Certificate, as applying to the Schedule, N° 1, could not have had the sanction of three Commissioners.

We have the honour to be, &c.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed, 22 May 1823.

IN pursuance of the Act of the 1st and 2d of His present Majesty's reign, c. 53. whereby it is, amongst other things, provided, That certain allowances shall be granted to the late Prothonotaries of the Court of Common Pleas, in compensation and consideration of the loss incurred by them, by the ceasing and determining of their rights in the said Office; We, His Majesty's Commissioners, appointed to inquire into the Duties, Salaries and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, having first taken the Oath prescribed by the 47th section of the said Act, have proceeded to the discharge of the duty required of us, under the following provisions of the same Act:—

“ And for the ascertaining the amount of the allowance and compensation to be made to the said present holders of the said last-mentioned offices, upon the ceasing and determining of their rights in the said offices respectively as aforesaid; Be it Enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Commissioners appointed to inquire into the duties, salaries and emoluments of the officers, clerks, and ministers of justice, in all temporal and ecclesiastical courts in Ireland, and the said Commissioners are hereby authorized and required, to make inquiry into the salaries and emoluments of the said office of Prothonotary, and Filacer and Keeper of the writs, processes, rules, orders and records, in the civil side of the said court of King's Bench, and of the said office of Prothonotary of the said court of Common Pleas, and of the said offices of Filacer and Exigenter of the said court of Common Pleas; and to ascertain the annual amount of the salaries and emoluments of the said offices respectively, upon the average of the seven years next preceding the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, or upon the average of the seven years next preceding such day prior to the said first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, up to which the last account of the emoluments of the said several offices shall have been settled by the said officers respectively, excluding out of such average all such emoluments and income as shall appear, according to the best judgment that the said Commissioners can form thereof, to have arisen from any new fees, or from an increase of fees not arising from an increase of business, introduced subsequent to the appointment of the present holders of the said offices respectively, or from any fees, or any increase of fees which may have been introduced within twenty years prior to the commencement of this Act, or from any fees of right belonging to any other officer, or from any fees which may have been demanded or received contrary to the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or in any way contrary to law; and for that purpose, and for the purpose of every inquiry which

which they are directed or authorized by this Act to make, it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, and they are hereby authorized and required to examine upon oath, all parties interested in every such inquiry, and also all such other persons as shall be produced before them the said Commissioners, or as they shall think proper to require, and whom they are hereby respectively empowered to summon, together with all such accounts, books and vouchers as the said Commissioners shall call for; and the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, or any three of them, shall thereupon certify, under their hands and seals, the amount of the yearly income of every such officer, on the average of the said seven years, as reduced by the exclusion of such emoluments as aforesaid, and also by the exclusion of all such part, share or proportion of the fees or profits remaining after such reduction, as shall, during the said period of seven years, have been paid to or received or retained by, or on behalf of the deputies or clerks of the said offices respectively, and also by the exclusion of all disbursements and other deductions whatever (except in the case hereinafter mentioned and provided for,) so as to state only the net annual income of the said offices respectively, on the average of the said seven years, according to the said mode of estimating the same; and the said certificate shall contain a statement of the particular fees, profits and emoluments, on which such averages shall have been taken as aforesaid; and also of the fees, profits and emoluments heretofore received, which shall be excluded from such averages; and the said certificate shall be filed in the office of the Auditor General in Dublin Castle, without any fee being paid for the same, and shall remain there as a record :”—

WE have accordingly summoned various persons, and others have been produced before us by counsel, attending at the instance and on behalf of the claimants, and we have also examined account-books, bills of costs and other vouchers, to enable us to certify, according to the best of our skill and judgment, the several matters required of us under the provisions of the aforesaid Act.

In approaching this our duty, we have been called upon, under the obligation of our oath, severally to construe the Act according to the best of our skill and judgment. Our most attentive consideration of this Act has not enabled us to adopt an unanimous opinion of its just construction; the constructions of which the Act has been considered by different members of our Board, susceptible, vary greatly in their pecuniary results. Under an impression of the importance of the ultimate decision to the claimants and to the public, and conceiving that a revision of our certificate by the Legislature, is contemplated in the terms of the 14th and 66th sections of the Act, with a view to sanction an equitable final adjustment, we deem it most consistent with our duty, and most suitable to the objects of the Legislature, to state two distinct views which have been taken in construing the Act, and to accompany our exposition of those views by separate SCHEDULES adapted to each.

To some of us, advertng to the legal identity of principal and deputy, it appears to have been the intention of the Legislature, according to the true construction of the Act, that the Compensation should be measured with reference to the Fees which were taken in the office of the Prothonotary, whether appropriated to principal or deputy, and appear from taxed bills of costs of record in the office (so far as they afford information) to have been in use at and previous to the time when the present claimants came into possession of the office (in the year 1800,) and which have since continued in use, and from fees, legally warranted, introduced since the appointment of the claimants; considering the exclusion intended by the Act, of “all such part, share, or proportion of the Fees or Profits, as have been paid to or received or retained by or on behalf of the deputies,” to refer only to the portion of the Fees so received in the office, which constituted the remuneration of the deputies; during the period of the seven years for which the average is directed to be taken.

The Schedule N° 1, exhibits the Fees to be allowed, and disallowed, under this construction of the Act; and the amount of the net income of the Prothonotaries, so estimated, would be Seven thousand seven hundred and forty-five pounds nineteen shillings and eleven pence, yearly.

To other members of the Board it has appeared, that it being the express object of the Act to compensate the claimants, “for the loss incurred by them by the ceasing and determining of their rights in the office,” those rights, so far as they can be be ascertained, must be adopted as the standard of allowance under a just construction of the Act, unless that standard be varied by some specific provision of the Act.

That the Act not having expressed or described what Fees shall be allowed, the provisions for the reduction of the amount of the actual receipts by the exclusion of "any new Fees, or increase of Fees introduced subsequent to the appointment of the claimants, of any Fees of right belonging to any other officer, and of any Fees which may have been demanded or received contrary to the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or in any way contrary to law, and also of all such part, share, or proportion of the Fees or Profits remaining after such reduction, as shall, during the said period of seven years, have been paid to, or received, or retained, by or on behalf of the deputies or clerks," must be considered as designed to limit, and do, in just construction, limit the allowance to such Fees as were the established right of the Prothonotary, at the time of the appointment of the claimants, and to Fees since legally established. That successive Returns of Fees claimed to be due and payable to the Prothonotary, his Deputy or Clerks (one bearing date subsequent to the grant of the office to the claimants,) having been made to Parliament, corresponding, except in two immaterial items, one being a Fee subsequently introduced by statute, with a List returned in the year 1717-18, in obedience to the Act of the 4th George the first, c. 8, which required Lists to be delivered by all officers of "all Fees claimed to be due and payable to them, their deputies or clerks, or any other person or persons acting in their offices;" and also corresponding, in many instances, with the Fees established in the year 1635, by a commission issued under royal warrant for the reformation of Fees, those Returns must be considered as exhibiting the acknowledged rates of the Fees therein, from time to time claimed as the rights of the Prothonotary, and as limiting the allowances under this Act in compensation for the ceasing of those Fees or rights.

That the excess of the charges that were in use by the persons acting in the office when the claimants came into possession, which charges comprized Fees or sums then received and retained by and on behalf of the Deputy for his own use, beyond the rates of the Fees so claimed in the Returns above mentioned, was an exaction of Fees or sums not of right belonging to the Prothonotary, and not warranted by law.

That the appropriation by the claimant to his own use of such excessive Fees or sums as had been theretofore received as Fees belonging to the Deputy, and retained to his use, was, in effect, an increase of the Prothonotary's Fees, and consequently, that the excessive claims above the recognized rates of the established Fees set forth in the Returns above referred to, must be considered as falling under the above-recited provisions of this Act, for the exclusion of any increase of Fees introduced subsequent to the appointment of the claimants of Fees received in any way contrary to law, and of Fees received on behalf of the Deputy.

The Schedule, N° 2, exhibits the Fees to be allowed, and disallowed, under this construction of the Act; and the amount of the net income of the Prothonotaries, so estimated, would be Five thousand two hundred and fifty-three pounds fifteen shillings and ten-pence yearly.

FILACER OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, IRELAND.

COPY OF THE CERTIFICATE

Filed by the Commissioners of Inquiry into the Duties, Salaries, and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks, and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, in the Office of the Auditor General in Ireland; in the case of the Claim of the FILACER of the Court of Common Pleas in Ireland, for Compensation, in pursuance of the Act 1 & 2 Geo. 4. c. 53.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed, 23 May 1823.

IN pursuance of the Act of the 1st and 2d of His present Majesty's reign, c. 53. whereby it is, amongst other things, provided, that certain allowances shall be granted to the late Filacer of the Court of Common Pleas, in compensation and consideration of the loss incurred by him, by the ceasing and determining of his rights in the said Office; We, His Majesty's Commissioners, appointed to inquire into the Duties, Salaries and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, having first taken the Oath prescribed by the 47th section of the said Act, have proceeded to the discharge of the duty required of us, under the following provision of the same Act:—

“ And for the ascertaining the amount of the allowance and compensation to be made to the said present holders of the said last-mentioned offices, upon the ceasing and determining of their rights in the said offices respectively as aforesaid; Be it Enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Commissioners appointed to inquire into the duties, salaries and emoluments of the officers, clerks, and ministers of justice, in all temporal and ecclesiastical courts in Ireland, and the said Commissioners are hereby authorized and required, to make inquiry into the salaries and emoluments of the said office of Prothonotary, and Filacer and Keeper of the writs, processes, rules, orders and records, in the civil side of the said Court of King's Bench, and of the said office of Prothonotary of the said court of Common Pleas, and of the said offices of Filacer and Exigenter of the said court of Common Pleas; and to ascertain the annual amount of the salaries and emoluments of the said offices respectively, upon the average of the seven years next preceding the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, or upon the average of the seven years next preceding such day prior to the said first day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, up to which the last account of the emoluments of the said several offices shall have been settled by the said officers respectively, excluding out of such average all such emoluments and income as shall appear, according to the best judgment that the said Commissioners can form thereof, to have arisen from any new fees, or from an increase of fees not arising from an increase of business, introduced subsequent to the appointment of the present holders of the said offices respectively, or from any fees or any increase of fees which may have been introduced within twenty years prior to the commencement of this Act, or from any fees of right belonging to any other officer, or from any fees which may have been demanded or received contrary to the provisions of any Act of Parliament, or in any way contrary to law; and for that purpose, and for the purpose of every inquiry which they are directed or authorized by this Act to make, it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, and they are hereby authorized and required, to examine upon oath all parties interested in every such inquiry, and also, all such other persons as shall be produced before them the said Commissioners, or as they shall think proper to require, and whom they are hereby respectively empowered to summon, together with all such accounts, books, and vouchers, as the said Commissioners shall call for; and the said Commissioners of Inquiry for the time being, or any three of them, shall thereupon certify under their hands and seals, the amount of the yearly income of every such officer, on the average of the said seven years, as reduced by the exclusion of such emoluments as aforesaid, and also by the exclusion of all such part, share or proportion of the fees or profits remaining after such reduction, as shall during the said period of seven years, have been paid to or received or retained by or on behalf of the deputies or clerks of the said offices respectively, and also by the exclusion of all disbursements and other deductions whatever (except in the case hereinafter mentioned and provided for) so as to state only the net annual income of the said offices respectively, on the average of the said seven years, according to the said mode of estimating the same; and the said certificate shall contain a statement of the particular fees, profits and emoluments, on which such averages shall have been taken as aforesaid, and also of the fees, profits and emoluments heretofore received, which shall be excluded from such averages; and the said certificate shall be filed in the office of the Auditor General in Dublin Castle, without any fee being paid for the same, and shall remain there as a record:—

IN approaching this our duty, we have been called upon under the obligation of our oath, severally to construe the Act according to the best of our skill and judgment. Our most attentive consideration of this Act has not enabled us to adopt an unanimous opinion of its just construction. The constructions of which the Act has been considered, by different members of our own Board susceptible, vary considerably in their pecuniary results. Under an impression of the importance of the ultimate decision to the claimant and to the public, and conceiving that a revision of our certificate by the Legislature, is contemplated in the terms of the 14th and 66th sections of the Act, with a view to sanction an equitable final adjustment, we deem it most consistent with our duty, and most suitable to the objects of the Legislature, to state two distinct views which have been taken in construing the Act, and to accompany our exposition of those views by separate SCHEDULES adapted to each.

To some of us (adverting to the legal identity of principal and deputy) it appears to have been the intention of the Legislature, according to the true construction of the Act, that the Compensation should be measured with reference to the fees which were taken in the office of the Filacer, whether appropriated to principal or deputy, previous to the time when the present claimant came into possession of the office, and for more than twenty years prior to the commencement of the Act of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4. c. 53. and which have since continued in use, and from fees legally warranted, introduced since the appointment of the claimant, considering the exclusion intended by the Act, of “all such part, share or proportion of the fees or profits as have been paid to or received or retained by or on behalf of the deputies,” to refer only to the portion of the fees so received in the office, which constituted the remuneration of the deputies, during the period of the seven years for which the average is directed to be taken.

The Schedule, No. 1, exhibits the fees to be allowed and disallowed under this construction of the Act, and the amount of the net income of the Filacer, so estimated, would be seven hundred and eighty-seven pounds nineteen shillings and fourpence yearly.

To other members of the Board it has appeared, that the allowance to be granted to the claimant, according to the Act, “in compensation and consideration of the loss incurred by him by the ceasing and determining of his rights in the office,” must be limited to such fees as had received or acquired a legal establishment, and become the rights of the office twenty years prior to the grant of the office to him (in the year 1808) and to fees since legally established:—That the fees of this office having been regulated in the year 1635, by a commission appointed under royal warrant warrant for the reformation of fees, and a list having been returned in the year 1718, in obedience to the Act of the 4th Geo. 1. c. 8. of such fees as were allowed to and accustomed to be taken by the Filacer, his clerk or deputy (which List was published by order of the House of Lords in the year 1734) corresponding in several instances with the rates of the fees established in the year 1635; and a further Return having been made, in obedience to an order of the House of Lords in the year 1767, wherein the fees claimed coincide in almost every instance with the list returned, according to the statute; those Returns must be taken as exhibiting the acknowledged fees of the office:—That such gross charges, exceeding the rates of the fees claimed in those Returns, as were in use by the acting officer prior to the appointment of the claimant, the whole of which charges were then appropriated by the deputy to his own use, upon the payment of a fixed sum annually to the Filacer, comprized fees or sums exacted by the acting officer, not of right belonging to the Filacer, and not warranted by law:—That the appropriation of such excessive charges by the claimant on his appointment, as the fees of the Filacer, was, in effect, an increase of the Filacer's fees; and consequently, that the excessive claims, above the recognized rates of the established fees set forth in the Returns above referred to, must be considered as falling under the above-recited provisions of this Act, for the exclusion of any increase of fees introduced subsequent to the appointment of the claimant, of fees received in any way contrary to law, and of fees received on behalf of the deputy.

The Schedule, No. 2, exhibits the Fees to be allowed and disallowed, under the construction of the Act; and the amount of the net income of the Filacer, so estimated, would be five hundred and sixteen pounds eleven shillings and five-pence three farthings, yearly.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed, 28 May 1823.

IN pursuance of the 67th section of the Act of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4, c. 53, We, His Majesty's Commissioners, appointed to inquire into the Duties, Salaries and Emoluments of the Officers, Clerks and Ministers of Justice, in all Temporal and Ecclesiastical Courts in Ireland, have proceeded to investigate the Fees and Emoluments of the Usher of the Court of Exchequer, in the manner appointed by the said Act.

In approaching this our duty, we have been called upon, under the obligation of our oath, severally to construe the Act, according to the best of our skill and judgment. Our most attentive consideration of this Act, has not enabled us to adopt an unanimous opinion of its just construction: We have, therefore, thought it right to state two distinct views which have been taken in construing the Act, and to accompany our exposition of those views by separate Schedules, adapted to each.

To some of us it appears to have been the intention of the Legislature, according to the true construction of the Act, that the rights of the Ushers should be measured with reference to the Fees which were actually taken in the office, previous to the time when the present officers came into possession, and for more than twenty years prior to the commencement of the Act of the 1st and 2d Geo. 4, c. 33, and which have since continued in use, and from Fees legally warranted, introduced since the appointment of the present officers, excluding such Fees as have been introduced, and such increases as have been made by the present acting officer, without legal authority.

The Schedule, N° 1, exhibits the Fees to be allowed and disallowed under this construction of the Act, and the net income of the Ushers, so estimated, would be Seven hundred and sixty-eight pounds six shillings and one penny, yearly.

It having appeared, in investigating the Fees and Emoluments, in order to ascertain the rights of the Usher, according to the provision of the 67th section of the Act, that the Fees of this office were regulated by a commission under royal warrant, in the year 1635, and that the Fees set forth in the list delivered by the Usher in the year 1718, in obedience to the Act of the 4th Geo. 1st, c. 8, and published by order of the House of Lords, in the year 1734, agreed, with few exceptions, with those stated in a list extant, of the Fees so established in 1635; and, it having also appeared, that the list returned under the above statute, has been resorted to within the official experience of the present acting officer, as an authority; and, that several, and amongst them the most productive, of the continuing claims, correspond with that list. Other members of our Board are of opinion, that the rights of the Usher are established and concluded by the above-mentioned lists, so far as they apply to subsisting practice, and that the several additions to the rates of the Fees therein set forth (many of which have been made by the present acting officer, either as deputy or principal) must be considered as exactions, not forming any part of the rights of the Usher, and inadmissible under the provisions of this Act.

The Schedule, N° 2, exhibits the Fees to be allowed and disallowed, under this construction of the Act, and the amount of the net income of the Ushers, so estimated, would be Seven hundred and eleven pounds four shillings and four pence, yearly.

OBSERVATIONS:

THE Officers of this Establishment have no salary; they are remunerated for their constant services and attendance by the fees hereinbefore stated, out of which they have to provide an office, coals and candles, stationery, &c.

By order of His Majesty's Commissioners of Customs, returns from the office of this establishment of the quantity of coals discharged from each ship, upon its being cleared out, have been made to the Custom House for nearly 10 years, which has saved to His Majesty's Revenue the necessity and expense of providing so many ship officers; and it will be seen, by reference to the books of entry at the Custom House, that since the regulation commenced, by which the Coal Meters became a check for the Revenue as to the number of tons of coal discharged from each ship, and by the certificates from the proper officers of His Majesty's Customs, and of the Board of Wide Streets in Dublin, that the Revenue and Wide Streets duty on Coals have been increased above £. 12,000 per annum, and for the performance of which duty no remuneration whatever is made to this office, either by the Revenue or the Commissioners of Wide Streets.

The Coal Meters are obliged to stand on the deck, and to attend the admeasurement of coals out of ships, for eight months in the year from six o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock at night, and for four winter months from seven o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the evening, except during the hours appointed for breakfast and dinner.

The coals are measured out to the public, as in London, in the presence of a sworn Coal Meter, in half barrel tubs (16 of which make a ton) provided by the water bailiffs, who are officers appointed by the Corporation of Dublin; the size of the tub or half barrel is regulated by an Act of Parliament passed in the first year of the reign of his Majesty King George the second (1727,) and each tub is sealed by the Clerk of the Market, as directed by the statute.

The Inspectors duty is to visit each ship, and to see that the Meters do their duty correctly, and if any complaint be made, to report it to the Coal Committee appointed by the Guild of Merchants, who sit for the purpose of hearing and redressing any such complaints.

Quay Officers have been appointed by the Commissioners of Customs over the coal ships, to prevent the discharge of coals during the breakfast and dinner hours of the Coal Meters.

AN ACCOUNT of the respective Periods at which the DUES, CHARGES, or FEES of the COAL METERS in DUBLIN were first levied, and at what Periods respectively they have been increased, until they reach the specific Sums at which they now stand.

THE time when those Wages were first levied is too remote to be now ascertained, but it may have been long prior to the year 1451; the first regulation that can be found for ascertaining same is by authority of an Entry in an ancient Journal of the Guild of Merchants, dated Midsummer 30 Henry 6, which fixed the wages for measuring every 12 gallons of coals at the price of (not now easily intelligible but supposed to be) one farthing, which would amount to much more than the present wages.

This Bye-law of the Guild was confirmed by a Charter from King Henry the 6th, also by a Charter from Queen Elizabeth, both by authority of Parliament, which gave the Guild full power to make such new Bye-laws as to them should seem expedient.

The Coal Meters wages fixed at two-pence per ton by authority of the Guild, by a Bye-law, dated 14th January 1677.

The wages were raised to three-pence per ton, by authority of the Guild, on 13th January 1794, and this was necessarily done, in order to afford remuneration to an increased number of fifteen new Coal Meters, then found indispensable to be appointed to attend to the Coal Shipping, in order to do justice to the public, and to prevent delays in the delivery of Coals to purchasers.

The Meters wages were increased to four-pence per ton by authority of the Guild, on the 16th April 1798, which the Guild were induced to allow on account of the inadequacy of the wages of three-pence per ton to support them and their families, and in consequence of the increased hours of their attendance.

The last increase to six-pence per ton, being the present rate, and which is far less than the rate allowed in 1451, was allowed by authority of the said Guild of Merchants on the 12th July 1802, being upwards of twenty years ago, upon consideration of the benefit that would arise to their fellow citizens, from giving the Coal Meters such a remuneration as would prevent any collusion between them and the captains and masters of coal ships, by making them more independent of such captains and masters, and also in consideration of the additional labour then put on the Coal Meters in keeping exact tally in writing of the discharge of every cargo; the consequence of this increase has been, that a more respectable class of citizens now fill the situation of Coal Meters, strict justice is done to the public by their constant attention to the admeasurement of Coals, and His Majesty's Revenue, and the Wide Street Duties thereon, have been increased at least £. 12,000 per annum.

MY LORD,

Water Bailiffs Office, Dublin, 29th March 1823.

IN obedience to your Lordship's reference of the 7th instant (March) to the Orders of the Honourable the House of Commons, bearing date the 18th February last; viz.—

“ Ordered, That there be laid before this House, an Account of all Port Dues, Charges, or Fees, paid to persons appointed by the Lord Mayor of Dublin, or Guild of Merchants, on all Vessels discharging Coals in the Port of Dublin, during three years, ending January 1822, under the name of Fees or Gratuities to Master Coal Meters, or Inspectors Fees for Coal Tubs, Lord Mayor's Fees, Water Bailiffs Fees, Book-keeper's Fees, or other Fees, of whatever description, and by whatever other name designated, with the Name and Amount of Salary of Officer or Officers receiving or collecting the same; distinguishing the Particulars of such Dues, Charges, or Fees, to what purpose applied, and under what law or authority levied.”

“ Ordered, That there be laid before this House, an Account of the respective Periods at which the Dues, Charges, or Fees mentioned above, were first levied, and at what Periods respectively they have been increased, until they reached the specific Sums at which they now stand.”

We beg leave to submit, that the sum of seven shillings and threepence-halfpenny (Irish currency) has been paid into the Clerk of the Ships entries to our account, on all Vessels discharging Coals in the Port of Dublin, during three years, ending January 1822, amounting in the whole to the sum of £. 1,746. 9. 1. (that is to say;) for the year ending January 1820, £. 610. 6. 5½; for the year ending January 1821, £. 547. 15. 1½; and for the year ending January 1822, £. 588. 7. 6.; for which we are bound, under severe and heavy responsibilities, to provide each ship, during the discharge of its cargo, with two sufficient legal measures, to enable the Coal Meters to protect the public purchasers of Coals from fraud and imposition.

Edw^d Hamerton.

We presume, that five shillings and eight-pence of the above-mentioned seven shillings and threepence-halfpenny is levied under regulations, made and provided by the Corporation of the City of Dublin, in virtue of its chartered rights; we only know the charge to have existed with the Charter. The remaining one shilling and seven-pence halfpenny was a voluntary addition, made by the commanders of all the vessels in the trade, in the year 1800, upon a full conviction of the inadequacy of the existing remuneration to the duties and expenses of the Water Bailiffs. We found the charge consolidated and established with the former charge on our coming into office, and it has continued so, and been paid so, cheerfully and without a single murmur since.

We beg leave further to submit, that the expenditure attendant on this ancient establishment, useful and absolutely necessary as it is, reduces the remuneration for responsibility, and for constant care and personal attendance, of at least one of us, very much; under an arrangement of the Corporation, the collection of the charges on vessels discharging Coals in the Port of Dublin, has been consigned to the Clerk of the Ships Entries in the Port, at a per centage; the per centage on our proportion amounted to £.174. 10. 3. in the three years. The rent of an office, a yard, and store for the period, the materials for additional and new measures, to supply the place of damaged and cast ones, and to meet in the most prompt manner all applications; the constant employ of one, and occasional employ of other coopers, with other incidental expenses, amount to £.349. 1. 7. making in the whole, £.523. 11. 10. and leaving a net Balance of £.1,222. 17. 3. or on an average, £.200 per year, or thereabouts, for each of us.

All which is dutifully and humbly submitted, by your obedient Servants,

A. Mitchell,
Francis Thomé, } Water Bailiffs, City of Dublin.

of the City of Dublin.

* Shows only the Value of the Produce and Manufactures of the United Kingdom, in consequence of the Real Value of the Foreign Merchandize not having been made out since the 5th January 1820, owing to the difficulties experienced in obtaining a correct average price from the merchants, of the several articles exported, from which source of information the Real Value has, in former years, been computed.

Note :—IT is not the practice to make up the Value of the Trade of the respective Ports, unless specially called for; the Total Value only of each Article Imported into and Exported from Ireland, from and to the several Countries, being recorded for each year; it has therefore been necessary in preparing the above Statement, to compute the Value of each Article Imported into and Exported from Dublin; in consequence of which, it was found impracticable to furnish the Account for the number of years required by the Order, in proper time :—a Return for five years previous to the Union, and five years ending the 5th of January 1823, is therefore respectively submitted.

As the real Values of Imports and of Foreign and Colonial Goods Exported, cannot be stated for the latter period of five years, owing to the practice of making them out having been discontinued, from the difficulty experienced in obtaining correct information with regard to the average prices current of the various Articles, they have been omitted in the former period, as no comparison could be shown of those Values for the two periods; but the real Value of the Produce and Manufactures of Ireland Exported from Dublin, is stated for each of the years.

Previous to the Union, the official year ended on the 25th of March.

Custom House, Dublin, 14 June 1823.

THE Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs having received your letter, transmitting copy of an Order of the House of Commons, dated 21st ult^o, requiring accounts of the average price of all sorts of Grain; I am directed to acquaint you, that, with respect to the Returns of the prices of all kinds of Grain, I am to state, that in June 1818, the Returns which had theretofore been made by the several collectors to the register of corn returns, of the average price of Corn, were discontinued, it appearing that they were no longer necessary, the prices which regulated the importation of Corn, being from the alteration of the law, regulated by returns made from British ports only, and the ports being opened at all times for the exportation of Corn, that there is not therefore any officer here who can prepare the Returns required; but the Board have issued orders to their several collectors to apply to the proper Magistrate at their respective ports, to furnish them with the necessary information forthwith; and if it can be so obtained, no time shall be lost in preparing and forwarding the required Returns.

INSPECTOR GENERAL OF PRISONS, IRELAND.

CORRESPONDENCE

On the subject of granting a Superannuation Allowance to the Rev^d Foster Archer, late Inspector General of Prisons in Ireland.

— N^o 1. —

Copy of a LETTER from the Right Honourable Henry Goulburn to George Harrison, Esq. dated Dublin Castle, the 8th January 1822; with its Enclosures.

Dublin Castle, January 8th 1822.

SIR,

I SEND you herewith, by the command of the Lord Lieutenant, a Memorial from the Rev^d Foster Archer, late Inspector General of Prisons in Ireland, praying to be granted two thirds of his salary and emoluments when in that office, having served twenty-seven years, and being above sixty years of age.

And I am to signify His Excellency's desire, that you will submit the same to the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, for such directions thereupon as their Lordships shall think proper.

I am, &c. (signed)

HENRY GOULBURN.

George Harrison, Esq.
&c. &c. &c.

Enclosure 1.

To the Right Honourable the Lords of His Majesty's Treasury of Great Britain and Ireland.

The MEMORIAL of the Rev^d Foster Archer, Inspector General of the Prisons of Ireland;

Humbly represents,

THAT Your Lordships Memorialist was first appointed to the office in March 1795, previous to which he held some clerical appointments in the city of Cork, worth £.300 per annum.

That your Lordships Memorialist, in executing the arduous duties of his office, at a period of great commotion, was found useful and satisfactory by His Excellency Earl Camden.

That the duties of the office becoming daily more difficult and expensive, the gaols being crowded to excess, the country in a state of rebellion or protracted insurrections, an amendment to the Gaol Act became necessary, whereupon the Right Honourable Lord Maryborough, who humanely used to visit the prisons, and thus being personally acquainted with the defects of the system and principle of the old statute, 26 Geo. 3. introduced the statute, 50th Geo. 3. ch. 104, whereby the salary and emoluments of the Inspector General of the Prisons was made £. 850 per annum. Memorialist being continued in the office by the Chief Secretary, proves what opinion His Lordship entertained of his zeal and exertions in the discharge of the important duty.

That by Memorialist's continual attention to the duties of the office, he has been precluded from seeking or obtaining the smallest church preferment; and now in his grand climacteric, he and his family are without other means of support, save what his superannuation will afford.

That your Lordships Memorialist begs leave to observe, that from the words of the 1st and 2d stat. Geo. 4. ch. 57, sec. 8, it appears not intended to remove or displace your Memorialist, but to make the office more operative and extensive, as several new duties were thereby imposed.

That your Lordships Memorialist begs leave to state, that while very lately he was on a tour of Inspection of the Prisons in the disturbed counties, it was communicated to him, by order of the Right Honourable C. Grant, that two new Inspectors General would be appointed, and that your Memorialist would be allowed £. 300 per annum on retirement.

That your Memorialist humbly conceives, by stat. 50 Geo. 3. ch. 117, sec. 12, he is entitled to two-thirds of his salary and emoluments, he being above 60 years of age, and having served not only 15 but 27 years in that Public Office.

Memorialist therefore humbly entreats your Lordships equitable consideration of this true Statement, and, as is generally done in similar cases, grant that relief which shall, in justice, seem to your Lordships meet and expedient.

So prays your Memorialist.

Copy of the OPINION of J. S. Townsend, Esq. one of His Majesty's Law Officers, on the Case of the Rev^d Foster Archer.

I THINK the Inspector General of Prisons is a Public Officer under the Superannuation Act, 50 Geo. 3. ch. 117; and that the allowance which, by sec. 12, may be granted to him on retiring, if above 60 years, and having served above 15 years, is two thirds of the amount of his salary and emoluments.

Dublin Castle, November 26, 1822.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose, for the information of His Majesty's Government, the copy of a letter from the Attorney General, together with an authentic report of the evidence taken on the late trials in Dublin, of several persons for the crimes of administering and of taking unlawful oaths.

I request your particular attention to that part of the letter of the Attorney General, which recommends the extension of the provisions of the Act of the 39 of Geo. 3, to Ireland; and I beg leave to express my entire concurrence in that recommendation, and to add my humble request, that the early attention of Parliament may be called to this measure, as being intimately connected with the means of checking the progress of the system of illegal associations in Ireland.

I have the honour to be,
&c. &c.

WELLESLEY.

The Right honourable
Robert Peel,
&c. &c. &c.

P. S.—These communications would have been forwarded sooner, but that considerable time was required for printing authentic copies of the evidence given on the trials.

November 9th, 1822.

MY LORD,

YOUR EXCELLENCY will learn from the report of Mr. Greene, who has taken a correct note of the evidence, the particulars of the late trials. I cannot, however, postpone my congratulations on the result, which I consider as likely not merely to give an immediate check to the spreading of the conspiracy, but as affording the reasonable expectation of its final suppression at no very distant period.

I fear that in five or six counties, great numbers indeed of the lower classes have been involved in it; some of them from a love of enterprize and ready disposition for mischief; some on a principle of counteraction to exclusive associations of an opposite description; but most of them, I should hope, from terror on the one hand and the expectation of impunity on the other. This expectation must now be effectually removed; and the terror of the law will, I trust, soon be substituted in the place of the terror of the conspirators.

I strongly incline to think that the course of proceeding, which with your Excellency's sanction I have adopted, has been the wisest that could, under all the circumstances, have been resorted to.

A prosecution for high treason would have rested on an insecure foundation in law; its success would have been extremely doubtful with reference to the probable effect of the evidence; and to have been defeated in the attempt to establish such a charge, would have been injurious in a high degree. A charge for a traitorous conspiracy, would not have been liable to the same objections in law, but its success would in my opinion have been very doubtful; and even if convictions had been obtained, many persons would have doubted their justice, and the punishment would have been nothing beyond that of a misdemeanor; whereas we now have seven convictions, drawing after them the sentences of transportation for life; and one that of transportation for seven years; and besides, every person must be entirely convinced that the crime alledged, was really committed, and that the evidence was in this respect perfectly true. Universal distrust is now spread amongst these people; and by watching the occurrences at these meetings, and perhaps by a few additional convictions in some of the counties, into which the mischief had extended itself, I trust we may, without being too sanguine, look for a gradual return to quiet, and perhaps to better dispositions. At the same time I cannot but wish, that the provisions of the 39th of the late king were extended to this country; under them we could transport for seven years, all who should be proved to be members of the association, without the necessity of establishing the fact of administering or taking the oath; with such an instrument to work with, I should entertain a confident expectation of entirely subduing this offensive and disgusting conspiracy.

Your Excellency will observe with regret, that the association has been founded on a principle of religious exclusion. It is, however, a matter of great satisfaction to know, that no person of any rank or consequence, or indeed of any respectable station in society, has joined in or countenanced it. The juries were sworn without any reference to religious persuasion; a rule which I have uniformly observed, and in the consequences of which I have never been disappointed.

I have, &c.

—N° 2.—

Phoenix Park, January 29th, 1823.

SIR,

A CONSIDERABLE time has elapsed since I have addressed to you a detailed report of outrages committed in the provinces of Ireland, according to the plan, which I pursued during the last winter and spring, of submitting periodical statements on that subject, for His Majesty's information.

During the summer and the early part of the autumn of 1822, the measures sanctioned by Parliament, for the restoration of tranquillity, combined with other causes, causes, had produced such a degree of quiet, that no necessity existed for my usual communications; and I entertained a hope, that I might have been able at this time to furnish a very favourable report of the actual state of the country; and that this winter would have passed without any material disturbance of the public tranquillity.

Although events have happened in some of the provinces, which have disappointed my expectations, I am happy to inform you, that the general condition of Ireland, with respect to internal tranquillity, is considerably ameliorated.

In the county of Limerick, the principal seat of the late disturbances, my expectations have not been disappointed. The reports from the magistrates of that county, present no aggravated cases of crime, but manifest indications of the decline of that system of illegal and secret combination, which originally led to open violence. Information is now more readily afforded; criminals are more easily detected; and the witnesses against them no longer entertain that extreme apprehension of danger, which, during the early part of the year 1822, so universally, and so justly prevailed.

Limerick, therefore, has been restored to a state of tranquillity, and is now more exempt from crimes, than other counties, which have been deemed tranquil. The condition of Limerick, however, cannot justify the removal of any considerable portion of the force of the army or police; nor the suspension of the operation of the Insurrection Act.

In the general conflict of political opinion, which is the prevalent character of Ireland, many persons declare the spirit of the people of Limerick to be unimproved; and attribute the existing tranquillity, exclusively to the terror produced by the means employed for enforcing obedience to the law.

But whatever may be the original cause of tranquillity, I do not apprehend that the county of Limerick will soon be disturbed again to any great degree. Under the protection of the law, lately enacted, an improved force of police has been established in the county; and the magistrates have incessantly laboured to improve the local administration of justice, and to give additional power to the laws, by a more vigorous and impartial administration of their provisions.

If the protection now afforded, be continued for a sufficient period of time to render the success of the plans of the original agitators, hopeless and impracticable, the ordinary laws, under a just and pure administration, may be found amply sufficient for the preservation of the public peace in that county.

It is impossible not to contemplate the improved condition of the county of Limerick, with a degree of satisfaction, not confined to the limits of that district, but opening to a prospect of similar and more extensive benefits, through the introduction of similar improvements in other parts of Ireland. Nor can I withhold the testimony of my most cordial approbation of the merits of the nobility, gentry, clergy and magistrates of Limerick, in enabling the Government to lay the foundations of this great and auspicious work, by which the main source of disorder and lawless violence has been rendered an example of tranquillity and of due administration of justice. In the advance which has been made towards this salutary reform, the services of Mr. Serjeant Torrens have been most essentially useful; nor is it possible for me to express in terms of too warm commendation, my grateful sense of his judicious, humane, and active exertions.

The county of Clare has generally been exempt, until lately, from outrage of a serious or insurrectionary character.

At the end of November, however, a disposition to disturbance began to appear in Clare, by notices on the subject of tithes, by punishing persons engaged in the collection of them; and by a violent attack on (Mr. M^c Culloch) a clergyman, whose life was seriously endangered by the injuries which he suffered.

To such an extent had crime prevailed in the barony of Tulla, that the magistrates had anticipated the necessity of requiring the application of the provisions of the Insurrection Act.

Serious outrage, however, has been principally confined to the proclaimed districts of the county of Cork, and of Tipperary.

At the close of the harvest a general disposition was manifested in those districts, to invade the property of the clergy, and of others deriving an income from tithe.

The system of notices (not applied as formerly, to rents and tithes) was confined to tithes; and these notices were followed by acts of outrage, differing from those in the last year, both in character and object.

Tithe property, whether in the hands of laymen or ecclesiastics, was the object of attack ; and the means usually employed, destruction by fire. During the latter part of September, few nights passed without the destruction, by fire, of some building, haggard or stacks of tithe corn, in the proclaimed baronies in the county of Cork. The same system has continued in those baronies, with some abatement, to the present time.

It is a curious circumstance, however, in the character of these transactions, that, in several instances, the grain had been artfully separated from the straw, and had been sold, by the proprietor of the stacks, for its full value ; and that the same proprietor had destroyed the stacks of straw by fire, with a view of recovering from the barony the full value of the corn already sold. These cases were not unfrequent.

The incendiary was of course undiscoverable. The fact of such numerous and secret conflagrations was alleged to be an indisputable proof of general combination, until the vigilance of the military and police actually detected a considerable number of the stacks of straw, cleared of the grain, and prepared for the fire ; and thus discovered the whole mystery of this double fraud.

By the activity of the troops and of the police, the number of conflagrations has been gradually reduced ; several instances, however, of that outrage occurred during the last week, in one barony.

While these lawless outrages have been directed against tithe property, the former system of robbing houses for arms, has not been altogether abandoned. Attempts to destroy persons obnoxious to the insurgents, on account of information given, or of a refusal to obey their commands, have been renewed ; but these robberies have not been frequent, and have appeared rather subsidiary to the attainment of other objects, connected with the destruction of the property of the church.

In the course of November, the system extended itself to the barony adjoining those originally proclaimed, to such an extent, as to require the application of the provisions of the Peace Preservation Bill.

Instances also have occurred of similar outrages against tithe property, in parts of the county of Cork, more remote from the baronies in which the spirit of violence originally appeared. There is reason to believe, that in some of these cases, the outrages have been perpetrated by persons detached for the special purposes, from the disturbed baronies ; and even in the parts of the country where the outrages have most prevailed, they have seldom been conducted by persons of the immediate neighbourhood, with the exception of the cases of fraud already described.

In Tipperary a similar system commenced, though in a mitigated degree. During the latter part of September and the month of October, some destructions of property by fire occurred ; notices were posted, and some attacks were made for the purpose of procuring arms. The progress of disturbance appeared so rapid to some persons, as to induce the magistrates, assembled at a special session, to request an extension of the Insurrection Act to a barony to which it had not been previously applied.

The request having been received on the eve of the proclamation for carrying into effect, in that county, the new system of police, it was thought advisable to withhold the application of the Insurrection Act, until the effect of the new system of police had been ascertained by experiment.

Many crimes have since been committed in the county of Tipperary, but not generally of the former insurrectionary character.

The districts of the King's and Queen's counties, bordering on Tipperary, have been affected by similar disorder ; property has been destroyed by fire ; and in some places, great apprehensions have existed of the disturbance of tranquillity. The establishment of an effective police, under the Act of the last Session, in both these counties, will probably reduce the spirit of outrage within narrower limits ; and, it may be hoped, will ultimately extinguish it.

In the county of Roscommon, notices of an inflammatory and threatening character, during the winter, have been generally circulated.

Outrages have at intervals been committed, of an aggravated nature, some partaking of the character of those now prevailing in certain districts of the county of Cork, and others more connected with the general disturbances of the last year ; but, in consequence of the exertions of the police, the outrages in Roscommon have not attained any alarming height.

Some disturbance has also occurred in the counties of Kildare and Wexmouth ; it has been met in both instances, by an extension of the Peace Preservation Act to additional baronies.

The province of Ulster maintains its tranquillity. From many quarters information has has been received, of an increased activity in the swearing of Ribbon-men; and, in some instances, meetings have been held, which have terminated in serious affrays; but, with the exception of these riotous proceedings, the peace of the province has been generally preserved by the exertions of the gentry and magistrates. This general view of the state of Ireland certainly exhibits a scene of improved tranquillity, compared with the corresponding period of the last year.

Numerous crimes are recorded in the reports of the several magistrates; but they have not been so frequent, and generally not of so sanguinary a character, and not so strongly marked by a systematic resistance of authority. The fear of the law appears, in many instances, to have superseded the dread of lawless vengeance. Difficulties of procuring evidence of crimes, committed even in the presence of many witnesses, still exist; but those difficulties are neither so great nor so general as in the former periods of time. The execution of some individuals, for the murder of a crown witness, at Limerick, has given confidence to the well-affected; and has created a general impression, that the law is able to avenge and to protect those who assist in its due administration. On the other hand, in most of the lately disturbed districts, a general distrust of each other, has been diffused amongst the authors and agents of violence and disorder; and a general terror exists of the peril of extensive combinations of insurrection. This alarm has certainly arisen from the more vigorous and, at the same time, impartial administration of the law.

Undoubtedly, throughout the whole country, a general disposition prevails to invade the property of the clergy, to resist the payment of tithes; and to resort to every means of defeating all demands of the church. This may be partly attributed to the difficulties of the times, partly to the spirit of resisting lawful authority, which has been so sedulously encouraged. While this spirit shall continue to break forth in outrages of the nature now prevailing in some districts of Cork, and in other places; while these outrages shall be committed by combinations of persons not immediately connected with the actual scene of mischief, but traversing the country at night, in gangs of incendiaries; prudence must forbid the relaxation of those extraordinary powers which Parliament considered to be necessary for the preservation of the peace of Ireland; and which duly exercised, have already contributed to produce whatever improvement has been effected in the general state of the country.

Among the causes of public amelioration which have commenced to operate in Ireland, the Act of the last session of Parliament for the improvement of the Police, demands particular notice.

The introduction of the improved system of police, has been accomplished gradually, and with general good will and temper in several counties.

The magistrates have cheerfully co-operated in giving effect to this great and salutary alteration in the internal government of Ireland.

It would neither be prudent nor just to precipitate the extension of so considerable a change of system; the beneficial progress of which might be frustrated, but could not be accelerated by a premature effort to force its universal application.

In some districts, the practical benefits of the system itself, have already commenced their operation. It would however be as vain and presumptuous to expect instantaneously, the full advantages of such a change, as it would have been rash to hasten its introduction. The course of time, the steady perseverance of the Government, and the progressive confidence of the gentry and magistracy, may be expected to mature and perfect the good fruits of this wise and useful law, wherever it has been applied; until a general sense and view of its happy consequences shall sanction its general extension.

In the mean while, it is highly satisfactory to observe, that the early appearances of this plan bear an aspect so favourable and hopeful.

Similar observations occur with respect to the revision of the commission of the peace. No reasonable mind could expect that so invidious a task could be attempted without occasioning partial discontent; or that a work so difficult and complicated, could at once be accomplished and displayed in complete perfection. The experience of all practical government, the rules of all political wisdom would naturally suggest, that such a revision could not be perfect in its first effort; and must require frequent and careful reconsideration, before its advantages could be entirely realized.

Accordingly, complaints have arisen with respect to the most delicate and arduous considerations in the progress of this necessary reform; attention has been paid to these complaints, wherever it has been deemed consistent with the principles of the intended improvement; and I have no reason to doubt, that the commission of the peace will be the object of constant vigilance and care, until the beneficial views of His Majesty's government shall be accomplished to the utmost practical extent, in the general improvement of the magistracy of Ireland,

In some counties the reform is already nearly complete, and generally satisfactory; while throughout Ireland, the mere knowledge of the existence of a plan of revision has produced salutary consequences, by increasing the diligence, accuracy, and careful conduct of the magistrates, and by a more effectual and more pure administration of the law.

The useful practice of assembling frequently and regularly in petty sessions, has been introduced into some counties; and the dangerous habit of administering justice, by separate magistrates, at their respective residences, is gradually subsiding.

I have given every encouragement to the extension of the system of holding petty sessions; and at one moment, I contemplated the propriety of suggesting a law on the subject. But having reason to believe, that the magistracy is generally disposed to adopt the practice by voluntary regulation; I prefer the experiment of their own uncontrolled good will, until I can ascertain by tract of time, whether the addition of legal rule may be necessary to stimulate their exertions.

From the statement of facts contained in this dispatch, and from the observations which I have submitted to you, it will appear, that the general condition of Ireland, with regard to the internal tranquillity of the provinces, is considerably improved since the last winter. That the appearance of systematic disturbance is confined to a few districts on the north-western boundary of the county of Cork; and that, even in those districts, no insurrectionary combination has been manifested; but that a most outrageous attack has been made upon the system of tithes, and upon the rights and property of the church, with reference to that system.

That a considerable improvement has been effected in the administration of the law, within the districts which had been disturbed; and that it is reasonable to expect increased vigour and purity in that administration. That the new police has been introduced into the lately disturbed districts, and into others, with general approbation, with the cordial and effective co-operation of the magistrates; and in many instances, with great success in the detection of crime, the speedy apprehension of offenders, and the maintenance of public peace.

That the revision of magistracy is proceeding regularly; and that the general conduct of the magistrates, in establishing frequent petty sessions, and other useful regulations, affords just reason to expect a progressive improvement in the magistracy of Ireland.

I have not referred in this dispatch, to the dangerous system of associations under the obligation of secret and mysterious oaths. Having sometime since submitted to you a separate dispatch, relative to the trial and conviction of several persons denominated Ribbon-men; I added to that dispatch some observations, suggesting the necessity of strengthening the law of Ireland against the peril of those societies.

The question of the increase or diminution of the spirit of this association, is stated differently, according to the particular views, imaginary interests, and flagrant zeal of conflicting parties.

In this contention, (ludicrous in principle and theory, but mischievous to the state in practice) it is at least an advantage to the King's Government to have completely detected and publicly exposed the whole craft and mystery of the Ribbon conspiracy. And I cannot believe that such an exposure, accompanied by such convictions, sentences and punishments, should neither assuage the zeal, nor abate the bravery of these covenanters; nor relax the holy bond of their illegal oaths, and treasonable contract.

But I request your attention to the suggestions which I have submitted, for the more effectual restraint of this system of mysterious engagements, formed under the solemnity of secret oaths, binding His Majesty's liege subjects to act under authorities, not known to the law, nor derived from the state, for purposes undefined; not disclosed in the first process of initiation; nor, until the infatuated novice has been sworn to the vow of unlimited and lawless obedience.

The vigour and activity of the law should be exerted to extirpate this mischief, which has been a main cause of the disturbances and miseries of Ireland. The mystery

mystery is now distinctly exposed ; I therefore anxiously hope and trust, that His Majesty's Government will add to the various benefits which they have already imparted to this country, the inestimable favour of abolishing by law, in Ireland, an evil, which has been abolished by law in England.

I have, &c.

WELLESLEY.

P. S.—In examining this dispatch, I perceive, that although the necessity of continuing the Insurrection Act, is repeatedly to be inferred, from the tenor of the facts and observations stated, I have not directly recommended that measure : I request His Majesty's Government to understand, that I consider the renewal of the Insurrection Act for another year, to be indispensably requisite, not only for the preservation of tranquillity in Ireland, but for the success of all those plans of improvement, which may be expected, ultimately, to render the Insurrection Act unnecessary.

COPY OF THE ADDRESS.

Of the GRAND JURY of the County of Cork, assembled at Spring Assizes 1823.

To His Excellency Richard Marquis Wellesley,
Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please Your Excellency,

WE the Grand Jury of the County of Cork, assembled at Spring Assizes 1823, feel it to be a duty incumbent upon us, to lay before Your Excellency the frightfully disturbed state of a part of our County; together with the expression of our conviction, that the spirit of Insurrection is rapidly extending.

Though a great majority of the offences which have come to our knowledge at the present Assizes, have occurred in one Barony, yet we are sorry to affirm that in others, Crime has much increased, and is daily increasing.

There have come before us nearly one hundred petitions for compensation for damage sustained by fire, destruction of cattle by stabbing and houghing, breaking machinery, &c.; and after the most patient and attentive investigation we were capable of giving these claims, not more than four or five appeared to us, cases unfit for remuneration from the County.

To enter into detail of the sufferings of the unfortunate Individuals who have come before us, would trespass too much upon the time of Your Excellency; it is sufficient to say, that many have been turned out of their dwellings to behold them in a few moments in ashes, and themselves have been left without clothing sufficient to cover them.

The system of intimidation has been carried to such a length, that many have been compelled to desert their lands; all who have given evidence against the Insurgents, have done so at the risque of their lives; and even some of those who have come forward to give testimony respecting property destroyed, have had their houses burned immediately on their return to their homes.

We do not feel ourselves competent to propose a remedy: But in such a state of society as we have described, where all ordinary Authorities are disregarded, and the law of the land is set totally at defiance, we feel ourselves justified in expressing to your Excellency, our opinion, that to meet the present emergency, scarcely any measure which may be calculated upon as effectual, can be too decisive.

COPY ADDRESS

From the Grand Jury of the City and County of Cork, to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant; dated Grand Jury Room, 5 April 1823.

To the Most Noble Richard Marquess Wellesley,
Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please Your Excellency.

WE the Grand Jury of the County of the City of Cork, assembled at Spring Assizes 1823, feel ourselves imperatively called upon to address Your Excellency on the present state of the Liberties of this City, a district comprehending an extent of four miles round it in every direction, and containing consequently a very considerable population. We lament to state to Your Excellency, that the same system of disturbance which is at present desolating a large portion of the County of Cork, now exists to an alarming extent in the neighbourhood of this City. Several Petitions for compensation from persons whose properties have been destroyed by nightly incendiaries, have come before us in our official capacity, and it has clearly appeared to us, that they are founded on fact; outrages of this nature have been committed by large bodies of these depredators, within very short distances of this City; and notwithstanding every exertion which has been made for their discovery and apprehension, they have hitherto escaped with impunity; from the impossibility of obtaining information, from the secrecy and combination among those concerned, and the influence of terror on those who might otherwise be willing to give information. We are further enabled to state, that notices have been served on the occupiers of land, requiring them to quit, under a penalty of forfeiture of life, and destruction of property, thus assuming a control over landlord and tenant, which has in many instances, been but too successful; and the effect of which has been most injurious.

We have reason also to think that unlawful oaths are frequently administered throughout the Liberties of Cork. Convinced as we are of the existence of a system of turbulence and destruction which in our opinion is increasing daily, and if not checked and extinguished will still more widely diffuse itself: We feel it our duty as a body necessarily possessing local information, to submit it most respectfully to Your Excellency.

COPY OF THE ADDRESS

Of the MAGISTRATES of the County of Cork ; dated 7th April 1823.

To His Excellency Richard Marquess Wellesley,
Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

May it please Your Excellency,

WE the Magistrates of the County Cork assembled at Cork to carry into effect the provisions of the new Constabulary Act, feel it our duty to lay before Your Excellency, for the information of His Majesty's Government, the disturbed state of part of this County, together with the expression of our conviction that the spirit of Insurrection is rapidly extending into parts of the County hitherto undisturbed.

We understand that our County Grand Jury, after the minutest investigation, have presented a sum of about ten thousand pounds for damage sustained by Fire, destruction of Cattle, breaking Machinery, &c.; and though the greater part of those outrages have been hitherto confined to a comparatively small portion of the County, yet we regret to say there have been instances of Crime connected with the system in various other Districts.

It cannot be necessary to impress on Your Excellency the extent of suffering which has been inflicted by the persevering atrocity with which the Insurgents have perpetrated their work of destruction; many are now dependent altogether on the Presentments which have been passed for their Compensation, for all they can be deemed to possess; nor can we feel that property of any description is exempt from the influence of that spirit which unhappily prevails, and is directed against all property whatever.

By Notices posted and personally served, many have been obliged to abandon their farms; Witnesses who have prosecuted have done so, at personal risk; persons giving evidence at the present Assizes as to the value of property destroyed, have had their houses burned immediately on their return home; money has been extorted from several by personal threats to support and carry on their plans; arms still continue to be plundered, and pikes forged, to arm the disaffected.

We regret to state that our exertions, aided by the vigorous co-operation of the military police and armed associations, have hitherto been insufficient to counteract the designs of men who have set all the constituted authorities, and the laws of the land, at defiance. We therefore feel ourselves imperiously called upon to state to Your Excellency, that whatever further measures may be adopted, they cannot be too promptly or vigorously carried into effect.

Cork, April 7th, 1823.

Of the Grand Jury of the County of Limerick; praying the Re-enactment of the Insurrection Act:—December 1821.

To His Excellency Richard Colley Marquess Wellesley,
Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

WE, the Grand Jury of the County of Limerick, assembled at the Special Commission now sitting for said County, beg to congratulate Your Excellency on your arrival in this country, and to express the sincere satisfaction we feel at the appointment of so distinguished a Nobleman to the Government of Ireland.

We beg to assure Your Excellency, that we feel most grateful to His Majesty's Government for the assistance which they have already afforded to the well-affected inhabitants of this County, but that, notwithstanding the benefits which we have already received from the number of military stationed in the County and the advantages which we hope will arise from the Special Commission now sitting, still we feel it our duty to express to Your Excellency our firm conviction that nothing short of the re-enactment of the Insurrection Act will effectually restore tranquillity.

We lament to state, that many outrages have lately taken place in the immediate neighbourhood of this City since the commencement of the Special Commission, and as we experienced, on a former occasion, the efficacy of the Insurrection Act to restore the public peace, we humbly hope Your Excellency will be now pleased to recommend its re-enactment.

Mullingar, 28th June 1822.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose the Report of a Trial, which took place before me on Thursday, the 27th instant, at an adjourned Special Sessions under the Insurrection Act. I also enclose a Copy of the Letter on which the trial and conviction took place. I beg you will lose no time in submitting these documents to the consideration of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

I beg also to acquaint you, that I have been requested, by a numerous and most respectable Bench of Magistrates, to represent to His Excellency, their unanimous wish that the Proclamation by which the Barony of Moycashel was put under the Insurrection Act, may be revoked; the Magistrates thinking themselves not only warranted but bound to express this wish, in consequence of the present orderly and tranquil state of that Barony.

Michael Geoghegan charged on oath with having written and sent a threatening Letter to Rev. C. Vignolles.

(Vide 10th sec. of the Insurrection Act.)

On looking into the information I thought this a fit case for a Jury, and accordingly ordered the Sheriffs to return and empanel a Jury; which having been done, the following persons were returned, and the prisoner having been asked if he had any objection to such jury, or any of them, and having answered in the negative, the following persons were sworn:

Thomas Greene,
John North,
J^r Robinson,
Tho^s Tilson,
Wm. Barber,
John Smith,

George Rawlinson,
Launcelot Page,
James Salmon,
Nat. Cockburne,
Wm. Tho^s Kidd,
James Delany, jun.

The Prisoner having been given in charge to said Jury,

The Rev. Charles Vignolles, who had appeared on the bench, came upon the table and was sworn, and gave evidence as follows:

Witness is a magistrate of County of Westmeath; lives at Cornahir, in the Barony of Moycashel; looks at the paper produced to him, marked No. 1.; has seen it before and had marked it; received that paper in the form of a directed letter, in his post bag, on Tuesday the 28th of May; received it in his own house in the Barony of Moycashel; witness's post town is Tyrrell's Pass; knows a man of the name of Sleath; he is a police man; knows the prisoner at the bar, he is witness's tenant; prisoner lives at Newtown; has seen the prisoner at the bar write; believes the writing now produced to him, No. 1, to be prisoner's hand-writing; the prisoner acknowledged a paper No. 2, produced to witness, to be his, the prisoner's, hand-writing. At this stage of the evidence, evidence, I asked the witness, whether his belief of prisoner's hand-writing depended on comparing the letter N° 1, with the paper-writing N° 2; which latter was the acknowledged hand-writing of the prisoner; for that if it did, I would not receive the evidence: Witness answered in the negative; and stated, that his belief was founded on his knowledge of prisoner's hand-writing, having seen him write; and that after the most mature consideration, he was satisfied, that the paper N° 1 was the prisoner's hand-writing.—I then asked the witness, if he believed the paper-writing N° 1 to be the hand-writing of prisoner, independent of any extrinsic consideration; and witness answered in the affirmative.—Witness, on being asked, stated, that old Sleath and the prisoner were acquainted, and never heard of their having had any difference.—The prisoner is a farmer, having about seven acres; never heard that prisoner was a schoolmaster; does not know whether the prisoner had been applied to for assistance, that is, to give assistance in writing.—Witness has received other anonymous letters, which were not in the same character of hand-writing with paper N° 1; prisoner also is a lime-burner.—Witness is quite satisfied as to the hand-writing, if he had never seen the paper N° 2, he, witness, would have had no doubt.—To a question from one of the jury, he said, he would have prosecuted although he had not seen the paper N° 2. To a juror who asked witness, whether he, witness, had ever seen prisoner write, except the signature to the bail-bond; the witness answered in these words, "I am convinced I must often." I would not suffer that answer to go to the jury; and then I asked witness, whether he would swear positively, that he had seen prisoner write more than once, viz. when the prisoner signed the bail-bond; to this question witness answered, that he would not swear positively; the bail-bond was signed by prisoner on 6th June instant. At this period of the trial, one of the magistrates (Sir Richard Levinge) mentioned to me, that he thought there was not a perfect similitude of hand-writing in papers N° 1 and 2; and asked the witness, whether he thought the same hand wrote both papers; witness answered in the affirmative.—Witness was then asked whether he had mentioned to Sleath or to any other person, the fact of his having received the letter, No. 1; witness said he had mentioned the fact to Sleath, as he best recollected, on Wednesday, the 29th May.—Witness is not certain, whether on that day he mentioned to Sleath, whom he suspected as the writer of the letter, but is quite sure he did so afterwards. Here the evidence of Mr. Vignolles closed, and I asked the prisoner if he would put any questions to the witness, or wished me to do so; prisoner declined asking any question.

Second witness—Thomas Sleath, sworn.

Witness is a police man; on last May-day two years, witness's house was broken open at the dead hour of night between twelve and one, was dragged from his bed by a party, about a dozen in number, of armed men, who beat, ill-treated, and cut witness. They fired two shots at witness; they cut a piece of witness's ear off; at that time witness was steward to Captain Conner. This outrage happened in County Westmeath, about ten or eleven miles from Barony of Moycashel, on Wednesday the 29th May. Mr. Vignolles mentioned to witness his having got a threatening letter, showed witness the letter. Mr. Vignolles did not then mention the name of any one whom he suspected of having written the letter; on the Wednesday following, being 5th of June, Mr. Vignolles did mention the name of the person he suspected; I did not allow this witness to mention the name; witness never saw prisoner write. To a question from a magistrate, witness is an Englishman; witness on 29th May, showed the letter to three police men; there were many other persons present, who might have heard and probably did hear the letter talked of. This witness being interrogated by the prisoner, stated, that he, witness, never knew prisoner to behave but well; never found prisoner out at night: never had the slightest difference with prisoner. To a question by Sir Thomas Pakenham, witness says, that prisoner never gave witness warning, that he, witness, was in an unsafe place. Here the case for the prosecution closed. I then asked prisoner if he wished to put any question to Mr. Vignolles, the first witness, and prisoner having said, that he wished to ask Mr. Vignolles as to his, prisoner's general character; Mr. Vignolles said, he would answer the question if pressed, but suggested to the prisoner the propriety of not pressing the question; to this suggestion the prisoner yielded, and the question was not answered.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

Samuel Vignolles, Esquire.

Knows the prisoner; saw him on Whitsun Monday, 27th May, at the Phoenix Park, near Dublin, at about two o'clock in the afternoon; knows the general character and conduct of the prisoner. His general character is that of an honest industrious man, and never heard any thing to his disadvantage.

Second Witness for Defence, James Geoghegan.

Knows the prisoner 30 years, he is cousin-german to witness; has often seen him write, and is well acquainted with his hand-writing; believeth paper, N^o 1, not to be the prisoner's hand-writing. On being shown a paper writing, marked N^o 3, confessedly the prisoner's hand-writing and written 13 years since, he at first said, he could form no belief whether it was prisoner's hand-writing or not, ultimately he said, he believed it was.

Here the case on both sides closed, the prisoner stating that he had no other witnesses; I then particularly inquired of the prisoner if he knew the precise charge against him, and how long he had known it; he distinctly stated, that he had three weeks before been made acquainted with the charge, and was particularly directed, by both Mr. Vignolles and Major O'Donoghue, to come prepared with witnesses as to his hand-writing.

I then charged the jury; I read over to them my notes of the evidence, and made such observations as occurred to me upon that evidence, in which I hope I did not omit any thing which I thought might fairly be urged in the prisoner's favour; I had nearly finished my charge when the prisoner stated that he had a witness; I stated, that I would hear any witnesses he might produce, and—

Third Witness, James Hughes, was produced and sworn.

Witness slept with prisoner on Whit Monday, 27th May, in Dublin; witness and prisoner left Dublin together on Tuesday morning; witness and prisoner were constantly in company; prisoner did not reach home until Wednesday the 29th May.

I then resumed my charge, and gave to the prisoner every benefit to which the testimony of the last witness entitled him. I distinctly told the jury they could not find the prisoner guilty by comparison of hand-writing. I told them that if they relied on the integrity and intelligence of James Geoghegan, the second witness for prisoner, they should acquit; and lastly, I told them, that if they entertained any doubt (for that on such a case as that submitted to them, any doubt was a reasonable doubt) it was their bounden duty to acquit.

The jury retired, and after having deliberated some time, it occurred to me that I might not have been distinct enough as to one part of my charge, and I had them all called out, and most distinctly stated to them that they could not find the prisoner guilty by comparison of hand-writing.

The jury retired again, and after having deliberated about an hour, they again came in to the jury-box and found the prisoner

GUILTY.

After having given in their verdict, the jury strongly recommended the prisoner to mercy. I asked them if such recommendation proceeded from any doubt of the prisoner's guilt, to which they answered, that they did not entertain the slightest doubts, but that they were influenced by the character which Mr. Samuel Vignolles gave of the prisoner, and hoped that I would forward to His Excellency their recommendation.

Before I pronounced sentence, I retired with the magistrates, and on conferring with them, I found that they unanimously approved of the verdict. They stated to me that there could not be a more reputable jury. They thought that the recommendation ought to be forwarded to His Excellency; but they most distinctly stated that they did not, and would not, concur in recommending the prisoner. I then returned into court and passed sentence.

I have thought it my duty to give to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, a full and accurate account of every thing that occurred at the trial ; it occurred to me to be a case peculiarly fit for the consideration of a jury. The crime consisted in the mere matter of fact ; for if the fact of writing were clearly proved, the contents of the instrument could receive neither excuse nor extenuation. The jury were most respectable ; they gave the case every consideration. I put forward every fair topic on behalf of the prisoner. The verdict of the jury was unanimously approved of by the magistrates, and I do not know any circumstances which I should feel warranted to submit to His Excellency's consideration, save one, it struck me at the trial, and strikes me now, that the suggestion of Mr. Vignolles to the prisoner not to press the question as to general character, followed by the prisoner's acquiescence in that suggestion, had all the effect of a most unfavourable answer, and which could not fail to have weight with the jury. I humbly submit, therefore, to His Excellency the expediency of learning from Mr. Vignolles the precise grounds on which he made that suggestion, as the trial lasted until a late hour, and the magistrates had considerable distances to go ; I could not learn the particulars from Mr. Vignolles, but I ascertained sufficient to authorize me to submit what I most respectfully do to His Excellency the expediency of applying to Mr. Vignolles on the subject. I cannot conclude my report of this trial without stating that it is the only one in which a conviction has taken place. I have further to observe, that since the Proclamation for putting the Barony of Moycashel under the Insurrection Act, (a period of near eight weeks) not a single outrage has been committed in that Barony ; while in other Baronies to which the Proclamation was not extended, many outrages have taken place ; thereby demonstrating that the Insurrection Act has accomplished a legitimate and beneficial object,—the prevention and not the punishment of crime.

IF you do not Banish old Heath the Peeler out of this Barony, you may provide his Coffin, as he is enough to set a neighbourhood in rebellion with lies and Story's ; he was cropt before he Came to you, for his lies to a Gentleman : be it as it will, We can't put up with it any longer ; only on account of his Comrades, we would take little Pains in troubling you to move him, as other dangers must occur. COPY OF A LETTER dated Dublin Castle, 2d July 1822.

My dear Sir,

Dublin Castle, 2d July 1822.

IN consequence of your representation and the opinion of the Magistrates of Westmeath, that it is no longer necessary to continue the Insurrection Act in the Barony of Moycashel, a Proclamation has this day issued revoking it.

The Lord Lieutenant highly approves of your having empannelled a jury for the trial of Michael Geoghegan, and of the verdict they have returned. He considers the crime of which he has been found guilty so atrocious, as to demand that the law should take its course. But His Excellency does not think it would be right for him to comply with your suggestion, by putting any questions to the Rev. Mr. Vignolles. It gives me very sincere pleasure to fulfil the remaining part of my duty in expressing the Lord Lieutenant's high approbation of your conduct in the situation you have filled.

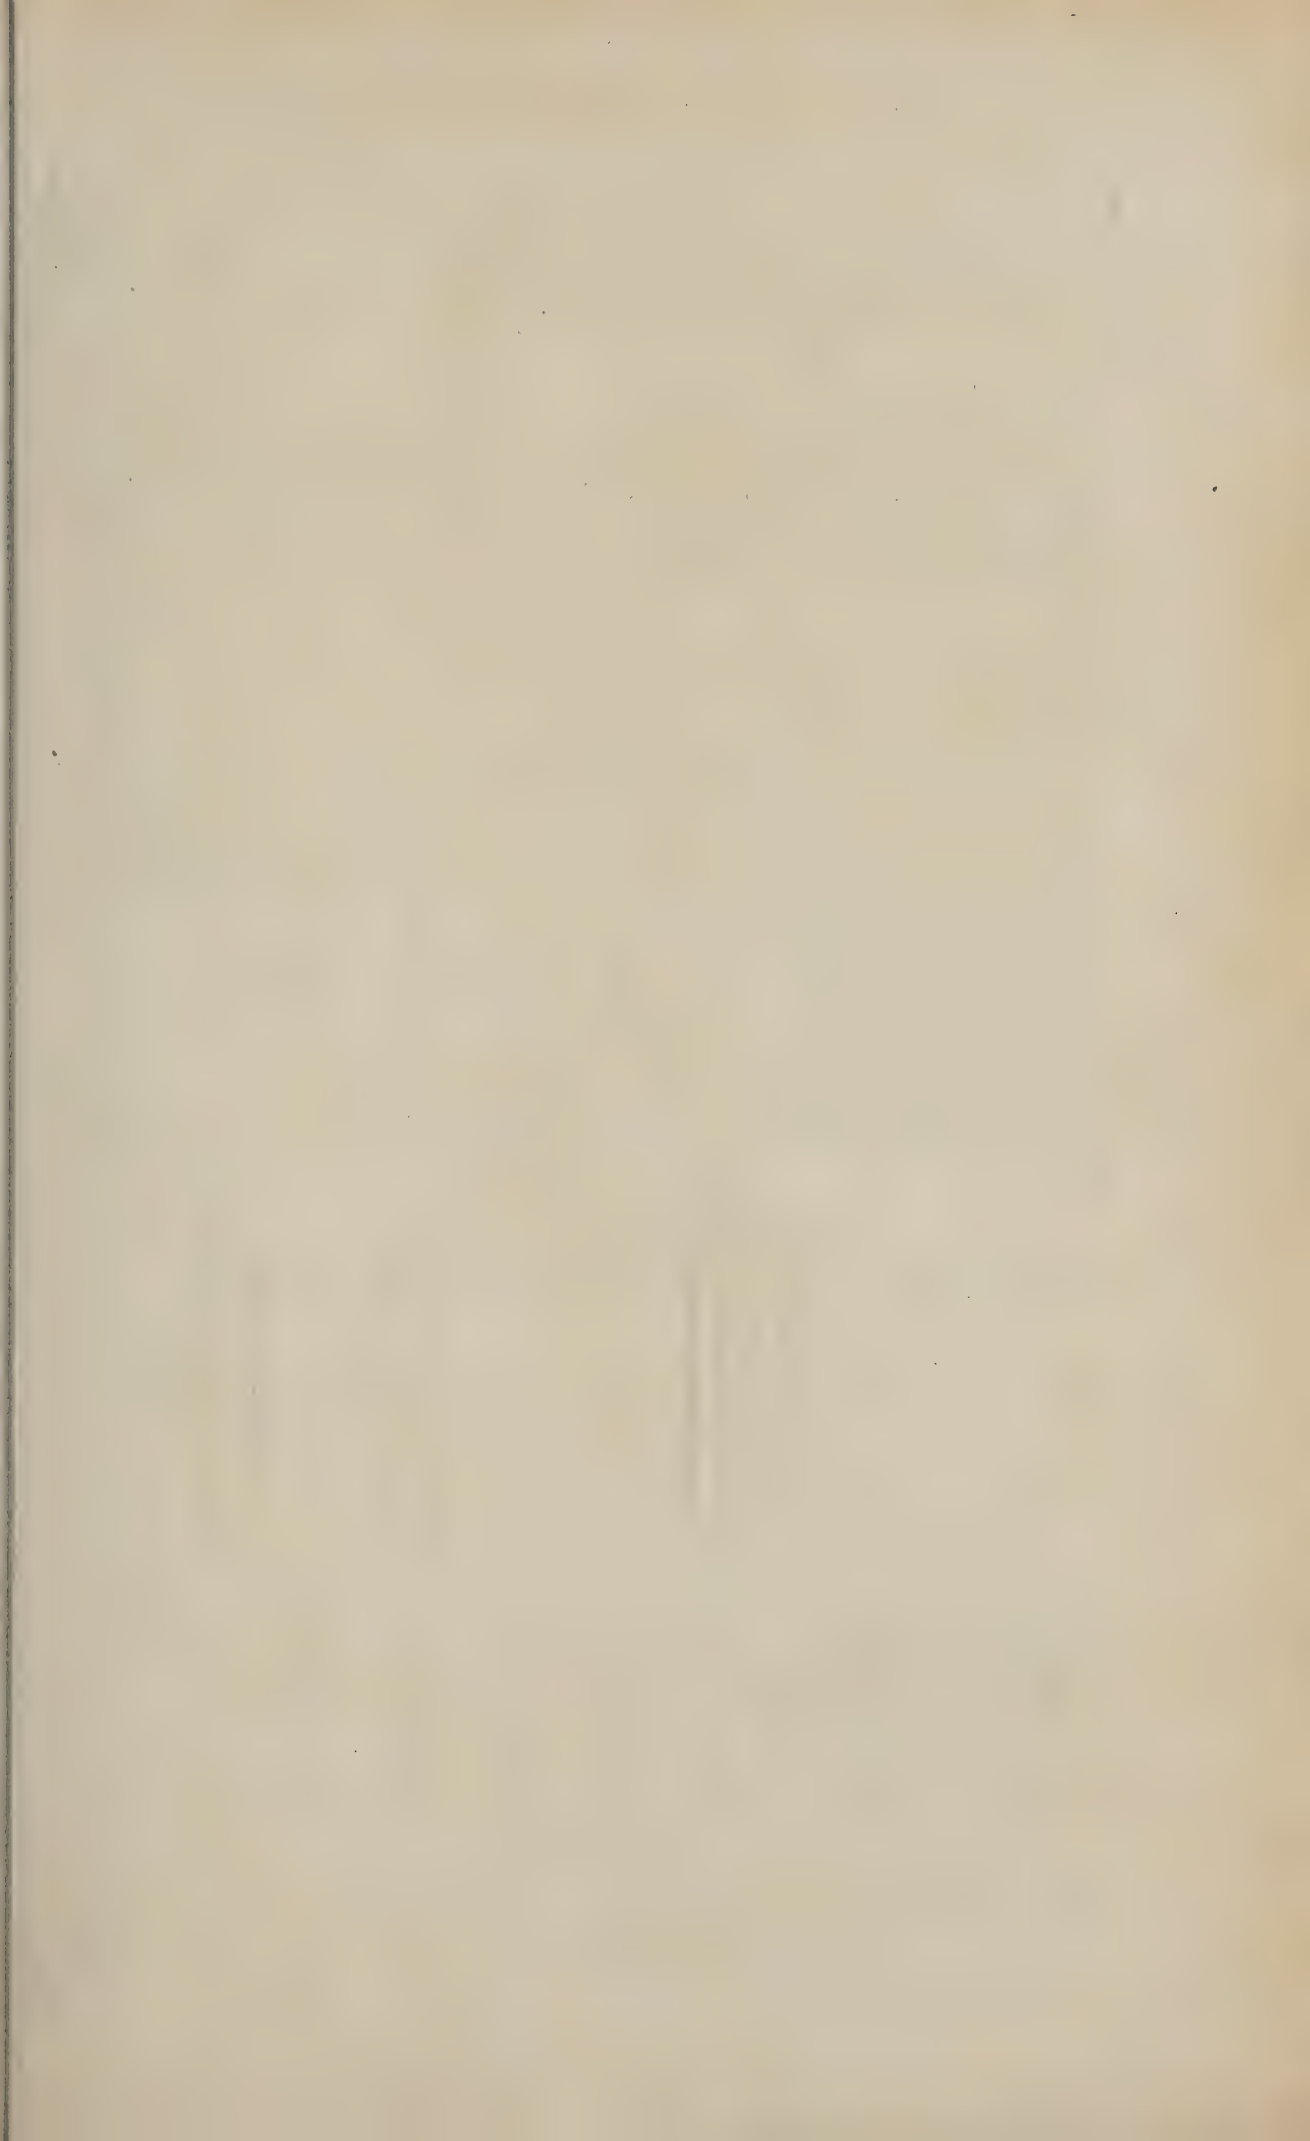

Believe me, &c.
